The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of Girl Scouts, Troop 109, from the City of Altoona, Blair County, under the supervision of their leaders, Mrs. Guy Appler, Mrs. Arnum Baker and Mrs. F. L. Cromer. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Blair, Messrs. Miller and Erb.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SNIDER from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, House Bill No. 792, entitled:

By Mr. McCORMACK. HOUSE BILL No. 792.

An Act amending the act of January 18, 1952 (P. L. 2128), entitled "An act defining and providing for the licensing and regulation of private driver education or training schools; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and imposing penalties," regulating the soliciting of prospective students.

Mr. SNIDER from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1553, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

Mr. HEWITT from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1554, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

Mr. LEISY from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1555, entitled:

An Act to amend an act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three," by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, re-reported as committed, House Bill No. 539, entitled:

INTERROGATION

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Chairman of the Highways Committee.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire of the Chairman of the Highways Committee whether he has in his possession House Bill 1467?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I will tell the gentleman that he does have the bill in his Committee.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I see by the History of the House that House Bill 1467 is in the Committee on Highways.

Mr. FILO. Has the chairman given this bill any consideration to the present time, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PETROSKY. Up until the present date, Mr. Speaker, with the great number of bills that are in that Committee, I have not reached this number as yet.

Mr. FILO. For the information of the House, House Bill 1467 deals with the medial barrier on the present Turnpike.

I want to call the attention of the Members to a newspaper item in this morning's Post Gazette, the headline of which reads, "Four Dead, Two Hurt in Pike Crash near Somerset."

I want to read the State Police report which states that Mrs. Grave's car carrying four passengers was eastbound when it crossed the medial strip and rammed into the westbound car of Mr. and Mrs. Leach. As a result Barbara Graves is dead, and Mrs. Shirley Ann Boone dead, Matthew Leach dead and Mrs. Mary Leach dead.

I want to remind the gentlemen that it could be their sisters and their mothers in either one of the cars, and I urge that the Highways Committee consider the bill with expediency so that we can prevent more such deaths on the Turnpike.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the Members who will be in the Capitol at 2:00 p. m., today, there will be an air raid alert at 2:05 and everyone is requested to go to the air raid shelters in the basement. They will be directed by air raid wardens.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, a few weeks ago a young boy eleven years of age attended our session here in the House and became very confused. He issued a statement that the House was like a theatre, everybody was running up and down.

On this coming Monday this boy will be my guest, and I would ask the House to be on its good behavior.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there have been a number of Members on the Republican side of the House who have come to my desk and complained to me about so many bills being passed over, especially on third reading.

They said they were told that today would be a working day, and I can see that they have just cause to complain. Perhaps I am just as guilty as the Minority Leader in passing over these bills. I have received an ultimatum that if the Members on the Republican side are going to be here on Wednesday or Thursday, we must have a calendar that is not a consent calendar and move controversial bills.

I feel I must say that because of the animosity existing on our side by reason of this calendar today when we passed over so many bills on third reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. STEPHENS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 20, 1955 at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:10 a. m., EST) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 20, 1955. No. 59.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 20, 1955.

The Senate met at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Right Reverend Monsignor JAMES F. MURPHY, V. F., Pastor of Church of the Sacred Heart, Sharon, offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

We pray Thee, O Almighty and Eeternal God, through Whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted and judgment decreed, to assist with Thy Holy Spirit of counsel and fortitude and wisdom His Excellency, the Governor of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and this Legislative body, so that the administration may be conducted with righteousness and with the welfare of the loyal citizens of this Commonwealth in mind.

Let the light of Thy divine wisdom direct all enactments and proceedings of this venerable body. May the prayers of the people of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ascend to the Throne of Almighty God so that the lives of all will be santified, made happier and more prosperous as a result of God's holy light directing the work of this group.

O God of Wisdom and Justice and Love, hear our prayers and fill the minds and hearts of this august and respected group with such a fire of love for their Commonwealth and fellowmen that all will be the happier and the better for having come within their influence. Let them put themselves aside so that the welfare of others will be their primary concern and their duties will be discharged with honesty and ability.

Grant this our prayer, O Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BUCKS COUNTY COMMUNITY LEADERS PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you, and through you to the State Senate, a group of community leaders from lower Bucks County. They are being conducted through our Capitol by the president of their new hospital, Edward L. Helwig. They are seated in the front of the Senate, on the right.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the other Members of the Senate, welcomes the group from lower Bucks County.

GROUP FROM SHIPPENSBURG STATE TEACHERS PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, we are honored today by the presence of Doctor Byers and Miss Milliken, from Shippensburg State Teachers College, and a number of students from the class on Public School Organization. They are seated over on the left of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to say that we are very glad to have you with us. We hope you will enjoy your visit.

HONORABLE H. JEROME JASPAN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I think I recognize the face of a very familiar thunderbolt, the good ex-Senator Jaspan. He is with us today, and I would like for him to get up and take a bow.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the other Members of the Senate, is very glad to have the former Senator, a Member of this Body, with us today.

The Chair would like to invite him to come up to the rostrum and have a seat.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DERK, due to illness.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 121, RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 121, entitled:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO STUDY AND EXAMINE THE VARIOUS PLANS DEVELOPED FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF WATER FROM THE DELAWARE RIVER

In the Senate, March 30, 1955.

The equitable distribution of the waters of the Delaware River among the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware that abut the river has been a subject of controversy for years.

The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River a few years ago made a study and presented a plan for the diversion and use of the waters of the Delaware, which plan was ratified and adopted by the states of New York, New Jersey and Delaware, but has not been ratified by Pennsylvania.

Pursuant to litigation before it, the Supreme Court of the United States has entered an order defining the rights in the Delaware River water.

In the light of this order and in an effort to proceed thereunder the state of New Jersey has adopted legislation intended to form a basis of a compact with Pennsylvania for the building of dams and reservoirs and the diversion, storage and use of water therefrom. The law adopted by New Jersey by its terms is contingent upon the acceptance of its provisions by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on or before the first day of July, 1955.

A bill is now pending in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the purpose of which is to accept the proposal of the state of New Jersey for the allocation of water rights between these two states.

Question has been raised whether or not the proposal made by New Jersey is advantageous to this Commonwealth and whether the members of Pennsylvania's General Assembly are sufficiently acquainted with the facts involved to pass judgment at this time, therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That a Study Commission be created consisting of seven members, 3 of whom shall be Senators appointed by the President pro tempore, 3 of whom shall be Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, and one of whom shall be a citizen of Pennsylvania, not a member of the General Assembly appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealth, and that it shall be the duty of the committee to study and examine the various plans developed for the distribution of water from the Delaware River and the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States thereon, as well as the effect of the legislation adopted by the State of New Jersey and the proposed acceptance thereof by Pennsylvania. The committee shall confer with the legislative committee and other proper persons in the states of New Jersey, New York and Delaware and shall resolve the problem equitably and impartially to all of the states affected, and be it further with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Resolved, That the commission make a report with its recommendation to the Governor and to each house of the General Assembly as soon as possible.

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 121

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 121.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 69, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "An act empowering cities of the second class cities of the second class A cities of the third class boroughs towns townships of the first class townships of the second class school districts of the second class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitations for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appintment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court" by further providing for the imposition of taxes under the provisions of said act

Senate Bill No. 222, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 641) entitled "An act prohibiting the erection and maintenance of obstructions to the operation of aircraft in certain areas and prescribing penalties" by further defining an airport approach area and providing penalties for violation thereof

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 20, 1955.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring). That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 27, 1955, at two-thirty o'clock, p. m., E. S. T., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 27, 1955, at a time to be fixed by the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STELFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, last Saturday there appeared an editorial in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, which made a very deep impression upon me and resulted in the resolution which I am about to present to the Senate.

Mr. President, this editorial deals with the failure of Congress, by a vote of 107-77, to provide funds for the deepening of the Delaware Channel and the extension thereof to Trenton, New Jersey. It is a deep blow to the future progress of Philadelphia and to the progress of Pennsylvania.

The same editorial, which is entitled "Sauce for the Goose," compares the first action of Congress and that of the Delaware Channel with the sum of $1,680,000,000 which will be passed for the Colorado River, and passed favorably, without any dissension. I feel it is high time that the Senate of Pennsylvania should voice its disapproval of the action of the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I ask that this editorial be spread upon the Legislative Journal and, at the same time, I am offering this resolution. Upon the advice of my friend, Senator Mahany, I am asking that it be referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

PROTESTING ADVERSE ACTION BY THE UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCERNING THE DEEPENING OF THE DELAWARE RIVER CHANNEL

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, June 20, 1955.

Whereas the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, by a vote of 107 to 77, has recently taken adverse action upon a measure or measures calling for Federal appropriations for the deepening of the Delaware River Channel and the extention thereof to Trenton, New Jersey, thus adhering to the adamant refusal of the Federal Administration to launch the aforesaid projects without the financial participation of the riparian industries on the Delaware River to the extent of some $18,000,000; and

Whereas such a refusal on the part of the legislative and executive branches of our National Government is contrary to the time-honored policy of the United States to provide ample funds by the Federal Government for adequate channels in the navigable rivers of the United States without setting thereto as a condition precedent the participation of local industries therein; and

Whereas the aforesaid failure of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States to provide adequate appropriations for the deepening of the Delaware River Channel and extension thereof to Trenton, New Jersey, will hamper and impede the further phenomenal industrial expansion of Delaware Valley, U. S. A., in which the People of Pennsylvania take great and justifiable joy and pride; and

Whereas in a masterful and effective editorial entitled "SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE" in its issue of Saturday, June 18, 1955, the Evening Bulletin, of Philadelphia, points out that the Administration and some Westerners among the 107 who voted adversely upon the initial appropriation of $18,500,000 for an early start of the aforesaid projects, are ready and willing to take favorable action upon the $1,680,000,000 Upper Colorado River development bill, already cleared by a subcommittee without any local contributions whatsoever, to which, by the way, the taxpayers of Pennsylvania will contribute $277,600,000 in taxes; now therefore be it

Resolved that the Senate of Pennsylvania, on behalf of the People of Pennsylvania, voice its utter disapprobation of the above referred adverse action on the part of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States as well as the refusal of the Federal authorities to recommend the deepening of the Delaware River Channel and the extention thereof to Trenton, New Jersey, without "local contributions" and express its fervent hope that the aforesaid adverse Legislative action will be forthwith reconsidered and reversed in a way and manner that will be conductive to immediate appropriations of adequate Federal funds required for the two projects so vital to Pennsylvania generally and to the spectacular resurgence of Philadelphia in particular; and be it further

Resolved that the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its commendation to the three great Philadelphia metropolitan newspapers, the Evening Bulletin, the Philadelphia Inquirer and the Daily News for their excellent and edifying editorial work in behalf of the deepening of the Delaware River Channel and extension thereof to Trenton, New Jersey; and be it further

Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be directed upon the passage of the instant Resolution to forward copies thereof to His Excellency, the President of the United States; to the Vice President of the United States, in his capacity as the presiding Officer of the Senate of the United States; to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States; to the two United States Senators of Pennsylvania, the Honorable Edward Martin and James H. Duff; to each one of the Members of the Pennsylvania Delagation to the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States; to the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia; and to the Publishers of the Evening Bulletin, of Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Inquirer, and Daily News.

The PRESIDENT. The editorial submitted by the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

"SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE"

"The Delaware River project, calling for extension of the 40-foot channel from Philadelphia to Trenton, has fallen afoul of the Administration's decision that such developments hereafter must be supported by local contributions to the cost.

"By a vote of 107 to 77 the House has upheld the Administration's position, and rejected an appropriation of $18,500,000 for an early start on this work.

"It is interesting to note that the Administration, and some Westerners among the 107, will soon have an opportunity to prove their consistency.

"The $1,680,000,000 Upper Colorado River development bill has been cleared by a subcommittee and will soon be reaching the floor. It has been vigorously attacked on the grounds that it would produce power only at fantastic cost, and that its irrigation features would benefit only 2,700 farms, at $2,500 per acre.

"The Upper Basin States, however, have the Administration's support.

"The principle of 'local contributions,' it would seem, is as clearly applicable here as in the case of the Delaware channel, and Representative Craig Hosmer, of California, has supplied the House with some appropriate figures.

"On the ground that the Upper Colorado development will benefit, indirectly, the whole country, he points out, Pennsylvania's people are asked to contribute $277,600,000 in taxes for these dams and canals in Utah. Massachusetts' share would be $127,600,000; Maryland's $102,400,000; Illinoise' $276,000,000.

"The four chief beneficiaries—Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico—would make no contribution other than their share of the national taxes devoted to the project. This share would amount to $75,600,000; less than one-third of Pennsylvania's.

"Westeners who cheerfully upheld the Administration's stand in the case of the Delaware channel might ask themselves if extra local contributions would not be proper also for the Upper Colorado."

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 184, as follows:

An Act amending the act of August 5 1932 (P L 45) entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced" prohibiting the imposition of wage income or occupation taxes on nonresidents and abolishing such taxes heretofore imposed

Section 1 Section 1 act of August 5 1932 (P L 45) entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assesment and collection of certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced" is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That from and after the effective date of this act the council of any city of the first or second class shall have the authority by ordinance for general revenue purposes to levy assess and collect or provide for the levying assessment and collection of such taxes on persons transactions occupations privileges subjects and personal property within the limits of such city of the first or second class as it shall determine except that such council shall not have authority to levy assess and collect or provide for the levying assessment and collection of any tax on a privilege transaction subject or occupation or on personal property which is now or may hereafter become subject to a State tax or license fee If subsequent to the passage of any ordinance under the authority of this act the General Assemby shall impose a tax or license fee on any privilege transaction subject or occupation or on personal property taxed by any city of the first or second class hereunder the act of Assembly imposing the State tax thereon shall automatically vacate the city ordinance passed under the authority of this act as to all taxes accruing subsequent to the effective date of the act imposing the State tax or license fee It is the intention of this section to confer upon cities of the first and second classes the power to levy assess and collect taxes upon any and all subjects of taxation which the Commonwealth has power to tax but which it does not now tax or license subject only to the foregoing provision that any tax upon a subject which the Commonwealth may hereafter tax or license shall automatically terminate upon the effective date of the State act imposing the new tax or license fee

On or after December 31 1955 it shall be unlawful for the council of any city of the first class to impose any way income or occupation tax upon any person not a resident thereof All wage income and occupation taxes imposed by any city of the first class before the effective date of this amendment on persons who are not residents of the city are hereby discontinued and abolished after December 31 1955 in so far as they apply to nonresidents of the city

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, for the three Sessions that I have been a Member of this Senate, this bill to exempt non-residents of Philadelphia from the Philadelphia Income Tax has appeared on the Calendar and each Session it was defeated, and I think rightfully so.

Mr. President, there is no valid reason why people who earn their living in Philadelphia, either as working or owning businesses, should be excused from paying a tax which the people of Philadelphia pay. These people, living in outer counties, a good many of them got started in business in Philadelphia, did well in business and did well enough to move out in the suburbs. There is no reason why they, or people who work in Philadelphia and receive their living and money out of Philadelphia and use the streets in Philadelphia, should not pay the same tax as people living in Philadelphia. They get the benefit of our police protection; they get the benefit of our fire protection; they get the benefit of good lighting, good streets and I think it comes in ill favor for them to say, "You excuse us from paying the tax which all the people who live in Philadelphia pay."

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members of the Senate to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill that we have before us now is a most unusual one. The two things that we have come to learn are certain in life are death and taxes. However, this tax is one which we can avoid. All a person has to do in order not to pay this tax is to move out of Philadelphia, not earn his living there, and he will not have to pay this tax or be burdened by any of the problems which Philadelphia has.

Mr. President, I think that what the sponsors of this bill are trying to do is very admirable. I do not blame them for trying to get these people, with their money, back into their own little county and tax them there, but I feel that, basically, these people are receiving the benefits which Philadelphia has to offer to them as well as to their employers in the way of police, fire protection and benefits which flow from workng and living in and around Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I, therefore would like to ask the Members of the Senate to vote against this bill. I would also like to say that, since we are so tax conscious and economy conscious, if this bill passes and finally is enacted into law, Philadelphia will lose $90,000,000 a biennium. Now, that money will have to be made up in some way or in some other form. Therefore, if we rid these people of this tax we will have to put something in its place or what we will have to do will be to obtain that money from the State to make up this $90,000,000 which has been taken from us by this bill. I, therefore, would like to urge all of you to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, for sixty years Philadelphia had the reputation of being corrupt and content, and under a new and vigorous Clark administration, we, in Philadelphia, have given to the people a great many more services, a first-class city, and yet we are the only city in these United States during the past years who have not come through with a tax increase for its citizens.

Mr. President, if we permit this bill to pass here today so that our fellow citizens across the county line may be exempt from paying their just assessments to the City of Philadelphia, the people within the boundaries of Philadelphia must suffer. As my colleague has stated, it will take $90,000,000 out of the treasury of Philadelphia. The people of Philadelphia no longer wish to be deprived of the services which they have now. They do not want to go back to a history of contentment and corruption. Therefore, it is important to the over 2,000,000 people of Philadelphia that this bill be defeated in the Senate today.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I do not rise to support this bill but to oppose it. However, I cannot agree with the former speaker, my good friesd and colleague.

Mr. President, Philadelphia, under Clark, has had more carpetbaggers than at any time in the history of Philadelphia. I am voting against this measure. However. I hope that the next administration, if it is Democratic, and I think that it will be because Longstreth is really making a lot of mistakes, will stop these carpetbaggers from coming into Philadelphia.

Mr. President, we have had too many people trying to reform Philadelphia and trying to put us in a cage. Maybe this is the wrong moment to speak about it but, boy, I just cannot sit down because my conscience says, "Get up." I hope that the next administration will keep out the many carpetbaggers from Arizona, Oklahoma and California.

I am voting against this bill, but, God, I wish that these carpetbaggers would try to make a living in their own communities.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, are there any more Philadelphia Senators who want to talk?

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate —

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President —

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I will certainly yield to Senator Mullin, from Philadelphia.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, this bill would upset the financial structure of the city of Philadelphia, and the only purpose that this bill could have would be to upset the financial structure of the City of Philadelphia, and for that reason alone, in the interest of responsible government in Pennsylvania's greatest city, I ask that this bill be rejected.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, it is true that this bill has been before the Senate many times. In 1949, at which time I was a freshman Senator, I was unsuccessful in passing this bill over to the House.

Mr. President, I wish to take exception to Senator Silvert's statement that this bill was always defeated. The only time that this bill has ever been defeated, since 1949, was in 1949. In 1951 and 1953 the bill was approved by the Senate and passed over to the House, where the great delegation of representatives from Philadelphia proceeded to bury it in committee and kill it.

I think that this time, Mr. President, maybe the House Members will think a little bit before they kill it, if I am successful today in passing this bill and I certainly hope that I will be successful.

Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, my good friend Senator Silvert, amuses me with the silliest idea I have ever heard in my life, and that is the idea that Philadelphia gives us police protection. When does a Philadelphian ever come to Delaware County, Chester County, Montgomery County, Bucks County or any other county that we do not give them police protection free? From all of the accounts, Mr. President, Philadelphia is not too nice a place to be in at night, especially from what I have heard about people being slugged and hit on the head. I know it happens in other counties but not as much as in Philadelphia, and that may be due to Philadelphia's larger population.

Mr. President, I think that it is absolutely silly to say that we use their streets. It is not even debatable because it is too silly to even debate. It is silly to say that we drink their water, and that we use their lavatories. Just how much is the price of drinking water and using the streets in the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. President, they say that this tax is worth $90,000,000. That sounds like my good friend, Johnny Dent, coming out of the air with a figure. I do not figure it is $90,000,000. My understanding is that the contribution from Delaware County is around $19,000,000, and there is a lot of difference between $90,000,000 and $19,000,000. To try to convince the Senate here today that $90,000,000 will be taken from the coffers of the Democrats in Philadelphia does not seem fair to say. I judge this was an honest mistake, and certainly I have a lot of respect for Senator Weiner and I would be glad to discuss the issue of the millions of dollars with him at some other time and not take up the time of this Senate today. However, I do want to make that exception, that the loss is only $19,000,000.

Mr. President, I certainly feel as though the Senators over there have been very kind, much kinder than in other years, and there is not too much to fight with them about. Frankly, I never run away from a fight, but I think that they have been most kind over there in their remarks. I judge that from what I said in the last Session here, some of the gentlemen's consciences over there are really bothering them and they are getting religion as far as this tax is concerned, because they know that the tax is unholy and unjust.

Mr. President, I would like to call past history to the attention of the Democrats from Philadelphia. I want to go way back in history, clear back to 1776. During the Second Continental Congress which met in Philadelphia in 1776, a committee of five was appointed to draft a Declaration of Independence from Great Britain. Thomas Jefferson, who I personally think was a great, great Democrat and possibly the greatest; Thomas Jefferson, the patron saint of the Democratic Party was the chairman of this committee. Among the grievances of the Thirteen Colonies, he listed one which stated: "For imposing taxes without the consent of the governed." On July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was read to the people assembled in Independence Square, Philadelphia. It was heralded by the ringing of the Liberty Bell and by the tumultuous shouts of approval by the people. Today the municipal authorities in Philadelphia are negating this very fundamental right of the people by levying a wage tax upon the people who live in the nearby communities and counties without the consent of the governed.

Certainly, Mr. President, the people of Philadelphia will again shout their approval of this bill which ends this iniquitous and unjust tax, and certainly the people of Philadelphia will laud every Democratic Senator from Philadelphia who votes for this bill.

Mr. President, I cannot see how any Senator on either side, whether he be Democrat or Republican, can stand up and vote for a tax where the people have no say whatsoever in the government to which they are contributing their money. This is taxation without representation. Yes, you can go back to the Boston Tea Party and see what happened there. Why did they throw all of the tea into the ocean in Boston? I do not need to tell you learned gentlemen anything about the Boston Tea Party. You know why they threw the tea oberboard. They threw it overboard for the simple reason that they did not want to pay taxes to England without any representation.

Mr. President, I speak for the people of my county, I speak for the people of Chester County, Delaware County, Bucks County, Montgomery County and any county in the State of Pennsylvania that has people working in Philadelphia who have to pay this unholy tax. That is my argument, Mr. President. Some people say, "Well, this is a day of fun." This is no day of fun with me, for I am serious about it. Also, I want to say that as much as we love the city of Philadelphia, and we do love the people in the city of Philadelphia and consider them as good neighbors, we do not want to pay its taxes. Love just does not go that far. If you people want to keep Phila delphia the "City of Brotherly Love," you had better set a pattern; you better set your fences up and change your way of thinking, of robbing from the coffers from your neighboring counties.

You have one gentlemen in the city of Philadelphia whom I have never had the pleasure of meeting and. may I say, I do not care if I ever meet him. You have a gentleman there by the name of Victor Moore, who states that he is a Councilman-at-Large. In The Philadelphia Inquirer, dated June the 14th, 1955, Mr. Moore made several charges. Apparently The Philadelphia Inquirer was ashamed of their headline in the early edition that day, which I read in Harrisburg. The early edition headline said: "Parasites From The Suburbs Trying To Get From Under The Wage Tax." I will not read all of this article which was written in The Philadelphia Inquirer, but I shall read part of it. The paragraph I shall read is headed, " 'Parasite Suburbs' Hit" and states as follows:

"In Philadelphia, meanwhile, Councilman-at-Large Victor Moore assailed the legislative move. He charge that 'under a rational boundary agreement',"—a rational boundary agreement, keep that in mind gentlemen—" 'these bedroom towns would be incorporated within our city limits and would pay their taxes to the "mother city." ' " I think England called herself the "mother country" once, too.

"City Services Cited

"Moore charged nonresidents with 'beating up the streets' with trucks and passenger automobiles, using hospitals and Philadelphia's public institutions, and then 'roosting in neighboring boroughs that owe their very existence to Philadelphia.'

"He characterized the nonresident city worker as a daytime local businessman who 'when the twilight twinkles' becomes a citizen of another township, spending his earnings elsewhere.

"The tax yields the city in excess of $49,000,000 annually."

Now here we are again, Mr. President; $49,000,000 and the Senator says $90,000,000. I want to say this to Mr. Moore, that we in Delaware County do not live in the atmosphere of hate and bad feeling in which he exists. We welcome the Philadelphians to Delaware County to use our roads with their trucks, with their passenger cars, drink our water, work in our plants and we do not propose to tax them and we will not tax them. I say that Mr. Moore must be a very, very ignorant man. I say "ignorant" with capital letters. Any man who will call people who work, and give their labors and receive their pay for the work that they do in Philadelphia, parasites is an ignorant man.

My interpretation of a parasite is a person who lives off of someone else or a leech which might malign your body and suck your blood. This man, in my opinion, owes an apology to every person who lives in Delaware or adjoining counties and works in Philadelphia. He might say that we go home to roost. We have some very nice roosts out there. I like those words, too, "going home to our little sleeping quarters." We like to sleep in quarters out there. I do not blame the people from Philadelphia, who moved out of Philadelphia to the suburbs in order to have a nice place to live. There is nothing wrong with their thinking. In other words, perhaps if the forefathers of Philadelphia had thought about building some decent communities for them to live in Philadelphia County, they would not want to move to the adjoining counties.

Certainly, Mr. President, we do not think that Mr. Moore spoke for the majority of the Philadelphians. I might remind Mr. Moore, too, that if he wants to talk about parasites, maybe he should cite his own history. In our county we have a rule that when a man holds a political office for eight years in the county of Delaware, he no longer is allowed to be on the payroll. I understand that Mr. Moore has been on the payrolls of the taxpayers for years. Perhaps it is time for him to move out; maybe it is his conscience that is bothering him when he speaks of parasites. Maybe that is how he comes out with that word.

Mr. President, I want to say to the gentlemen of the Senate that we do not consider your people who work in our county as parasites. May I say to you further that according to the last figure I had from the Chamber of Commerce, there were 21,000 Philadelphians working in Delaware County, without paying a wage tax. They can use our drinking water and they can use our streets and they can use our lavatories without cost.

Senator Silvert, do you mean to say to these people that you really deny, down in your heart, Delaware Countians running through your city with automobiles? Do you not want our people to come to your city of Philadelphia and spend their money in your department stores, go to your moving pictures, go to your plays, go to your shows, go to the baseball games? Do you not want us to patronize the city of Philadelphia? If you want to start a move and you want to call it the "Silvert Move," if you want to start a move to drive all of the other people from these counties out of your city, why do you not start a boom and I will guarantee you that it will not be long before they stay out? Are you honest and sincere when you say a thing like that? I do not think so. I know Senator Silvert, and I know him to be a gentleman. I do not believe the good Senator ever meant anything like that.

Mr. President, I want I want to say to Senator DiSilvestro that he is one of the finest Democrats who was ever in the city of Philadelphia. If I had my choice, he would probably be running for Mayor this time. If there ever was an honest man, one who speaks from the bottom of his heart always, that man is Senator DiSilvestro. Senator DiSilvestro would never concur in what Mr. Moore said, nor in what Senator Silvert said.

Mr. President, I would like to call this to your attention, and here is where I will get into trobule. Here is where I will probably hear from the State Chairman and my good friend, Johnny Dent. I do not know what might happen when I start in on this. I see the old beaver up there with his head sticking up now, from Allegheny County, getting ready to listen.

Frankly, Mr. President, I want to say that the city of Philadelphia would not need the money; they would not need this wage tax from nonresidents had they kept their campaign promises of a few years ago. In Philadelphia, when Mayor Clark ran for Mayor of Philadelphia and Dilworth ran for District Attorney, they promised the people that they were going to cut the cost of government, that they were going to perform economies in the city of Philadelphia. They said that they were going to take the drones from the payroll. I still do not like that word "drone." People who work honestly for government should never be called drones. Perhaps Mr. Moore could be called a drone. He has been on the payroll for a long while. However, I do not like a lot of people being called drones when they give an honest day's work. I understand Mr. Moore does not give too many.

The Democrats also stated, in the last campaign, that they were going to consider taking this Philadelphia wage tax off. When I appeared in Philadelphia before the City Council, the Philadelphians promised me that they were going to do what they could to find some way to replace this tax. May I say, they were Republicans and Democrats. That promise has never been kept, gentlemen, and it never will be kept as long as you have a government which sets up a pattern such as they are setting in Philadelphia today—spend, spend, tax, tax and keep on taxing. They kidded the people by telling them they were being elected on economy, and they were going to cut the cost of government, and they have done nothing but increase the cost of government. It seems as though that pattern fell on through. They thought the people liked it and, therefore, they followed on through with it .That pattern was used again to elect a Governor.

I would like to call to your attention one letter. With your permission, I will read it into the record. I have permission to use the name and address.

Senator G. Rob't. Watkins.

"Dear Sir:

"When I talked to you on the phone one Sunday afternoon about three weeks ago in regard to the Bill to eliminate the Phila. Wage Tax on Non-residents of Phila., you stated that you expected considerable opposition to this Bill by the Democratic Party Members. Enclosed herewith is a post pre-election pamphlet which was circulated by the Democratic Party of Delaware County. Please note item 4 of their list of pledges which pledges the elimination of the Phila. Wage Tax on Non-residents.

"I sincerely hope this pamphlet will be of some aid in your appreciated continued efforts against this very unjust taxation.

"Very truly yours,
"H. G. Neale"

Gentlemen of the Senate, on the other side—if the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania keeps his word, I have a big man in my corner. I hold before you today and show you this pamphlet with Governor Leader's picture on it. It is a good picture, too. He is a good looking fellow; I wish I were as good looking. It says:

"Pennsylvania needs real leadership. George M. Leader for Governor."

I will not read it all; I will not take that much time. However, if any of you Democratic Senators wish to see it, you can come over and I will let you see it. You cannot take it with you, though. It says:

"Vote the Straight Democratic Ticket Tuesday, November 2, 1954. Published by the Democratic Committee of Delaware County. John W. Sheehan, Chairman. Albert J. Crawford, Jr., Campaign Manager." I turn to page 2 and this is what it says: "Now is the time for a change in Harrisburg. Sixteen years of Republican rule has made our State Government inefficient, wasteful, always leading to demands for higher taxes in return for less and less. To accomplish this end we pledge to —" I am only interested now in Item No. 1, 2, 3, 4—"In Philadelphia wage tax payments by residents of Delaware County."

Gentlemen, I expect the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania to support this bill. I expect him to instruct his leadership in the House and in the Senate that he promised the people of Delaware County to take this tax off. If he does not do that, then it is a broken pledge. He has obtained at least 10,000 votes fraudently. I can give the Governor 10,000 votes in Delaware County that he received upon this pledge, to repeal the Philadelphia Wage Tax. I hope that he will keep this pledge. If he does not keep it, I intend to go back and remind you that he has not kept it. I doubt it very seriously. I hope, but I doubt it. I heard the same ballyhoo all over the State of Pennsylvania, that they were going to put economies into the government, that they were going to cut the cost of government, they were going to cut the taxes and we were going to live happily ever after. I knew at the time what that meant. I knew it was impossible. I feel today that, with the plan that is being used on Capitol Hill, it is impossible and still impossible because you cannot keep adding to the payrolls. You cannot keep spending and, in other words, balance the budget with the right amount of money that the taxpayers should come up for without putting a few economies in.

Mr. President, I say to you that I believe if Governor Leader is honest on this bill—and I never hoped that a man would be more honest—he shall keep his campaign pledges to the people of Delaware County.

I ask all of you gentlemen to vote for this measure; send it over to the House of Representatives and let us see what will happen from there on.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate I think the gentleman should be complimented on his impassioned if not factual speech.

Mr. President, I think it is important first to note that the Governor of Pensylvania, as a candidate, should not be held responsible for all of the pamphlets put out in the State of Pennsylvania by individual counties or individual political organizations. I think he knows that when he holds the Democratic candidate for Governor responsible for every promise made in every district in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, then he, too, is usink the tactics he accuses the Governor of Pennsylvania of using.

So far as the 10,000 votes that Senator Watkins said the Governor got, it may interest him and the Members of this Senate to note that the Democratic candidate for Governor this year, with these promises that were made in the pamphlets that were put out, received less votes than the candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket four years previous in the county of Delaware.

Mr. President, it is also interesting to note that the gentleman from Delaware makes a great impassioned speech about the Boston Tea Party and taxation without representation. You know, every time I pick up the newspapers, I see where Joe Pew, who lives in Bucks County, I understand, and Jay Cooke, who lives in Montgomery County, are heading up the GOP Policy Committee in the city of Philadelphia and picking Longstreth for the mayoralty and Mr. Pew, from Bucks County, contributed $17,896 to the campaign in Philadelphia for the mayoralty fight. If he wants to contribute to that, he certainly should be willing to contribute a little bit to the city's expenses of maintaining the maoralty office, if he wishes to shoose the Mayor.

Mr. President, I do not think that there are too many of us fooled by this particular speech here this afternoon, because the gentleman from Delaware, himself, voted for Act No. 481. Under Act No. 481, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania every little community in the State that has a wage tax, assesses and taxes all the people who work in that community regardless of where they live. If a person lives in the city of Greensburg and he happens to work in the city of Jeannette, if Jeannette has a wage tax, he pays the tax to the people of the city of Jeannette. That is Act No. 481, which the Democrats opposed. Incidentally, the Sterling Act, which gave the right to the city of Philadelphia to tax the people in Delaware County, was passed by a Republican administration in Harrisburg and the wage tax in Philadelphia, with its imposition upon the people in Delaware County, was passed by a Republican Mayor, a Republican Council in the city of Philadelphia.

We hear on this floor, Mr. President, all the talk about the campaign promises by the Governor. One would be led to believe that the Republican Party's platforms, over the years, have been lived up to the letter by the Republican candidates who successfully won for sixteen years in this Commonwealth. We witnessed just last week the keeping of a Republican pledge. I do not like to read newspapers, but sometimes you have to answer in kind.

"Campaign promises—rocks in blass houses," appeared in the Harrisburg Evening News. However, before I read that, as I glance at the heading of this editorial, right at this moment, there is a Biblical quotation, 27th verse, third chapter, St. Mark. "Thought for Today." It may be apropos. "No man can enter into a strong man's house and spoil his goods except he will first bind the strong man and then he will spoil his house." Therefore, in Philadelphia—the gentleman wants to go into the city of Philadelphia and bind the strong man, the government of the city, but first he must bind him and then spoil his house. The taxes in the city of Philadelphia are placed there for the same reason that the taxes in this city of Harrisburg were placed by Governor Duff, by Governor Fine. Taxes in this Commonwealth have been placed by all governors, and the taxes that will have to be placed by Governor Leader are to pay the debts that were left behind. You hear a great deal of talk here. Just a minute ago the gentleman from Delaware said that if we keep padding payrolls. It is not that they do not know the truth. They do not understand it, and they do not want to hear it. It has been stated here that the budget shows that in the month of April there was over a million and a quarter dollars less payroll in the State of Pennsylvania than there was the last month of the Fine Administration.

Mr. President, I am sorry that the people of this State cannot get tuned into the Senate of Pennsylvania. I am profoundly sorry that the people cannot hear the truth, rather than the deliberate and malicious lies that are propagandized daily and dunned into their ears by the radio and television spokesmen of the Republican Party, as well as the false and misleading editorials that are printed in this State. They have led people to believe that no new taxes are necessary in the State of Pennsylvania. Is there any responsible leader in the Republican Party who can honestly say to the people of this State that no new revenue is needed in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to meet the obligations of the Duff and Fine Administrations? The simple out has been offered to you time and time again.

This week, I hope that the House of Representatives brings out the appropriation bills as they are contained in the budget. They have ninety-nine Republican votes over there. The leader of the Republicans, Charles Smith, said, "Two hundred million dollars can be cut from the budget." He will have his oportunity to cut the $200,000,000. We expect that the House of Representatives will discharge the appropriation bills and put them on the Calendar. As each department comes up, let Charlie Smith cut; let the Republicans amend; let them cut from the schoolteachers; let them cut from the hospitals; let them cut from the departments of the State of Pennsylvania. We will take the cuts that they will make. Let them cut $200,000,000 and we will be glad to go to the people and compliment you upon it, because you will be cutting the expenses of government which you have handed to us.

Mr. President, it is a very simple matter to save something like $82,000,000. Cut out the schoolteachers' increments if you want, but do not stand on the floor of this Senate and in the House and in the public, on television, and tell the people that $200,000,000 can be cut from the budget of this State, that no new taxes are needed, unless you have the courage to stand up and cut them.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this is the first time that I have risen to a point of order on this particular thing during this Session. I had to do it many times during the last Session.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, is certainly not talking on the bill. I insist that he confine his remarks to the bill before us, the bill on the Philadelphia wage tax.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will confine his remarks to the subject before the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of this Senate, maybe my hearing was wrong. but I distinctly heard the gentleman from Delaware talk about the broken promises of the Democratic Party.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, thought the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, was out of order, then why did he not rise in place and protest it? Because he did not rise and protest it, there is no reason why I should not rise to a point of order.

Senator Dent, you are out of order and the Chair has so ruled.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that the point of order can be well understood, I insist that the stenographer present me with the typewritten notes so that I may read the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware to find out if he spoke germanely on the subject.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is all right with me for him to do that if he wants to take up more time of the Senate. Certainly, it has no point here. There is only one thing before us and that is Senate Bill No. 184. I insist that the gentleman confine his remarks to Senate Bill No. 184.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have time and time again tried in my behavior upon this floor to give as well as take. I have never restricted the latitude that any person may go to in their discussion of any problem that they desired. In all of the twenty some years that I have served, I have never questioned a point of order when a Member of this Senate was making a speech. However, worse than that, Mr. President, I have never allowed fish to become fowl. I have never allowed the privilege to be enjoyed by a Member of my Party that I would deny to a Member of the other Party. They may sustain their point of order.

However, Mr. President, in declaring a point of order upon this floor, it does not add to the stature of the gentleman who calls it. He sat and listened to a speech by the gentleman from Delaware in which he covered from Thomas Jefferson to the Boston Tea Party; from campaign promises of ward heelers in the county of Delaware to the broken so-called promises of the Governor of the Commonwealth. At no time did he rise to a point of order. When in my remarks I try to sustain the position that we find ourselves in, I am called to a point of order. That, to me, is not damaging because the people know that, all over the State of Pennsylvania, we are always called to a point of order. When we come up before the bar of justice and try to lay our case before the people, we are called to a point of order by the hundreds and hundreds of editorial writers who refuse to know, to believe or to repeat the truth; by the thousands upon thousands of persons who go out and malign the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Democratic Party, who refuse at all times to even repeat a truth after they know it to be the truth.

Mr. President, I have said on the floor, and I will say again, that no responsible Republican leader has the courage to say that no new revenue is needed. No responsible Republican leader will stand up before the Senate and House and cut $200,000,000 from the budget from the State of Pennsylvania and do it honestly.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the gentleman is not speaking on the bill and he certainly is not speaking on a question of personal privilege. I do not understand it when he rises to a question of personal privilege and then expects that to allow him to speak on anything.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, has the floor under a question of personal privilege. I presume the gentleman has a perfect right to answer the gentleman. As I stated earlier, the other gentleman I thought was out of order and I wonder why the question was not raised.

I think both the gentlemen, in their discussions, have been far afield. However, the gentleman from Westmoreland does have the floor under a question of personal privilege.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, does that allow the gentleman to speak on anything that he wants to, under personal privilege?

The PRESIDENT. When I was in the House, a question of personal privilege allowed the Members a great deal of latitude. I presume that is true in the Senate, although I might stand to be corrected in my judgment.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to inquire as to what his personal privilege is.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I stated before, in order that the Majority Floor Leader may clearly understand, that I felt I had a right to rise on a question of personal privilege because I felt aggrieved at a situation which had arisen in the Senate, whereby one member of the political party which happens to have control of the Senate was allowed to speak at wide range and great latitude upon a subject before this Senate. No man here questioned his right to do so. No man questioned the time he took and no man got out of patience with his remarks. The minute that I took the floor, belonging to a minority party, I was denied the right to answer in kind and felt aggrieved.

What I was talking about, Mr. President, was the fact that this gentleman, in his remarks, had covered a field of activities and a field of arguments not germane to the bill. We understood that. When he brought the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in as having broken his promises, what did that have to do with the wage tax in Delaware County? In all of these matters, the Boston Tea Party, I cannot remember anywhere in history, from Thomas Jefferson on down—and I consider myself a fair historian—I cannot remember them mentioning the wage tax in Delaware County, in the fight against the Colonies or, rather, the colonies against the Mother Country. I thought it went beyond that.

Mr. President, I tried to call attention to the fact that Act No. 481, which was sponsored by the Republican Party, allowed every community in this State to tax the people who worked within that community no matter where they lived. They can live in Delaware County, Westmoreland County, West Virginia, New Jersey or Kentucky and they will be taxed if they work in any community that has a wage tax in the State of Pennsylvania under Act No. 481. The Republican Party passed that bill. The Republican Party passed the Sterling Act. The Republican Party passed the wage tax originally in the city of Philadelphia.

I stated that, from reading a Biblical quotation, what the gentleman was trying to do was to wreck the house and he knew that from the Bible that if he wanted to wreck the house, he first had to tie the strong man. The strong man is the wage tax in the city of Philadelphia, because it brings to that city assistance, aid and sustenance for its problems. Those are the problems that I wanted to talk about, not because I felt like talking but I talked because it had to be answered. It is not fair because this is the only forum, the only forum in the State of Pennsylvania where the Democratic point of view, up until this moment, was allowed to be presented. This is the only forum where the people have a voice. I say that the majority of the people have a voice here because we Democratic Senators, although we only have twenty-four votes in this Senate, represent something like sixty-two per cent of all the people of this Commonwealth, Mr. President.

I feel aggrieved at that, and I think I should have the right of personal privilege to say that if the Republicans had not gerrymandered the State of Pennsylvania to such an extent, this majority in the Senate today representing the people of the Commonwealth would be Democratic by at least thirty-two to thirty-four votes. These are things that they should know. These are things that the people should know.

Mr. President, I do not care what happens to the bill in the Senate of Pennsylvania because we know it is a foregone conclusion that the Republican are going to vote for it and the Democrats are going to vote against it. We also know, Mr. President, that when the Republicans were in power and the city of Philadelphia was Republican, the Republicans voted against this bill in order that they would not take that money from the city of Philadelphia. When they passed it in the Senate, there was a byplay in order to help the gentleman who sponsored it in his county election because it went over to a Republican controlled House, Mr. President, and they defeated it. You cannot possibly blame that on Democrats. Let us be frank and let use be honest. Let us tell the people the truth as we know it to be the truth. I do not say that the gentleman, himself, is not sincere. I do not say that Senator Watkins does not want this bill passed. I believe he does, because he is in here every two years with it and it makes a darn good campaign issue, too.

Another thing that I think the people should know is that when you accuse the Democrats of breaking promises, go back through your own history. Go back through a recent history of the Republican Party when the F.E.P.C. bill was defeated in this Senate. Let us go back to the days of Jim Duff when he said there was a $200,000,000 surplus, and what did he end up with? He ended up with new taxes on the poor people of the Commonwealth and when I say poor, I mean poor because he reached way down into the little kids of this State and placed a tax on soda pop and drove seventy-two industries, little pop dealers, out of business in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, there will be a day of reckoning. We thought it had come November 2nd, but it has not. We were not able to out-ride the gerrymandering in the Senate. We just succeeded, by a narrow squeak, to out-ride the gerrymandering of the House of Representatives and I think that the people of this Commonwealth will know when the truth is made, and when the Republicans are satisfied that they have defeated the income tax and they placed their three per cent sales tax on the people, the day of reckoning will come.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not care to prolong this debate. It has stretched rather far now. I do take exception to Senator Dent's remarks in saying that I voted for Act No. 481. That bill went in in 1947. I became a Member of the Senate in 1949, and I can never recall ever voting for any of the amendments to Act No. 481.

I would like to say just one thing in reference to this bill. I will try to stick to the bill. I might get off a little, perhaps I was off a little. Practically everything I said was built around the bill before us. I could have been off; I am sorry if I was. There was no reason why I could not hold anything I wanted to say about the taxes until tomorrow. However, I would like to ask Senator Silvert if he will permit me to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Silvert, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SILVERT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. I would to call to your attention something that is very important to your people, and to my people and to the people of these other counties. If you vote for this bill today, do you realize that you are voting for a third income tax upon the people that you represent, namely a Philadelphia Wage Tax, a Federal Wage Tax and a State Income Tax which you propose?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the people of Delaware County have paid this tax in Philadelphia for seventeen years during Republican administrations.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Silvert——

Mr. SILVERT. I let you ask your question the way you wanted, now please let me answer it.

Mr. WATKINS. The courtesy is granted; go ahead, Senator.

Mr. SILVERT. I stated, Mr. President, that the people of Delaware County have paid a Philadelphia income tax since 1937 and most of it during a Republican administration in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, as to my willingness to impose an additional tax, I assume you are now referring to the present Governor's tax program. Let me tell you, Senator Watkins, that I would sooner ask your working people in Philadelphia to pay a one per cent wage tax on an earning of $4,000, which would cost them $30, than impose upon them a three and three quarter per cent sales tax which would cost them twice as much.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator, I will refrain from answering that question and save it for another day. I take for granted that your answer to me is that you will vote for the three taxes. That is, if the State income tax comes up, you will vote three taxes on your people. You will be satisfied if they have three taxes to pay.

Mr. SILVERT. I think, Senator Watkins, that I spoke loud enough for you to hear me.

Mr. WATKINS. Well, thank you, Senator.

Mr. President, I would like to just tell you what one of my employees said to me about this Philadelphia wage tax. He said, "Boss, I understand you are trying to get that Philadelphia wage tax off." I said, "That is right, I am." "Well," he said, "let me tell you something. I appreciate that, but you know the Federal Government is taking one bite out of my pay, and the Philadelphia people are taking one bite out of my pay and you know if the State takes this third bite out, I am going to ask them to give me the bite and let them keep the pay."

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I did not think that it would be necessary for me to make a return engagement, but some of the facts that the Senator from Delaware County has set forth on this floor certainly are misrepresenting the truth. I do not think that he did it purposely. I think he is sincere in his efforts and I think that he is attempting to conscientiously represent his constituents. However, Delaware County does not stand by iteself in Pennsylvania. We are made up of counties, townships and cities and we must all work together to make this a great Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I know the Senator from Delaware County must know, if he reads the newspapers and if he reads them correctly, that Councilman Moore whom I do not have to defend, never made the statement in the Philadelphia newspaper that the people from Delaware or any other county were parasites. The statement was that the counties of the suburbs of Philadelphia were parasitic upon the city of Philadelphia. Mr. Moore never referred to individuals; he never referred to the people themselves. He referred to the demands of the suburban communities, as a whole, resulting from their government.

Mr. President, I would further say that the Senator's people of Delaware County take from the city of Philadelphia close to a billion dollars in wages and that is made possible, sir, by administration which came forth from the Department of Commerce that has attracted many industries into the city of Philadelphia. We have one of the finest new City Planning Commissions which has drawn big business from every part of the Country into Philadelphia. We have spent money for a first-class airport, which we never had under a Republican Administration, and today is operating in the red and attracts big business and industry into the Philadelphia community. We have developed the Port of Philadelphia, which carries the greatest amount of foreign bulk of any port in the United States and enables the people of Delaware County to earn a billion dollars in the city of Philadelphia. Presently, we are spending $11,000,000 in Philadelphia for one of the greatest food distribution center in the entire United States. These developments enable the people from Delaware County and the surrounding counties to make a living and brings them back to their own community so they may live in first-class style. If they are going to take, they should be willing to contribute. If they do not want to contribute, then they ought not take from Philadelphia.

Mr. President, we have plenty of people right in my own Diestrict unemployed due to this great Eiesenhower prosperity administration, and if the people of Delaware County do not want to pay the wage tax and would like to relinquish their jobs, I have five Philadelphia citizens for every one of those jobs.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I was terribly sorry to hear that the Senator from Delaware wishes to secede from Philadelphia because of a little old wage tax. I think that Senator Donolow made the point very well. If you want the benefits, you have to bear some of the burdens. The people in Delaware County receive many of the benefits from Philadelphia. Not only do they not carry their full share of the load, I think they do not even carry a proportionate share of the load.

Mr. President, also I believe the Senator was wrong and I wish to disabuse his mind and the minds of the other gentlemen who were listening to him. I stated that the total tax taken by Philadelphia from this tax is $90,000,000 a biennium. That does not only come from Delaware County, but it come from people who live all around the surrounding communities and the Philadelphians themselves. I would like to get him clear on that point.

Mr. President, I also think that the Senator and the gentleman who sit on the other side of the aisle with him, his colleagues, if they would search in their own little communities, which surround and make up their county, they will find that the wage tax and the principle that it is laid upon is also carried out in many of their communities. They have many townships which levy a tax on people who work in that township but do not necessarily live there. This is also true of the counties which they represent and were they not bound by party or caucus action, they could vote along with the rest of us to keep that situation fluent.

Mr. President, I think if we are going to introduce a bill of this type, we should do it for the entire State so that everybody has the benefits which the Senator points out is true of his own bill. I think that it is a little bit selfish of him just to confine it to his own little community. I think that we ought to do it on a large scale, and let the State completely relieve all these people of these burdens.

Mr. President, I ask that those Senators search their own communities and if they feel they cannot carry this out in their own areas and in their own counties, I feel that they ought to vote no on this bill in order to be completely honest and consistent with the position that they are taking on the bill.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I learned something this afternoon which I did not know before. If the story of the Senator from Delaware is true, his business is located in Philadelphia. I thought your business was in Delaware County.

May I ask the gentleman if his business is in Philadelphia or Delaware County? Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator, you were saying about this employee of yours who said that he pays one tax in Philadelphia, he pays the Federal Incove Tax and now if the Governor's classified income tax becomes law, he will be paying three taxes. I take it from this that your business must be in Philadelphia County.

Mr. WATKINS. Oh, no, Senator. You are just a little bit astray.

Mr. BARR. Well straighten me out.

Mr. WATKINS. Any Philadelphian working in Delaware County still pays the Philadelphia wage tax. The employee I was speaking of is a resident of Philadelphia who works in Delaware County.

Mr. BARR. You say the gentleman lives in Philadelphia?

Mr. WATKINS. Yes, and he works in Delaware County. In other words, we have a lot of people who could take his place but we like him; he is a Philadelphian and we keep him there. He still pays the tax to Philadelphia even though he works in Delaware County.

Mr. BARR. Well, then this bill will not help him.

Mr. WATKINS. It just keeps another tax on him.

Mr. BARR. Oh, no, if he lives in Philadelphia he is still going to be taxed, is he not?

Mr. WATKINS. Well, so what? He pays three taxes. I do not see the point you are trying to make. I would love to enlighten you.

Mr. BARR. I just think that you have deceived this young man, because I think he thinks that this bill is going to help him.

Mr. WATKINS. You are giving me a grand opportunity to say to you again that I cannot conceive how a Philadelphia Senator can vote for a third income tax, anticipating, of course, that they will vote for a State income tax.

Mr. BARR. I was questioning you. Are you making a statement? I will yield the floor if you want to make another statement.

Mr. WATKINS. I love to talk to you. Go ahead anyway.

Mr. BARR. Well, I would just like to have the Majority Floor Leader realize how closely you stick to the subject. I did not raise a point of order on him.

Mr. WATKINS. Well, I notice how close you people stick to the subject over there, too.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President —

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the gentleman from Crawford rise?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would remind the gentlemen here that the young man who came here several weeks ago, and was quite disappointed with the decorum of the Senate, I understand is present, and I hope that the Senators will be on their very best behavior. We want to more favorably impress this young man if he is still in the audience. I do not know where he is, but the word was given to me that the young man is here and I hope he goes away with a more happy frame of mind than the last time he was here.

Mr. BARR. Your joint is well taken and I hope the young gentleman who is here has readily found out, under the discussion here this afternoon, just how far a man can go with a piece of campaign literature as put out by some committee of some county, or by anyone or any local committee in any county. I heard the gentleman from Delaware say that this was a Leader promise. He knows down in his heart that that is not true, absolutely untrue. That was probably a piece of literature put out by some committee in the county of Delaware for local consumption. I do not blame the gentleman himself for trying to get this tax off of his people in the County of Delaware.

Mr. President, I want to remind the gentleman from Delaware that the President pro tempore of this Senate, Senator M. Harvey Taylor, told me in 1951, when they tried to pass this bill, "We could not go along with this now just because the Democrats are in down in Philadelphia. We never tried to take it off when the Republicans were running the government," he said. I would like for the gentleman from the boudoir county to remember that. If you do not understand what a boudoir county is, I will tell you that Chester, Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware are boudoir counties of Philadelphia. Why, I do not think there would be such a thing as Montgomery County if it were not for Philadelphia County where the people from Montgomery County make their money. Those gorgeous homes and palatial places I see out there in Montgomery County are owned by people who have made their money in the city of Philadelphia. I do not think that I would be entirely wrong in taking a guess that probably ninety-five per cent of the dear Board of Directors of those good large banks in the city of Philadelphia are residents of Bucks, Montgomery, Delaware and Chester County.

Mr. President, the gentleman talked about campaign promises. I would like, Mr. President, not to raise a point of order or anything but in answer to the gentleman from Delaware to read an article. This article is from the Harrisburg Patriot and each week they put out a column entitled, "What Other Papers Say." This article is entitled "GOP and FEPC," and is taken from the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette and reads as follows:

" 'Our correspondent in Harrisburg tells us that after the Fair Employment Practice Commission vote on Tuesday, the ballots were torn, thrown into a wastebasket, and soon drenched in tobacco juice. That unlovely picture is appropriate. It would be perfect if, instead of the ballots, a torn copy of the Republican platform lay in the wastebasket. For once again Republican lawmakers have defeated FEPC in Pennsylvania. This time the defeat came in the Senate Committee on Education by a vote of nine to eight. Nine Republicans upheld the tradition of Republican performance on FEPC by killing the bill for the fifth time in five consecutive sessions of the Assembly. With fine hyprocisy, the Republican State platform has indorsed FEPC since 1946. Fortunately, Pittsburgh is moving ahead on FEPC, even though State Republicans refuse to budge.' "

Mr. President, here is an article taken from the Philadelphia Inquirer and I am going to read part of it:

" 'The knifing of the House approved FEPC bill by a nine man Republican majority is a repudiation of the Republican Party's own platform pledge for an end to racial and religious bias in giving employment. If the bill is to be defeated it ought to be defeated out in the open, not behind closed doors by means of furtive ballots.' "

Now, Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 184, I presume is going to pass and go over to the House and lay dormant in the Committee on Cities of the First Class. Therefore, I am not going to take anymore of your time. If, by chance, this bill should get through the House I think that a number of us over here could talk to the Governor and see that he would veto an unfair piece of legislation such as this bill.

Mr. President, I happen to come from Pittsburgh and we have places where Bob Fleming comes from and Frank Kopriver comes from, and when they come to Pittsburgh we given them good police protection and good fire protection all day long as they come under the jurisdiction of the City of Pittsburgh and they do not pay us anything toward paying this fine police force or toward paving these streets, etc., and we are getting along somehow. However, our situation there is not as bad as it is where the people come from Montgomery, Delaware, Chester and Bucks counties into Philadelphia everyday.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Watkins, in your talk today, you made reference to a name that we Democrats revere, that of Thomas Jefferson, and to his principle regarding no taxation without representation, which was made in 1776.

I ask you now to express an opinion to this Senate. How many people from the Colonies commuted to London, made their living there and then came back to live in Philadelphia or any of the other Colonies?

Mr. WATKINS. I am in no position to know, Mr. President. I do not know how regular the boat schedule was. I cannot answer that.

Mr. President, I would just like to refer back to Senator Dent's figures.

Mr. President, in 1950, John Fine received 87,226 votes in Delaware County; Dilworth received 59,500. In 1954, Lloyd Wood received 98,569; Governor Leader received 68,215. Therefore, as I said before, those figures just fly out of the air over on the other side.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, read the figures back again. Will the gentleman please read the figures again and I will prove to you that Senator Dent's figures were entirely correct

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Would you kindly give me the vote that Fine received and the vote that Dilworth received in 1950?

Mr. WATKINS. Governor Fine, 87,226; Dilworth, 59,500.

Mr. BARR. All right, Governor Leader?

Mr. WATKINS. Governor Leader, 68,215. That is 10,000 more in my book.

Mr. BARR. May I ask you the $64 question? What did Mr. Wood receive?

Mr. WATKINS. I do not know unless I get one dollar of the sixty-four. I am answering an awful lot for nothing over here today.

Mr. BARR. I will give you a dollar, but you cannot answer it. How many votes did Lloyd Wood receive, 98,000?

Mr. WATKINS. Lloyd Wood received 98,569.

Mr. BARR. Did not Senator Dent say that there were 10,000 more votes for the Republicans than there were four years ago? You are both wrong; there were 11,000.

Mr. WATKINS. I said that Senator Leader received 10,000 more votes than Dilworth. I did not use the name of Dilworth, but I knew he picked up 10,000 votes in Delaware County.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. PEELOR. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 866, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 2, 1937 (P. L. 2821), entitled "An act to regulate the sale, and advertising for sale, of goods, wares, and merchandise purporting to be an insurance, bankruptcy mortgage, insolvent, assignees, receivers, trustees, removal, or closing-out sale, or sale of goods damaged by fire, smoke, or water, in cities and certain boroughs of this Commonwealth; and to prevent fraudulent practices in connection therewith, and providing penalties for the violation thereof, and for the imposition of license fees for permission to conduct the same" making the provisions of the act effective in municipalities and townships.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out "section 1" and inserting: "sections 1 and 2"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 16, by striking out the brackets before "CITY" and after "BOROUGH"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 16, by striking out "MUNICIPALITY OR TOWNSHIP" and inserting in lieu thereof: "or from the council of the town or board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township"; Amend bill, page 3, by inserting between lines 17 and 18 the following: "Section 2. Upon application for such license, the applicant shall make a full disclosure, under oath, of the following information: The true name of the owner of the goods to be offered for sale, the name of the operator of the sale if a person other than the true owner, a full and complete detailed and itemized inventory of the quantity, kind, brand name and character of the goods to be offered for sale, and the source from which the goods, wares and merchandise were secured, together with the names and addresses of the last previous owners thereof, which shall be prepared in the following manner: First, a listing of all goods which have been in stock for a period of fifteen days or longer prior to the application for the license; second, a listing of all goods received in stock within the fifteen days immediately preceding the application for the license; third, a listing of all goods which have been ordered and will be placed in stock during the pendency of the sale, the method by which the applicant for the license or the true owner of the goods, if a different person, acquired title to the same, and the reason for the urgent and expeditious disposal thereof. [The said treasurer may require any further information necessary to inform him as to whether such license should be granted, and if any defect appears in the title to the goods, or any false representation is made in such application, the said treasurer may refuse the license.] Upon receipt of the application, the treasurer of any city or borough, the council of the town or board of commissioners, or board of supervisors of the township, may, in his or their discretion, make or cause to be made, an examination, audit or investigation of the applicant and all of the facts contained in said application and inventory in relation to the proposed sale. A license shall be denied or refused if any defect appears in the title to the goods or wares represented or any false representation is made in such application or inventory, or if any one or more of the following facts or circumstances are found to exist:

"(1) That the inventory contains goods, wares or merchandise not purchased by the applicant for resale on bona fide orders without cancellation privileges;

"(2) That the inventory contains goods, wares or merchandise purchased by the applicant on consignment;

"(3) That the applicant, either directly or indirectly, and within one year prior to the date of the filing of the application, has conducted a sale in connection with which he advertised or represented that the sale was an insurance, bankruptcy, mortgage, insolvent, assignees, receivers, trustees, removal or closing-out sale, or sale of goods damages by fire, smoke or water;

"(4) That the applicant has heretofore been convicted of a violation of this act;

"(5) That the goods, wares or merchandise as described in the inventory was transferred or assigned to the applicant prior to the date of the filing of the application and that said transfer or assignment was not made for a valuable and adequate consideration;

"(6) That the inventory contains goods, wares or merchandise purchased by the applicant or added to his stock in contemplation of such sale and for the purpose of selling the same at such sale. For this purpose, any unusual purchase or additions to the stock of such goods, wares and merchandise, made within sixty days prior to the date of the filing of such application, shall be presumptive evidence that such purchase or additions were made in contemplation of such sale, and for the purpose of selling the same at such sale;

"(7) That there is no urgent reason for the expeditious disposal of such wares, goods and merchandise.

"Section 2. The act is amended by adding, after section 2, three new sections to read:

"Section 2.1. After a license has been granted, and it is established that the licensee has violated any provisions of this act, the license shall be revoked immediately.

"Section 2.2. No merchandise shall become the subject of any license, pursuant to this act, if it has not been listed in the application for the license as goods, wares or merchandise in stock or in transit.

"Section 2.3. No merchandise shall become the subject of any sale licensed pursuant to this act if it has previously been the subject of such sale."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 18, by striking out "2" and inserting: "3."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 11, by striking out "3" and inserting: "4";

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 5), page 4, line 13, by inserting a bracket before "ninety" and after "renewable" and inserting immediately thereafter: "thirty consecutive calendar days (Sundays and legal holidays excluded) and may be renewed for a period not exceeding thirty consecutive calendar days, (Sundays and legal holidays excluded): Provided, That a revised inventory is filed showing the items listed on the original inventory remaining unsold, and that no goods, wares or merchandise not included in the original inventory is in stock"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 5), page 4, line 17, by inserting after "treasurer": "of the city or borough, or the council of the town or board of commissioners, or board of supervisors of the township,"; Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 5), page 4, line 18, by inserting after "thereof": "or the renewal thereof."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 2, line 1 of Title, by inserting after "townships" the following: "further regulating statements of inventories, and requiring additional information from applicants for licenses."

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Will you kindly tell us what these amendments do to the bill?

Mr. WATKINS. In my opinion, the amendments just merely put the bill back to where it was. The townships will receive all of the fines, and the State will receive nothing.

Mr. BARR. That is one amendment. What do the other amendments do?

Mr. WATKINS. There are no others that I know of.

Mr. BARR. Thank you very much.

Perhaps Senator Wade will be able to tell me what the other amendments do.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Wade, I know about the one amendment, but there were some others introdced. Will you tell me what they do?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, my understanding is that that is the only amendment included, or that was sent to the desk.

Mr. BARR. Are you positive of that?

Mr. WADE. That is my understanding. I would have to see the amendments.

Mr. BARR. May we be at ease for a moment? ?

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it appears that the gentleman's agreement in the Committee on Highways has been discarded. When we discussed this bill, we agreed that all amendments would be offered at that time and that we would not debate this bill on the floor.

However, Mr. President, it now appears that the Republicans, as usual, have broken their agreement and have gone in with their majority of two votes and invoked the unit rule, which can be readily seen. I think the people around here, who are interested in this legislation, should know that the Republicans are trying to defeat this bill in their usual underhand method, similar to the thing that was done to the trucking industry in the year of 1951 when the bill had passed the Senate and there was a corrective amendment put in the House, and the bill stayed on this Calendar for I think a period of forty days and was finally taken off and voted upon the last day of the Session. Then it laid in the Governor's Office for a period of thirty days, and was vetoed one minute before midnight. I think that the gentlemen of the industry should understand what is going on. I am asking every Member on our side, and I am telling them that the gentlemen's agreement by those on the other side has been broken one hundred per cent. I am asking them to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I want to say that I am a member of the Committee on Highways and I made no such agreement that I would support these amendments without debate. We agreed in committee, as I remember, that we would offer the amendments and they would be brought out. As it happened, they were and the bill was brought out as amended. It passed Second Reading the other day.

Certainly, Mr. President, the members of the Highways Committee, the Republican Members, could make no agreement for the other Senators who are not members of the Committee on Highways, even though they so desired. I surely could not bind any Senator here, who is not a member of that Highways Committee, to some agreement that they would not impose an amendment or put in another amendment on the Second Reading of this bill. Certainly, at any time, any Senator, on Second Reading, may put in an amendment and it can be acted upon This business of saying we are breaking our agreement I think comes in bad grace, and I think it is certainly an untrue statement.

Mr. President, in regard to defeating the bill, I do not think that this defeats the bill at all. There are several Senators—and I do not know how many there will be when this bill comes up for Final Passage tomorrow—who, no doubt, will vote against this bill, as there were House Members who voted against it. It did not pass unanimously in the House of Representatives, as you remember. No doubt, when this bill comes up tomorrow there will be several individual Senators who feel that they should vote against it. There will be no party action either for or against this bill on Final Passage.

Mr. President, what this amendment does is put the fines back to the townships, the same as they do have under the present law. That is, the fines for overloading trucks.

Mr. President, the sponsors of this legislation have stated time and time again that if we pass this legislation, there will be little or no overloading. Therefore, if you divide up zero it would not make much difference whether you get a half or all of it. If it is true that there will not be whole lot of overloading, then the truckers certainly will not have to pay fines and nobody will get any. However, under the present law, the townships get all of the fines and if there is a slight amount of overloading, then if they get all of the increased fines, perhaps they will not get much more than they do now under the present setup.

Another thing I want to bring out, Mr. President, is that the House of Representatives passed this bill giving all of the fines back to the townships and, as you know, the Democrats are certainly in control of the House of Representatives. They must have felt that provision was all right.

Mr. President, if there are any roads going to be damaged by reason of this increase of weights which is provided for in this bill, no doubt it will be the township roads. As you know, in most every instance, the township roads cannot stand as much weight as our modern constructed highways. I am not very fearful of any damage being done to our highways by reason of this legislation. However, there will be instances, if they have overweights, where the township roads will be damaged to some extent by reason of their roads not being able to stand that increase in weight. There may be some township bridges damaged and they, if anybody, will suffer to some extent under this legislation.

Mr. President, we feel rightly that this legislation will be improved if we return the fines to the townships one hundred per cent, the same as the Democratic House of Representatives decided to do. All we are doing by this amendment is returning the bill in regard to the disposition of fines for overweight, to the same form as it was when it left the Democratic controlled House of Representatives. How Senator Barr can now blame any defeat of this bill on the Republicans in the Senate. if we return it to the same form as it left the House, is more than I can understand.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is about the most illogical discussion I have ever heard Senator Mahany make, and he now and then is a little illogical.

Mr. President, I also would like to inform Senator Mahany that he has faulty ears. He was in the committee meeting, and when it started I was talking to Senator Wade. Possibly he is relegating his Chairmen of Committees into being second class Senators. I think he can probably remember that when the discussion came up on the R. S. and T. plates, Senator Dent said that he was going to go to the floor with his argument, and I reminded him that perhaps I had gone a little bit too far. I told him that I had talked with the Chairman of the Committee on Highways and quite a number of the other members, and it was agreed to have all the arguments in the committee room.

Mr. President, as you probably are aware, the legislation, if passed in this Session, would return $12,000,000 more to the different municipalities in gasoline refunds. I think that the boroughs and townships are very much interested in this.

The gentleman from Titusville, Senator Mahany, said that there aren't going to be any fines and now he says there are going to be fines.

He is talking out of both sides of his mouth, and I would say there are going to be fines because there is no one who knows anything about the trucking business who does not know that someone now and then does overload. I say that the thing will be cut down considerably.

I am trying to stop, in some of these boroughs and townships, this kickback situation which exists. I know, from my own knowledge or from the knowledge of one who is not in my Senatorial District, but right near Allegheny County, where certain truck companies had to send a check to a certain borough every week of their busines life. If you are for that type of government, Senator Mahany, all right; I am not. I am trying to clean up a situation which should not exist. I think the boroughs and townships are more anxious to get their $12,000,000 back than they are in your silly amendment which you just put in the bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to state for the record that I suppose, over the years, I have battled harder and longer for an equitable truck bill than most Members have and I have on some occasions been soundly spanked by my constituents because they believed that it was wrong. However, I have never left the hope of attainment of political office stand in the way when I felt that anything was right or wrong. I have tried, over my young life, to do those things which I think are right, regardless of the consequences. I have believed for a great many years that all barriers ought to be dismantled in this great country of ours. I have always felt that the free trade was the principle upon which this great nation was founded and upon which it prospered. I believe that restrictive covenants between States will be the downfall of this great Country, and is even more dangerous that the threat of outside enemies.

Mr. President, I think that the principle involved in government is what sustains a government. We have, over the years, believed that our neighbors, to the west and to the south and to the east and to the north, are equal citizens in this great Country and some of us have tried to keep from having barriers and restraints of trade.

Mr. President, this bill before us is another effort to give Pennsylvania truckers equity in their business, which is a legitimate business.

Mr. President, how many townships do you know of in the State of Pennsylvania that have weight, scales on township roads? The township roads which we are crying for are not busted up by trucks. The only time that any heavy truck goves over a township road is when it has to deliver a load that somebody residing in that township has ordered. In most instances, and in ninety-nine and ninety-nine one hundredth per cent of the cases, the trucks that haul the heavy durable goods and the commodities to and from other States pass over the State roads of this great Commonwealth. Yes, there are some townships which take advantage of the law, but it was wrong. It was wrong in the beginning and just because it was wrong in the beginning, do we now have to continue it?

Mr. President, I have talked to a great many Senators on the otherside, and I do not believe in exposing men's desires on legislation when they are compelled by a unit rule to do otherwise, but I know that it is wrong. It is wrong to compel people. I do not try to compel the Members of our Caucus to do anything. We never take a unit rule vote. If I can persuade them by my arguments, they will follow me and if I cannot persuade them, they will not follow me. If they think that I am wrong, they will vote against me. I know at least seven Republican Senators who have told me that all of the fines ought to be taken from the townships, and what are we trying to do about it? We are not trying to take the money from these fines from the townships and not compensate them for it. We are hoping to give the $12,000,000 out of the increased licenses that are in this truck bill. It started out with $18,000,000 and then, because someone raised the flag of the national farmer in our faces, we allowed 350,000 trucks on the R. S. and T. to be taken out of the bill and no licenses were increased for them. The farmers only had 32,000 or 33,000 trucks out of the 350,000 but because someone plead for the farmers, I desisted on the floor from making the argument in favor of the increased licenses.

What do we intend to do? There were $18,000,000 worth of increased license fees and we intend, Mr. President, to take $12,000,000, as a minimum of that money, and give it back to all of the townships in Pennsylvania; the decent townships which do not lay traps out on the main highways, the townships which try to operate on their system of government with the rightful taxes that are contained in their laws. We have townships which put into their budgets anticipated amounts which they are going to get from overloads and fines for speeding. We have thirty miles of road between two big cities, which I could mention, that are four lane roads listed at fifty miles an hour and out of the thirty miles, only four miles, Mr. President, can be travelled at a speed of over thirty-five miles an hour. One township has sixteen policemen on full time, and they have to trap so many motorists on their way to work or home from work because it is a main artery for the men going to the town. These are the things which we are trying to correct. Let us set aside partisanship for a minute. Let us fail, for a moment, to try to gain a partisanship advantage over each other. Let us act as the ministers who come before us, the chaplains who hopefully pray every day that we will act at least once in a day's work, as Members of the General Assembly, in behalf of all the people.

Mr. President, this is a small insignificant thing, you say. It is not small nor is it insignificant. It is a matter of principle on whether we believe that this is right or wrong. Now, I say to all you Senators over there, those of you who have talked to me over the many months that we have known each other, if all of a sudden you honestly believe in this principle of return to the townships for fines, then vote your convictions and vote for this bill.

Mr. President, I am still of the same opinion as I have always been, that it is wrong; that it is wrong to entice people to break the rules of good government. It is wrong to allow that, because some faulty law was passed to set up a trap which endangers the welfare of a great segment of our population.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am going to vote "no" on the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Berger,	Kessler,	Peelor,	Wade,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Propert,	Wagner,

The Senate adjourned at 6:45 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, June 21, 1955, at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 20, 1955.

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair announces with profound sorrow the death of a former Speaker of the House of Representatives, The Honorable Ira T. Fiss, on Saturday, June 18, 1955, at the Geisinger Hospital, Danville, Pa.

As a mark of respect to his memory, the Chair requests that, at the conclusion of the Prayer by the Chaplain, we remain standing in silence until the gavel sounds.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God, the Father of all mankind and the Maker of all things, make this moment a real experience for each one of us in this place as we call upon Thee for guidance and help.

Bless, most merciful God, these watchmen of freedom and liberty. In this day when it is not popular to be a watchman give them the strength and courage and faith to unfurl the flag of truth and righteousness. Give them the insight to understand that democracy is not so much an economic structure or a political machine as it is a spiritual testament. That freedom is inescapably joined with human wants, food, work, education and opportunity.

O God, help each representative to take his place in the pattern of democracy, lift up his or her voice of protest and to sound the trumpets for freedom and liberty. To be watchful of intolerance, of economic and social conditions which breed resentment and clevage, to be watchful of the domination of social, political and economic servitude.

Give us, O God, the grace today to think not what can we get out of it, but what can we put into it. We ask these things in Thine own name and for Thy sake, even Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Wednesday, June 8, Monday, June 13, Tuesday, June 14 and Wednesday, June 15, 1955? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOUTION No. 93.

In the House of Representatives, June 15, 1955.

The race for supremacy in armaments which exists today generates a condition of continual unrest among nations. It also requires enormous expenditures of funds which could accomplish much if directed into peaceful channels; therefore be it

Resolved, That in order to make conflicts among nations less probable and to enable the use of funds for the happiness and advancement of mankind, and not for its destruction, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania advocates the total disarmament of all nations of the world, with adequate and periodic inspections by the United Nations to insure compliance therewith, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower; to the Prime Minister of Great Britain, Sir Anthony Eden; to the Premiere of France, Edgar Faure; to the Premier of Russia, Mikolai Bulganin; and to the Secretary General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Resolution Serial No. 121. as follows:

In the Senate, March 30, 1955.

The equitable distribution of the waters of the Delaware River among the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware that abut the river has been a subject of controversy for years.

The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River a few years ago made a study and presented a plan for the diversion and use of the waters of the Delaware, which plan was ratified and adopted by the states of New York, New Jersey and Delaware, but has not been ratified by Pennsylvania.

Pursuant to litigation before it, the Supreme Court of the United States has entered an order defining the rights in the Delaware River water.

In the light of this order and in an effort to proceed thereunder the state of New Jersey has adopted legislation intended to form a basis of a compact with Pennsylvania for the building of dams and reservoirs and the diversion, storage and use of water therefrom. The law adopted by New Jersey by its terms is contingent upon the acceptance of its provisions by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on or before the first day of July, 1955.

A bill is now pending in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the purpose of which is to accept the proposal of the state of New Jersey for the allocation of water rights between these two states.

Question has been raised whether or not the proposal made by New Jersey is advantageous to this Commonwealth and whether the members of Pennsylvania's General Assembly are sufficiently acquainted with the facts involved to pass judgment at this time, therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That a Study Commission be created consisting of seven members, 3 of whom shall be Senators appointed by the President pro tempore, 3 of whom shall be Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, and one of whom shall be a citizen of Pennsylvania, not a member of the General Assembly appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealth, and that it shall be the duty of the committee to study and examine the various plans developed for the distribution of water from the Delaware River and the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United thereon, as well as the effect of the legislation adopted by the State of New Jersey and the proposed acceptance thereof by Pennsylvania. The committee shall confer with the legislative committee and other proper persons in the states of New Jersey, New York and Delaware and shall resolve the problem equitably and impartially to all of the states affected, and be it further

Resolved, That the commission make a report with its recommendation to the Governor and to each house of the General Assembly as soon as possible.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leaves of absence were granted as follows:

Mr. Ogilvie for Mr. MOODY for today due to death in his family.

Mr. Stebbins for Mr. RUDISILL.

Section 15 Effective Date This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I request that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, explain just what the bill does?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Westmoreland,

Mr. Lovett, requests the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, to explain exactly what this bill does.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I shall be glad to oblige the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

This bill is aimed at the practice of price cutting technique which seems to exist in certain parts of the Commonwealth.

Section 3 provides that selling at a lower price in different sections of the same community with intent to injure or destroy business of a competitor is illegal.

Section 4 provides that prima facie evidence is proof of different prices in different sections of the same community.

Section 5 prohibits selling at less than cost with intent to injure or destroy a competitor.

In other words, the bill is aimed at the reduction of the monopolistic practices that apparently exist in some sections, which are inspired by the large outfits that control the distribution. This is a bill that may mean the survival of the little business man who runs the gas station on the corner. I hope all the Members of the House will vote for the bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. In this connection, Mr. Speaker, I wonder how many Members of the House read the editorial in Life Magazine last week. For your benefit I am going to read it. It is a short one.

> "Fair trade" is dying and few will weep for it It was never 'fair' in the first place, and did more to hinder trade than to help it. In case you've forgotten, we're talking about the various state laws, authorized by federal law, which let manufacturers fix the retail prices of their products without violating antitrust laws. The idea behind it—one alien to all the principles of U. S. salesmanship and competition—was that if everybody charged the same price then nobody would need to sell any harder than anybody else, and sloths would be on the same footing as beavers.
> "That sort of thing was able to work, after a fashion, in the depression that gave it birth, and also in the scarcity markets during and after the war. But fixed prices cannot be enforced in an economy that is free, competitive and abundant. The mushrooming of discount houses, selling appliances anywhere from 20% to 35% below "list," proved it. Many manufacturers privately winked at the violations. U. S. merchandising was acquiring some of the earmarks of prohibition—if you had a card and could prove your identity to "Charlie," he would sell you an aged-in-wood T. V. set at a bargain.
> U. S. Department stores, which tried to obey the fair trade minimums, suffered to the point where they were doing less business in many cities than discount houses. Many department stores began competing with discount houses by slashing prices in self-defense. Moreover, manufacturers who used to bring frequent suits to police their prices, have recently lost some court decisions and have just about called off their lawyers. And now the Attorney General's committee on the antitrust laws has condemned the whole 'fair trade' system and urged repeal of the federal enabling act.
> One result is that U. S. department stores as a whole this year have had a phenomenal recovery in total sales and in profits. Another is that the discount houses are learning to offer department store service. Another is that consumers are getting more bargains all around. And that's just dandy. Goody, fair trade, and good riddance.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 19 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to oppose House Bill 907, and for that purpose I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Which sponsor?

Mr. McCORMACK. Anyone who is willing to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Does anyone of the sponsors desire to submit to interrogation?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I am not a sponsor but if there are any questions which Mr. McCormack would like to ask I hope that I can answer them for him.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, satisfy the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well that is quite all right. I withdraw my request to interrogate one of the sponsors, and I will proceed. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman withdraws his request to interrogate one of the sponsors.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this bill in my opinion is so bad that I can very well understand why I can not get someone to be interrogated.

As you know, Mr. Speaker, we have on the books a law in Pennsylvania regulating certified public accountants. This was an Act passed by the legislature in 1947. The Act sets up a board, among other things, and it similarly prescribes the subject, manner, time and place of the examination. This Act of 1947 regulating accountants provides among other things that a written examination shall be conducted in commercial law as affecting public accountants, and in general accounting, including theory of accounts, accounting practice, auditing and taxation. This bill before us today purports to give an examination and the wording used in this bill is identical to the wording of the 1947 Act which I have just quoted.

I shall read Section 10, subsection 2, of the Act which provides, inter alia, that such examinations shall be held at least twice in each calendar year and simultaneously in at least two counties of the Commonwealth, and it shall be a written examination in commercial law affecting public accounting, and in general accounting, including the theory of accounts, accounting practice, auditing and taxation.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I ask, in view of the similarity and the identical wording, what is the purpose of this bill? What is the necessity of it?

I submit to you that the purpose of this bill is to accredit a small grup of individuals who either do not want to take the certified public accountant examination or who are just indifferent, but, nevertheless, they want to be licensed.

Do they want to take an examination before they get that license? No sir, Mr. Speaker, they want the state to accredit them as licensed public accountants without any demonstration whatsoever of their qualifications, so that they can parade before the public a sign "licensed by the state."

Not only that, but after this law is passed, they do not want that same right to be given to anybody else who desires to practice public accounting. The Act specifically precludes anybody else from practicing public accounting in this Commonwealth unless he takes the examination. So that the situation is this: today, by virtue of sections of this Act before us, anyone practicing public accounting and who is twenty-one years of age and a resident of the Commonwealth, and a citizen of the United States, and who has been practicing accounting for some prescribed minimum period, on the payment of the $25 fee is given a license. He does not have to take a written examination to demonstrate his qualifications.

After this law is in effect for one year then these same gentlemen who would be licensed by the state can say to anyone else who might want to practice public accounting: "you cannot practice in this Commonwealth unless you take a written examination," the same examination, I submit, Mr. Speaker, that the certified public accountants had to take before they were certified by this Commonwealth.

I have letters from reputable firms in this Commonwealth who are opposed to the bill, too numerous to mention.

I would like to get into the record the fact that the Credit Men's Association of Eastern Pennsylvania is unalterably opposed to it. Similarly the Robert Morris Associates, the National Association of Bank Loan Officers and Credit Men are opposed to it.

So many business interests, labor unions, financial institutions, depend on statements from certified public accountants, that this would indeed be dangerous for this Commonwealth to license the small group of men who have given no demonstration whatsoever of their competency.

This bill is at the most a duplication of effort. It is absolutely unnecessary. There is not one good thing in this bill that merits our passing and voting favorably on it.

I, therefore, ask this House to seriously think about the bill, and I am sure they will agree with me that the bill should be voted down.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a slow roll call.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will recognize the Members who wish to speak in the order in which they have filed their requests to be heard. Then the Chair will recognize others.

Mr. NAUGLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to House Bill 907. Before giving my reasons for opposing this bill, I want to make it clear that I am not a certified public accountant, neither am I a public accountant. I am not even a good bookkeeper, but I see in this bill a deliberate attempt to down-grade the minimum standard of requirements for the profession of accountants. Down-grading of competency would certainly be ill-timed in a period when it is required of certified public accountants to expand their proficiency by constant study through the facilities of post-graduate courses in order to keep abreast with the times and in tune with our fast-changing commercial laws in this Commonwealth.

Remember, also, it will not be the CPA who will suffer if this bill should become law. He will still be able to command a reasonable wage for his service. It will be the average citizen who needs the services of an accountant who will be hurt. He will get a lower standard of quality for the price he pays. Reference could be made to many instances of bitter experiences as a result of inexperienced and incompetent accountants. Several very expensive court cases in my districts came as a result of the lack of knowledge of our commercial laws and their application to the profession of accounting.

If House Bill 907 becomes law, it will kill the incentive of many students of accounting and minimize their zeal and inner drive to attain their goal and to succeed. The present Certified Public Accountant Law maintains standards which are high enough to protect the integrity of the profession and provide adequate protection for members of the public who require their services. These standards are attainable by intelligent men and women who will do a reasonable amount of study and work to pass the examination.

In my estimation it is just as important to maintain a high standard of requirements to become a certified public accountant as it is to maintain a high standard of requirements to become a medical doctor, a surgeon, a nurse, a real estate broker, a barber or a lawyer.

I am sure that if anyone of you were called into court in this state as a defendant in a sizeable libel suit, you would hire a competent lawyer to defend you and not a law student from one of our law schools; nor would you employ your local justice of peace or magistrate, who, by the way, is also supposed to know something about law. If you wanted to purchase or sell a piece of real estate which would involve your life savings, I am sure you would employ a real estate broker who is competent and ethical in his profession and not a fast talking fly-by-night salesman. If you become ill and needed the services of a surgeon, I am sure you would not put your life in the hands of another person unless you were sure that he attained his knowledge and experience as a surgeon by submitting himself to a rigid standard of qualifications as a minimum requirement to becoming licensed in his profession.

There are times that you and I, because of necessity, need the services of an accountant to prescribe a remedy for our economic or financial ills, and believe me when I say that economic and financial illnesses can be just as painful an an injury or illness to our body. For best results we naturally employ someone who, by meeting the minimum requirements of the profession, has been designated by our state examining board to be qualified to diagnose our case and prescribe the proper remedy.

How can a public accountant demonstrate fitness to serve the general public of this Commonwealth without examination?

In what way will the public benefit by an act which would lead to the licensing of approximately 5,000 part time and full time bookkeepers masquerading as expert licensed public accountants?

Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants has a membership of over 2,500, and the organization which is sponsoring this piece of legislation has a membership of only 262. Why legislate a special privilege to 262 unproven and untested bookkeepers under the grandfather clause and give them an unearned rating as licensed public accountants?

After licensing, who will pay for the extensive policing of every licensed public accountant where no ethical standards prevail?

This legislation would definitely not be in the public interest. In my opinion, the present law which covers the practice of accounting and the administration of that law are satisfactory and legislation such as the proposed in House Bill 907 would be destructive and also detrimental to the economic welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania.

I, therefore, urge every Member here today to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, my good friend and colleague, Mr. McCormack, mentioned a few points a short while ago that there would be no need for House Bill 907 since the enactment of the 1947 law requiring CPA's to take an examination.

Mr. Speaker, my friend, Mr. McCormack, forgets many important factors in this case. He forgets those accountants that have anywhere from three to twenty-five years' experience behind them that are unable to apply or qualify for CPA's license due to the fact that they do not have the necessary requirements to apply for them.

If the Members of this House will recall, last session there was a bill in this House sponsored or requested by the CPA's of Pennsylvania requiring that in order to apply for the CPA examination you must be with a certified public accountant's office for at least eight years.

Now, think back a few moments and recall that bill. When are we going to give our boys a chance to break into the accounting field, the CPA field. if we do not start today?

House Bill 907 is a harmless bill as far as the CPA's are concerned. All it does is put the public accountant under the guidance of a public accountant board and allow them to set up the rules and regulations.

Someone mentioned about policing the licensing of public accountants. How are we policing the thousands of licenses we have issued to barbers, beauticians and the many more professions we have in the state of Pennsylvania? I can go on for the next twenty minutes pointing out the various good features of this bill, but time is growing short, many of us are getting hungry.

I ask the Members of this House to use their good judgment in voting on this bill and vote in favor of it.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the pleasure of interrogating the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I shall accord the gentleman the privilege which I was denied when I came on the floor and asked the same question.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I resent that crack. I will tell you why. When the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, got up I took it for granted that he was going to be interrogated by the gentleman. I was up at the same time but was not recognized.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will not quarrel with each other, but address their questions to the Chair.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Vaughan, for the purpose of interrogating the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if CPA laws provide for compulsory regulation?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, in what respect? I am sorry, I don't understand the question.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, in this particular bill it is compulsory, the regulation of accounts is compulsory, and I will answer the question for the gentleman, in the CPA bill, it is not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I can answer it now. The Certified Public Accountant Law certifies only those who qualify for the examination. Those who fail the examination, Mr. Speaker, are still allowed to practice within this Commonwealth without any fear of being enjoined from doing so by the state. This bill would have the opposite effect. Anyone who did not pass under this bill would not be allowed to practice accountancy within this Commonwealth.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, a further question. It it a fact that all of these types of licenses come under the grandfather clause rule, the standard grandfather clause rule?

Mr. McCORMACK. I am not too familiar with grandfather clauses, Mr. Speaker, but if I understand the gentleman correctly, I think the clause would permit those who are already engaged in doing something to come within the provisions without the necessity of taking examinations. Is that correct?

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, was the standard grandfather clause in the CPA bill?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, if that is what is meant by the frandfather clause, I believe that was.

As I said before, I am not too familiar with the grandfather clause, but if it was in the CPA law, which, I believe, was first enacted in 1899, the regulation of accountants within this Commonwealth then I think it was a bad feature and it should not have been in there. I say it should not be in this bill, and that is one of the terribly bad features about the bill, because we cannot determine the competency of those who would be licensed by the Commonwealth.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, for Mr. McCormack's information, the standard grandfather clause was in the CPA bill and, furthermore. as you know, the CPA law does not provide for compulsory regulation of public accountants.

If House Bill 907 is enacted into law, anyone possessing a certificate to practice the profession of public accountancy must either possess a CPA certificate or acquire a license as provided in House Bill 907.

To go a little further, Mr. Robert McAllister, a Pittsburgh attorney and lecturer at the Robert Morris School of Accounting, has stated that fifty per cent of the Pittsburgh CPA's are in favor of this bill, as it does not harm any CPA. It does regulate the profession. It will benefit the public by setting standards that will have to be met.

Further, Albert Raismen, instructor at Duquesne University School of Accounting, has informed us that all the instructors at the school are in favor of this bill. Many Pittsburgh attorneys who practice in Federal tax work are very much in favor of House Bill 907.

This bill does not take anything away from the CPA's. You would still need a certified public accountant to certify to an audit.

Mr. Speaker, at this time I would like to yield to my colleague, Mr. Goldstein, for a few remarks.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. During the last several weeks we have been belabored by proponents of this bill and by opponents of the bill. It is somewhat of a civil war among them.

I do not think that we as legislators should view the legislation before us in that aspect. We should think of it from the standpoint of the average citizen of the state of Pennsylvania. Those of us who represent small businessmen, those of us who know people who are of modest means, are absolutely aware of the fact that these people cannot afford a certified public accountant.

Today thousands of people in the state of Pennsylvania are subject to the auditing and bookkeeping of people who are not competent. We feel that this legislation is a police measure, it is a regulatory measure which should be enacted for the benefit of the average business man and the average citizen.

If this legislation is enacted, in accordance with the definition of the act no one can practice public accountancy unless he is qualified, either by passing an examination or by the fact that he has been a public accountant as a principal occupation for a period of three years. This will not interfere with the profession of the certified public accountant, it will merely make it possible for people who are practicing public accountancy today in a legitimate manner to continue so to practice.

To revert to my original statement, let us examine this legislation from the standpoint of the definition of public accountancy, and the Act reads as follows:

> "A public accountant includes any person who holds himself out to the public as one who is skilled in the knowledge and science of accountancy and is qualified and ready to render service as a public accountant."

The citizens of Pennsylvania need the average public accountant, they need his help, they cannot get it from the certified public accountant. We should pass this legislation so they will be protected from people who do not know accountancy.

I say to you, this is not a fight between the CPA and the PA, it is a fight for the average citizens of Pennsylvania.

I ask the people on both sides of the aisle to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, for a good many years, I have used the words in this House, "Let's be fair."

This particular bill that we have before us, to my mind, is the "let's be fair" bill of this session of the Legislature. The CPA's in Pennsylvania three years ago passed seventeen per cent of those who took the examination, two years ago they passed eleven per cent; and last year they passed ten per cent. Now there must be a lot of people in Pennsylvania who are practicing public accounting, and I see no reason why those people should not be licensed and given some place to hang their hats since the CPA's continually refuse to let them be CPA's.

I think this is a fair bill and the Members of the House should support it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I just have one or two questions I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. If I am in order, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether or not he is an attorney and is a member of the Bar of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Do you believe, Mr. Speaker, that an attorney who fails to pass the bar examinations should be permitted to practice and should be licensed by the state?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall not answer that question "yes" or "no," as I want to have the right of explanation. I would say, no, but I will tell you this, nobody is practicing law in the state of Pennsylvania who is not licensed and who is not capable, insofar as we know. However, there are thousands of people practing accountancy who are not licensed and who are capable.

This bill will enable the state to regulate them and, therefore, we will not have any unlicensed and unregulated accountants because under this bill, just as the insurance act provides, the pharmacy act, the barber act, and many other acts, it is a matter of regulation. The public must be protected, and this act will protect the public.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny mentioned, I believe, that the definition within this bill is those persons who are skilled in the knowledge and science of accountancy, or words to that effect, I would ask the gentleman what demonstration of the knowledge and science of accountancy would have to be shown in order for people who are now practicing accountancy to be licensed by the state?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides that any person who has gained his livelihood, as a principal occupation, for a period of three years as a public accountant, or has been in the office of a public accountant for three years, and other features in there, is ipso facto entitled to a license. This is common to any grandfather clause in the state of Pennsylvania. When we have any legislation creating a new group, we always have the grandfather clause.

Mr. McCORMICK. A point of order, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not answering the question. I asked a question, I asked the gentleman what demonstration of the knowledge and science of accountancy must these persons possess who would be licensed by the state.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman does not raise a point of order, he simply disagrees with the answer.

Mr. McCORMACK. I withdraw my point of order, Mr. Speaker.

I would like to state that we are giving a license if we pass this bill, to everybody who purports to be practicing public accountancy regardless of the definition. The important feature of this bill is that anybody who does not pass this examination after the law is in effect a year is precluded, prevented from practicing accountancy. There is nothing in the bill that would require the Board to give an examination to public accountants that is inferior in any way to the examination required for certified public accountants. So you will have a situation where after these gentlemen, these couple hundred or so, would come in and get a license without taking any examination. An examination could be given that is just as tough or tougher than a certified public accountant's examination, and, if the person could not pass it, he would not be allowed to practice.

For that reason, Mr. Speaker, it is an unfair bill and I ask the House to vote it down.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCOMACK?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, if I were to take my bar examinations and fail, could I practice law after I failed my examination?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, you could as long as they did not find you out.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, desire to be recognized? The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, does not desire to be recognized.

Mr. THOMAS H. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to speak today, but it seems to me that the debate between Mr. McCormack and Mr. Goldstein has brought out what to me is the main reason for voting against the bill.

It has been a policy of the law, and of legislation generally, to prevent what is called in the law "confusion of goods." For example, in choosing a corporate name you cannot call yourself General Motor Corporation, or something like that, because somebody got in ahead of you. Similarly, we have trade-mark and trade-name laws, and by the same token we also have licensing laws.

It seems to me when Mr. Goldstein said that, should we have different classes of lawyers, he pointed out that here are people who are not practicing law without a license. It seems to me in the present situation, if we permitted lawyers who had one year of law school and then had worked a year in a lawyer's office to have a license, let us say as a junior lawyer, or something of that nature, we would have a very similar situation to that which this bill seeks to create.

In other words, I think as far as public policy is concerned what this bill does is to confuse the public in regards to the competency of the certified public accountant. The certified public accountant today has developed a certain amount of public prestige, in accountancy, as he has practiced that profession it has a current meaning in terms of knowledge and value. When you start licensing different classes of people who are doing exactly the same type of thing and one class has a widely varying background over the other class with far less knowledge, I think your only result will be to confuse the public.

I therefore submit that the House on both sides should vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrance Nos. 179, 184, 235, 262, 365, 366 and 493.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 977, Printer's No. 462

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1078, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," authorizing the use of school buildings as meeting places for governmental and quasi-governmental bodies, agencies and authorities created by law for municipal purposes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 775), page 2, lines 16 to 20, by striking out "and shall permit for" in line 16 and all of lines 17 to 20.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 775), page 3, line 1, by striking out all of said line and inserting in lieu thereof "and shall permit the use of any school building for holding official meetings of the governing authorities of corporate or politic governmental or quasi-governmental bodies created by authority of any act of assembly. The use thereof shall not interfere with school programs and shall be subject to reasonable rules and regulations adopted by the board of school directors."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1219, as follows:

An Act amending the act of August 5, 1932 (P. L. 45), entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy, assess and collect, or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of, certain additional taxes for general revenue purposes; authorizing the establishment of bureaus, and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced," reserving, under certain conditions, the legality of taxes imposed by any city of the first class, notwithstanding the imposition of similar taxes by the State.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities and Counties—First Class for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Verona. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. VERONA. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Regarding House Bill 1219?

Mr. VERONA. 1219? No.

The SPEAKER. We are now on page 29 of the calendar, considering House Bill 1219.

Mr. VERONA. All right, I will wait but the time is coming, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1294, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 24 1939 (P L 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" regulating the advertising and offering for sale of merchandise commodities and services

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section 857 act of June 24 1939 (P L 872) known as "The Penal Code" is amended and the act is amended by adding after section 857 a new section to read

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1342, Printer's No. 429,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1392, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 10 1939 (P L 111) entitled "An act relating to and providing for the promotion and development of business industry and commerce in the Commonwealth conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Commerce and other agencies of the Commonwealth abolishing the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission terminating the terms of its members and conferring its powers upon and transferring and appropriating the balance of its current appropriation to the Department of Commerce and repealing certain laws" granting to and imposing certain powers and duties on the Department of Commerce relating to planning programs assistance and other work heretofore administered by the State Planning Board and transferring records and equipment relative thereto

Section 1 Section 2 act of May 10 1939 (P L 111) known as the "Commerce Law" is amended to read

Section 2 For several years an acute economic emergency has existed in certain parts of this Commonwealth threatening the health public safety welfare and future prosperity of the people Thousands of our citizens are without employment through no fault of their own and appropriations required for their assistance are a heavy burden on the Commonwealth and her people Such economic conditions demand the adoption of a public policy and an administrative program to alleviate these conditions and prevent their recurrence which can be remedied only as business industry and commerce are encouraged rehabilitated developed and expanded and only as the Commonwealth's communities and regions solve their physical development problems and make themselves attractive convenient and economical areas in which to live and work [Since no department of the State government is now devoted to the solution of these conditions it] It is necessary that a department be empowered to effectuate such a program Accordingly the powers and duties hereinafter enumerated in this act are vested in the Department of Commerce

Section 2 Section 3 of the act amended July 7 1941 (P. L. 275) is amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read

Section 3 The Department of Commerce shall have the power and its duty shall be

(13) To provide planning assistance and to do planning work including surveys land use studies urban renewal plans technical services and other elements of comprehensive planning programs in and for any counties cities boroughs townships towns or regions and for this purpose to accept and utilize any funds personnel or other assistance made available by the Federal government or any of its agencies or made available from any other source public or private and notwithstanding the provisions of any other law and for the purposes of receiving and using Federal planning grants for provision of urban planning assistance to serve as the official State planning agency of the Commonwealth and to these ends to enter into agreements or contracts regarding the acceptance or utilization of such funds or assistance for any of the purposes authorized by this act

Section 3 The act is amended by adding after section 7 thereof a new section to read

Section 7.1 All contracts classified data files maps air photographs and equipment heretofore used by the State Planning Board in the exercise of the functions transferred herewith from the Board to the Department of Commerce are hereby transferred to the Department of Commerce

Section 4 This act shall take effect immediately.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

INTERROGATION

Mr. VERONA asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VERONA. Three weeks ago I asked the Majority Floor Leader a question. I gave him two weeks instead of two days in which to answer. It is now a week over that time. Can he or can't he answer the question—And I hope that is good English?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker. Will the gentleman restate his question?

Mr. VERONA. Is Governor Leader's income tax bill constitutional or unconstitutional?

Mr. READINGER. I tried to answer the gentleman, as I recall, the last time he interrogated me. I told him that in my opinion, in the opinion of the Attorney General, and in the opinion of many other persons, the Leader tax program, if he is referring to the classified income tax, is constitutional.

Mr. VERONA. I thank the gentleman.

I would like to address the House, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. VERONA asked and obtained unanimous consent to adress the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have a letter here addressed to me, which says:

Dear Sir: Sometime ago proposed tax bills S-47 and S-48 were before the State Legislature for consideration. While these bills have apparently gone by the board, my sentiments expressed in the attached editorial are applicable to Governor Leader's newly proposed tax bill.

We are completing our 50th year of operations in Pennsylvania and certainly we are qualified as a stable industry. Further tax penalties could upset this stability and cause our company, as many others have done, to seek more cooperative climates.

Now, I have a photostatic copy of a letter that anybody in this House can look at and read. It is from Jackson, Mississippi, and is as follows:

"Gentlemen: I shall be in your area from March 6th to March 27th and would like to arrange for an appointment with you at your convenience. The purpose of my call will be to tell you of the industrial opportunities and advantages offered by Mississippi to companies such as Parish Pressed Steel Company, Reading, Pa.

Certainly I would want to call your attention to Mississippi's Balance Agriculture with Industry plan which can provide plant buildings to your specifications, in the locations best suited to your needs, on a long term lease basis, at actual cost.

Gentlemen, this letter is addressed to Parrish Pressed Steel Company of the city of Reading where our Majority Floor Leader resides.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I have been read and reread out of the party. I do not know if am in the party or not. In fact, I do not know which side to sit on half of the time when I walk in here. But I know one thing, that my first term was in 1941, and I came here as a Democrat and I will leave as a Democrat. That's more than a lot of Members in this House can say. I didn't come here as a Republican or an Independent. I came here as a Democrat and I will stay a Democrat, and when I leave this House I will look in the sun, if it is daylight, or I will look at the stars if it's night time and I will still be a Democrat. As far as Governor Leader's wage tax is concerned, it is like Charlie Smith over there says, "Who are you kidding?"

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. HARVEY P. MURRAY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 20, 1955.

Death has brought to a close the long and distinguished career of the Honorable Ira T. Fiss, former Member and Speaker of the House of Representatives. Mr. Fiss had been in ill health and a patient in the Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville, Pa., since May 20th, when he suffered a heart attack. He passed away at 5 P. M. Saturday, June 18, at the age of 66.

Ira T. Fiss was born in Shamokin Dam on November 7, 1888, the son of R. C. and Utica (Gemberlind) Fiss. He attended the public schools, Bucknell Academy, and Susquehanna University. Mr. Fiss was a contractor until his recent retirement, and for many years was also engaged in the sand and gravel business. He served as a member of the General State Authority, the Joint state Government Commission, and the State Council of Defense. A life-long resident of Shamokin Dam, he was the first Burgess of that community, and also served a second term. He was a member of the Grange, the Masonic Lodge and Consistory, State Master of Forms of the P. O. S. of A., a member of the Lutheran Church of Shamokin Dam, and Sunday School Superintendent for 39 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna A. Hottenstein.

Ira T. Fiss was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1936 and continuously re-elected to serve until 1948. During the 1943 and 1945 sessions he made an enviable record as Speaker of the House. The quiet dignity, unruffled temper, and simple honesty of Ira Fiss served as a calming influence and enabled him to conduct the sessions over which he presided in a smooth and peaceful manner. Mr. Fiss posessed and exercised all of the qualities of an expert leader which, combined with his integrity and complete impartiality, his friendly manner and his kind understanding, made him a man truly worthy of the highest acclaim; a man the memory of whom will always live on in our hearts, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives express their deepest sympathy in the loss to his family and to our Commonwealth of Ira T. Fiss; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted, under the seal of the House, to Mrs. Ira T. Fiss, Shamokin Dam, Pa.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, For a number of years past, the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader, was a spokesman of the majority of this House and was recognized as such. Earlier in this session he was spokesman for the brain trust of the minority and I recognized him as such. Recently he has been promoted and now speaks for his party.

At the risk of being accused of misquoting, I believe the Minority Leader has recently made a statement that His Excellency, the Governor, was guilty of arrogance and if the Governor would come off his high horse and crawl on his hands and knees to the Minority Leader and several other people for whom he speaks that they might, consent to go along and discuss things with him.

Now, I think that the Minority Leader has chosen the wrong word in his description of his Excellency, the Governor. The antonym for arrogance is humility. And in my opinion our Governor is a humble person. I think the Minority Leader has mistaken courage and forthright honesty, and is calling it arrogance. It is my personal opinion that the arrogance in this particular instance would lie with the Minority Leader and those of his colleagues who say to us today: "Mr. Governor, if you will get on your hands and knees and crawl to us, we'll do something maybe to help you out."

I think personally, the Minority Leader and his colleagues are going about this state making statements which they themselves know are not true and which they themselves do not believe in.

It has come to my attention through the newspapers that the brain trust suggests a 20 percent cut across the board. I am quite satisfied that the Minority Leader would not recommend to this House, nor would he recommend to the people of Pennsylvania, that we cut teachers salaries by 20 per cent. I am also certain that the Minority Leader and those with whom he appears on television programs would not recommend a cut of 20 per cent to state aided hospitals. I am quite certain that he would not recommend a 20 per cent cut in public assistance.

Now, why go about the state kidding and misleading the people of Pennsylvania? The Governor has said we need new money. The Governor has stated that this Legislature and past administrations have made commitments to the people of Pennsylvania. They have made commitments to the school teachers and they will make commitments to other people whom we are now called upon to finance.

The Governor has recognized this need and he is telling the truth to the people of Pennsylvania, that we must have a tax in order to finance this particular program. We may disagree as to the method employed to raise this tax, but certainly I think it is unfair to create the impression over Pennsylvania that Governor Leader is raising all of this money to spend as he sees fit. I believe that is the impression that has been sought to be conveyed to the people of Pennsylvania by the Minority Leader and his colleagues.

The Minority Leader, as well as other Members on the other side, know that a sales tax is the most iniquitous of all the taxes being considered. They point out that the Governor in his own program admits there are inequalities. That is correct. There are inequalities in the Governor's program and the Governor is the first one to admit that there are such inequalities. But he has explained to the people that since we do not have the power to pass a graduated income tax, this program that he has brought forth is the best thing that could be devised.

I think, Mr. Speaker, that some time in the past we passed through the House and Senate a resolution which would have permitted the voters to decide that question in this Fall election. I think in the last session this House also passed such a resolution, and we all know that that resolution was buried by a Republican Senate Committee. I think they foresaw their defeat, and in order to embarrass the Democratic party they deliberately killed that particular resolution in their Republican-controlled committee.

We have an obligation to perform; we have an obligation and a duty to our school teachers, we have an obligation to our mentally sick and we have many, many obligations to which we cannot close our eyes and ignore. I think it is about time that we quit making accusations against one another, and I think it is about time, if there are things wrong in the Governor's budget that the Minority Leader, instead of making a broad statement about the budget, comes and and points out where those errors are, where the budget is overloaded, and as I said once before on the floor of this House, if he can point out to us on the majority side the errors, if he can point out where money could be saved and can be saved I want to repeat he will have help from this side of the house.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to try to answer a lot of half truths that the gentlemen have been kicking around.

I first would like to start off on the premise that I don't mind debating in the House with anybody, but I think a person when he debates should be accurate in his information. Number one.

In the next place, we have no "brain trust," for the gentleman's information. We speak for the people of Pennsylvania. If the gentleman can show me in one speech that I made on television, if he can show me in one release where I ever mentiond the word "high horse," if he can show me where I ever mentioned the word "arrogant," I would buy him a nice Stetson hat, and that is more than he will do for me, because he does not have the nerve to take the bet, and because he knows he is not telling the truth.

We have tape recordings of everything that has been said and I defy him to back up those statements. It is evidently what the gentleman is thinking in his own mind and he is trying to put words in other people's months. That is the next thing.

When have I ever said that the Governor has to crawl on his hands and knees to me or anybody else in this party? I defy him to back that statement up. So you see, Mr. Speaker, we are getting into something here, into one of those campaigns that we seem to be waging, and not quoting the truth to start with.

If the gentleman would like to know something, one of the things that we are having most difficulty with in the television program is finding anyone to even go on the program who is for the tax. We have never once asked for a stacked program as has been rumored other people in the administration have done. We have never once passed a question to any member on the program. We have never once asked for any particular individual to appear against us. And that, although I cannot back this up, that is not what I hear is being done behind our backs by other people who appear on television programs. I can't prove that, but I defy anyone to prove that we have done anything except being on the up and up. And we are telling the people what we think is the truth.

The gentleman stated something about teachers' salary cuts. Again, never once on television have I ever mentioned a 20 per cent cut like the gentleman has stated.

So, again he is completely wrong on that. It might be well worth knowing that if he insists on talking about 20 per cent we could mention some facts to him.

In the first place, I have not been advocating anything about a 20 per cent cut, regardless of what the gentleman says, and this is the first time I have ever even mentioned it. I would like to call to his attention one thing that he evidently overlooked. The operation of the state government, and these are facts, for General Fund porposes in the last biennium cost approximately a billion dollars. Now, the Governor in his budget message wants us to spend a billion dollars plus $300 million. I think that is a 30 per cent increase.

If you want to talk 20 per cent cuts, let us talk a little about them. If the Governor cuts his own requests by 20 per cent, you will still be spending more for the operation of our state than has ever been spent before. This is something the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, forgets to tell about when he is up there talking and when he is talking about 20 per cent cuts. He is trying to make the people believe we are saying a 20 per cent cut should be taken over the last biennium. Another half truth. That is not all, if you want to talk 20 per cent, you can take 20 per cent out of the Governor's own request and still not hit the school teachers and you know it, and it won't be taken from the school teachers.

Another thing the gentleman seems to be talking about is policies or pledges. I don't know what he means by that. We have made no pledges except to do what the people want. If the gentleman is getting into campaign pledges and campaign promises again, perhaps he had better look before he throws stones, because sometimes they might be thrown back.

I have a little article here, since we are talking about not being quite kind in our talking, and this is an accurate quote from a newspaper editorial,

> The Governor said "any loud mouth can be a minority politician; any demagogue can be for all the appropriations and against all the taxes." Governor Leader said that and that is an exact quotation.

Now, if the Governor said that he is certainly giving an exact description of himself, if we are going to get into this, because Governor Leader was for that situation when he was a Senator, from top to bottom. We are not accusing him of being a "loud month." But he was working as a "demagogue" according to his own description. That is not our description.

This little column goes along to say "what a way for the Governor to talk about the tactics of his own party for many years." He is not only putting himself in that bracket but he is putting his own party in that bracket. We do not even recall Republican spokesmen having been so sharply critical of the Democratic refusal in 1951 and 1953 to provide any assistance in meeting the state's bills. Governor Leader was a Senator then.

Nor do we recall such sharply worded critiscism of the Governor's own campaign last year, when he traveled through the state persuading voters that his party could meet the rising cost of state government, not only without new taxes but even without the revenue raised by the sales tax.

Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is wasting the time of the House and his breath. He does not have to convince us. Let him convince his own Members on his own side of the House and get 106 votes and let us roll the bill or kill it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in my opening remarks a few minutes ago I said I was going to make a statement at the risk of hearing the Minority Leador say "I didn't say it."

I might say it this time that all I know is what I read in the papers, and, Mr. Speaker, I read in yesterday's edition of the Pittsburgh Press the word "arrogant," and that word was attributed to the Minority Leader. And I also read in that same paper the statement that if he would come down off his "high horse" or words to that effect, and come to them that they would try to do something for the Governor.

That appeared in yesterday's Pittsburgh Press as a news story. Every time I quote the Minority Leader as having said something, he denies it, and I expect that he would deny a remark like that.

The pledges to which I referred, Mr. Speaker, are the pledges that this Legislature made to the school teachers. We told them we were going to increase their salaries each biennium, and that was done some time even before I came into the Legislature—I think in 1949. The teachers are expecting an increase, they are not expect- a 20 per cent decrease. While the gentleman himself may not have made that remark, it was members of his party with whom he was consorting at the time who made the remark, according to the newspapers again.

We have a duty to perform. We have certain services to provide and the Minority Leader well knows that.

I want to also recall something to the Minority Leader's attention. He said why didn't the Democrats give him help, or give the majority help a few years back. I can recall sitting in my seat and having the then Minority Leader say to the Majority Leader, "You come up with 90 per cent or better of the vote that you need to pass your program, and we will give you the rest of them." He said it not once but more than once on the floor of this House. You never hear that now. All we wanted you to do in the past was to take the responsibility for your program, take the repsonsibility, and the Minority Leader offered you enough votes to put it acress. That I heard with my own ears. But of course, it may be denied.

The point that I want to make is that the Governor of this Commonwealth, in the position he holds, is entitled to a certain amount of respect and is entitled to that respect from all of the citizens of Pennsylvania, regardless of whether they belong to the minority or to the majority party. I believe that the Monority Leader, as well as all the other citizens of this Commonwealth, owe that much respect to the Governor.

The definition of arrogance, for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia, the definition carried in the dictionary is as follows: "arrogance, a sense of superiority which manifests itself in an over-bearing manner." I once again say that the gentleman is mistaken in his description of our Governor.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just to remind the gentleman that maybe he had better look up the word "loud-mouthed." That is what the Governor said. Maybe he had better look up the word "demagogue" before he starts throwing stones.

Perhaps if we get respect, respect will be shown.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker. I have been looking over the tax bills, listening to the pros and cons on television and radio, reading the printed word emanating from many sources. and discussing the issues with my friends, neighbors and constituents.

I gain one impression from all, that the more it is attempted to explain the classified income tax, the more there is created in the public mind the idea of classified confusion, coercion and contempt.

From it all, the following questions have occurred to me: questions, specific answers to which I insist the public is entitled,

1. Is the dividend and interest income received from invested funds of an endowment taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of endowment securities taxable?

2. Is the dividend and interest income received from fiduciary trust funds of charitable organizations for educational, religious and benevolent purposes taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of securities of charitable trust funds taxable?

3. Is the dividend and interest income received from invested union welfare funds taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of securities of such funds taxable?

4. Is the dividend and interest income received from invested police and firemen relief funds taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale and exchange securities of such funds taxable?

5. Is the dividend and interest income received from invested cemetery and cemetery trust funds taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of securities of such funds taxable?

6. Is the dividend and interest income received from invested employee pension funds taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of securities of such funds taxable?

I know the pensions paid to or received by an individual are excluded from the tax, but is the income on the funds from which the individual is paid excluded from the tax?

7. Is the dividend and interest income of investments held by fraternal and civic organizations taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of such investments taxable?

8. Is the dividend and interest income of investments held by labor organizations taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of such investments taxable?

9. Is the dividend and interest income of investments held by a municipal corporation taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of such investments taxable?

10. Are gross receipts of a utility authority, such as a water authority, a sewage authority, an electric authority, etc., taxable?

11. Are the net profits of a co-operative, taxable?

12. Is the dividend and interest income of investments held by a Foundation, taxable?

Are capital gains from the sale or exchange of such investments taxable??

Before I vote to tax the income of the widow, the orphan, those who live by the sweat of their brow, the butcher, the banker, and the candlestick maker, I want to know what share of the governmental load our invested billions will carry.

I ask that the Majority Leader furnish an answer to these questions, to the Members of the House, and the People of Pennsylvania.

INTERROGATION

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, whether he intends to debate the tax program bills when they are before the House?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That depends on what they are, Mr. Speaker. I do not know what form they might be in by the time they reach the House.

Mr. READINGER. The question was, Mr. Speaker, whether he intends to debate the tax program bills when they are before the House, whatever they are?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That depends on what form they are in, Mr. Speaker. I raise these issues on the basis of those bills which are now in Committee.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether his questions at this time have any purpose other than publicity?

Mr. TOMPKINS. They do, Mr. Speaker, because in reading the bills I cannot seem to find an answer to the questions which I have raised here this afternoon, unless the bills are changed in Committee before they are reported to the House.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman willing to wait until the bills are before this House to propound his questions, at which time we will supply the answers?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the administration is out trying to sell the tax program which is now in pink bill forms in the Committee's hands. I am asking these questions in order that the people of Pennsylvania will know just exactly what is contained, or what is not contained in these bills that he is trying to sell to them.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will not admit that he may go into any public forum in this state and propound these questions, and I am wondering why he is asking us these questions when the bills are not before us?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, what is the Governor trying to sell then?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I would say that the Governor is trying to sell his tax program.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am asking questions about that tax program.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman once more, is he not willing to wait to ask his questions until the tax bills are before us?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, Mr. Speaker. As long as the Governor is out trying to sell this program, I certainly have a right even as a citizen, let alone as a Member of this House, to ask questions about the program.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, never have I heard a tax program debated so prematurely as the gentlemen on the minority insist on debating our tax program on the floor of this House.

If it is their purpose to make public statements which perhaps will get into the press, which to my way of thinking are loaded questions and designated to alienate the public affection from this tax program, if that is their purpose, then I think they are accomplishing what they are trying to do.

It seems to me that as legislators we can well afford to debate the merits or demerits of this tax program when the bills are before this House.

If the gentlemen desire to go on public television or radio, or some other means of communication, and convey their thoughts against this particular program, they have every right to do so, just as the Governor and his administration have every right to seek the same means of interpreting it to the public.

I do think that it is not good practice for the minority Members to use the floor of this House for the purpose of making public statements at a time when the measures are not before us for consideration.

All the answers to all these questions are going to be given, and given freely, when the bills are debated on the floor of this House. I, for one, would like to see us wait until we have the matter before us before we use this floor as a public forum.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the answer to the Majority Leader appears to me as though he not only is trying to gag his own Members in trying to explain this legislation, but also trying to gag the minority. For his information, I as a Member of the minority absolutely refuse to be gagged. My people are asking me these questions, and I am asking you—they are entitled to an answer—not as debate on the tax bill, but for information as to what the administration is trying to put across.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, rise?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to make some remarks on an entirely different subject, and if Mr. Auker desires to continue the debate on the tax business, I will gladly yield to him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have listened very attentively to the arguments on both sides, and it reminds me of a story.

In a family, as some families have, there was a governess. They had a little boy named Johnnie. His mother asked Johnnie one day, she said, "Johnnie, do you like your new governess?"

Johnnie said, "No, I hate her. I don't like her. I would like to treat her just like daddy does and bite her on the neck."

The SPEAKER. The Chair did not get the point of the story. When the House adjourns, the Chair requests the gentleman from Blair grant a private audience on the story.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I feel restrained to make my remarks at this time. I realize that the hour is late but my prepared remarks have already been released to the Press and perhaps have already been put on the wire, so I will try to deliver my speech as rapidly as possible.

It is, however, a very important message and is of great interest to every Member of this House and I would say to especially the traveling public in Pennsylvania.

The great road building program carried on under four successive Republican governors has come to a sudden halt. The people of Pennsylvania are experiencing a complete collapse of the operating efficiency of our Highway Department.

As soon as the new administration took over in January the deterioration commenced. Here are some of the things that have taken place:

(a) New, inexperienced Chief Highway District engineers have replaced men of training and ability.

(b) Here and there an experienced Draftsman was fired and no one found to take his place, and many of the drafting staffs in the district offices fearing loss of jobs immediately started searching for other employment and have left the service.

(c) Capable design engineers have been dismissed and no replacement found. For example—the design engineer on the York By-Pass has been dismissed and no one has been found to take his place, and, the designing of this important highway has come to a complete standstill.

(d) In the Survey Corps throughout the State, which is the backbone of our system, many experienced and loyal career surveyors, chainmen and others, have been removed from their work, so that today there is practically no Survey Corps operating in our State."

Here are the present results of this chaos:

(a) The Highway Department has approximately $100,000,000.00 available to spend on new roads and no plans are available for such construction. This money cannot be spent this year. Last year by Decoration Day practically all funds had been allocated and contracts awarded for construction."

(b) This year we will be entitled to $40,000,000.00 from the Federal Government on a 50/50 matching basis to be spent on our Federal aid highways, and by a present lack of completed plans most of this money will be lost to our State this year, as well as $42,000,000.00 available for 1956."

The most important and greatest potential loss to our State has not been touched upon. It concerns the participation of our State in the Eisenhower road building program. During the year 1956, under the Bill now before Congress, Pennsylvania will be allocated 53.1 million dollars to be spent on our interstate highway system. The State's share of this cost will only be 10% or 5.9 million dollars."

The amounts to be received in future years follow:

1957 - 66.4 millions
1958 - 79.7 millions
1959 - 106.2 millions
1960 - 106.2 millions

The State's participation will be 10%. The interstate highway system covers mainly Routes 6, 11, 15, 22, 422 and the Turnpike. We of the northern tier know that Route 6 is the most important interstate highway because it covers the northern part of Pennsylvania that presently does not have a traversing railroad. This Eisenhower plan will provide enough money to make Route 6 a four-lane highway its entire length and would do the same for the other routes mentioned."

But! Our plans and specifications must be ready. It will be a prodigious job to make the survey and comes at a time when the highway department is not staffed t even do the ordinary job on the State non-Federal system, and cannot be done overnight."

"This grave situation calls for the following action:

1 - Stop playing politics with the Department of Highways.

2 - Stop this dismissal of trained construction and design engineers who cannot be replaced without years of training.

3 - Stop this breakdown of the field forces by replacing the surveyors, chainmen and crewmen as soon as possible.

4. Start making realistic and workable plans to participate in the Eisenhower Road Program.

5. Rewrite the Budget for the Highway Department so that the major part of the money will go for new and modern highways instead of the creation of a super political machine.

Now, the Governor is asking for an increase in gas tax and motor license fees when his administration has millions of dollars lying idle in the Motor Fund with no plans to spend it except through the building of a huge political machine.

Here we are in the middle of June and very little new highway construction has been started.

The building season is already so far advanced that we cannot begin to catch up with the highway building program of last year. Yet, he is talking of spending more money than ever before.

We think it is high time the Governor got down to brass tacks and devotes himself to running our government instead of running up and down the State trying to build himself up as a potential candidate for Vice President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker. I want to make a brief observation to the remarks made by the gentleman about stopping the dismissal of trained construction and design engineers in the state of Pennsylvania.

I have before me an item from the New York Times under the headline "Thruways First Year." I just want to read one paragraph which reads:

> In the first year of the Thruway was established an impressive safety record. In 1954 the fatality rate was 2.44 per each one million miles traveled. This compared with 6.5 for all U. S. highways; 2.47 for New Jersey Turnpike which started off with a bad safety mark, but has gradually improved as more and more police were put on the Highway Patrol and other engineering and mechanical safeguards were introduced. The Pennsylvania Turnpike reported a 4.2 death rate last year.

If this is the type of engineers we have in Pennsylvania I say, dismiss them.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am very much amazed to hear that the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, would let a group of political hacks and stooges who are crying in their beer over being dismissed from the Highway Department at this present time have him make their representation on the floor of this House at this particular time, when we can all recognize that for the first time in 16 years the Pennsylvania Highway Department is getting down to work and is going to do a job for the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The gentleman speaks about turning it into the political circus. I say this to you, that for every four years of every new Republican regime in the past 16 years, the Highway Department has had a complete turnover and a jockeying around of particular positions and methods and types of operation in order to effect the purposes of the time and the particular administration.

Today we have a man at the head of the Department of Highways who is going out to do a job and render a dollar's worth of service for every tax dollar brought into that Department. The record speaks for itself.

He speaks of the delay in construction. He knows as well as I do that when the new administration took over on January 18th the Highway Department was short-changed through excessive buying and stock-piling of material by the past administrations. Those factors and many others will be presented on the floor of this House just as soon as we can get the mess straightened out from the last administration, put the facts together and present them to the gentleman on the record, with accurate figures in every phase of highway development.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1048

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1048, Printer's No. 421, entitled:

"An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 426), entitled "An act regulating the selling, offering or exposing for sale of agriculture seeds and seed mixtures for seeding purposes; requiring certain information to be affixed to the container in which such seeds are sold; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Agriculture and the Secretary thereof; authorizing stop-sale orders by the Secretary in certain cases; providing for inspections, reports and surveys by the department; imposing powers and duties upon certain courts, and prescribing penalties' by removing certain exemptions" was defeated on final passage Tuesday, June 14, 1955, be reconsidered.

Mr. BARNATOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Sullivan, Mr. Barnatovich vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. BARNATOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 21, 1955. No. 60.

SENATE

TUESDAY, June 21, 1955.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock, m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Right Reverend Monsignor JAMES F. MURPHY, V. F., Pastor of Church of the Sacred Heart, Sharon, offered the following prayer:

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

O Almighty and Eternal God, we beseech Thee, fill our minds and hearts with such a great love for Thee and all that is of God, that we may be one in our earnest desire to do Thy holy will. May we be one with Thee in directing and enacting legislative work which will make the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a haven for future citizens of Your Kingdom. May God, the Father, God, the Son, and God. the Holy Ghost direct and inspire His Excellency, the Governor, and all who hold office to serve capably and conscientiously, placing love of fellowmen above personal gratitude and desire.

O Almighty God, the Father, may this worthy group of representatives of your children be so inspired with the light of Your divine wisdom that legislation enacted may give the certain Christlike character to the mode of life in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. May this, our prayer, be answered if it be according to Thy divine will, O Lord, so that Thy children may live in conformity with Thy rule of life, that is Yours, living in peace, harmony, and prosperity.

Hear this, our prayer, Almighty God, through our Lord, Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who with Thee, liveth and reigneth in the unity of the Holy Spirit world without end, Amen.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. DIEHM, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

THIRTY-TWO MEMBERS OF THE BETHLEHEM BOYS CLUB PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am happy to announce that we have with us today thirty-one members of the Bethlehem Boys Club. These young men, between the ages of fourteen and seventeen, represent the Keystone Junior Fraternity of that club. They are here under the leadership of Mr. Russell Kembal, their Adviser, and Mr. Thomas Foley, the Director of the Boys Club.

Included in this group, Mr. President, is Robert Price, who won the Essay Contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Bethlehem, on the topic "Voice of Democracy." He was also declared Citizen of the Year of the city of Bethlehem.

Also included in the group, Mr. President, is Robert Kuehner, who is champion of District 2, P. I. A. A. Golf Tournament for Youngsters.

Also included are Steven Bakonyi and James Burke, who were awarded scholarships for scholastic achievements. Another boy, Philip Mello, was a winner of an essay contest on the subject of "Ways and Means for Employing the Physically Handicapped." There is still another boy, Joseph Sterlein, who made the All-State Basket-ball Team.

Mr. President, it is my pleasure to present these thirty-one youngsters and to wish them a joyous stay here at the State Capitol.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the Members of the Senate, the Chair welcomes this group to the Session of the Senate. We hope they enjoy their stay with us.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DERK, due to illness.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 69 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

He also, from the Committee on State Government, to which was referred on June 13, 1955, the following resolution from the House of Representatives reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

JOINT COMMITTEE TO MAKE A STUDY OF ALL TAXES FACED BY SMALL BUSINESSES

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1955.

The opportunity which our Nation offers for a person to freely engage in a small business enterprise is one of our most important beckoning features to those on foreign shores. It is a feature of our society of which we are justly proud, for small businesses have been highly important in the establishment and development of our Nation.

Mergers, consolidations and other jointures have in recent years produced business giants, capable of doing greater volumes of business at far less expense, and as a result thereof, small businesses are badly in need of assistance. Because of the importance of small businesses to our economy and general welfare, it is our duty to insure their survival.

An equitable share of the Commonwealth's business and contracts should be allotted among our small businesses as often as possible. The establishment of a loan procedure should also be considered to encourage the establishment of new businesses and the continuance of existing small businesses. There is also a possibility that the present rates of taxation imposed upon our small businesses are too great; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House, and the Governor appoint five men from small businesses who together shall constitute a committee to make a thorough study of the taxes and other problems faced by small businesses within our Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to this Session of the General Assembly within thirty days.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WATSON, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nomination, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

TREASURER IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF BUTLER

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 21, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate H. Gale West, Slippery Rock, Butler County, for appointment as Treasurer in and for the County of Butler, to serve until the first Monday of January 1956, vice Wayne R. Aber, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McMENAMIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to addres sthe Senate

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, this Session of the Legislature has already amended the Solicitation Act to exempt therefrom the American Gold Star Mothers, which I think all of us will agree is a wonderful organization.

Mr. President, there is another group of mothers of war veterans equally concerned with the problems of Veterans hospitals. The American War Mothers is an organization devoted to the care and health of American's many disabled veterans still in various veterans' hospitals. I believe that this worthwhile and great group should be extended equal consideration with other war mothers' organizations and, therefore, on benalf of Senator Flack and myself, I am offering this bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. McMENAMIN and FLACK read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 548, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1925 (P. L. 644), entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable, religious, benevolent, humane, and patriotic purposes," exempting organizations composed of mothers of men or women who served in the armed services of the United States.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this bill which I am about to introduce is long overdue. In many instances, we see an irate citizen make sometimes an unwarranted accusation against a member of the police force. True enough, the officer is vindicated later, but, nevertheless, his name has been besmirched.

This bill, Mr. President, makes it mandatory upon the municipality to sue for libel the person who made the unwarranted accusation.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 549, entitled:

An Act requiring certain public, city and county offices, bureaus, departments and courts in cities and counties of the first class to remain closed all day Saturday during a certain period of the year.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 550, entitled:

An Act making the insurer of defendant in an action in tort involving a motor vehicle a proper party defendant with the defendant, and providing for the effect of the joinder.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 551, entitled:

An Act relating to the recovery of damages for loss or diminution of the right of consortium in personal injury cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 552, entitled:

An Act relating to actions of defamations with respect to firemen and policemen.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CHAPMAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 553, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," providing for payments by the Commonwealth on account of pupils residing on Commonwealth property.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. LANE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 554, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto; regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein; defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores, for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships, for the abatement of certain nuisances and, in certain cases, for search and seizure without warrant; prescribing penalties and forfeitures; providing for local option, and repealing existing laws," requiring certain public notice to be given of the resulst of hearings held for licensees cited by the board for violations.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 555, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto, regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein; defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores, for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships, for the abatement of certain nuisances and, in certain cases, for search and seizure without warrant; prescribing penalties and forfeitures; providing for local option, and repealing existing laws," authorizing the transfer of certain retail licenses to clubs without effecting the number of licenses thereafter granted in any municipality.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 556, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," making it unlawful for employes, having knowledge of confidential information, to suggest to taxpayers the employment of a designated person to aid in securing tax refunds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 557, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "An act establishing certain streets and boroughs and incorporated towns as State highways, and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth," adding a new route in Marianna Borough, Washington County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Messrs. WHALLEY, MAHANY and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 558, entitled:

An Act requiring the erection and maintenance of medial barriers or guards on the Pennsylvania Turnpike between the Donegal and Bedford interchanges.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 559, entitled:

An Act requiring all tunnels on the Pennsylvania Turnpike to be painted white and be equipped with continuous lighting.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

The PRESIDENT. At this time, the Chair invites the President pro tempore, M. Harvey Taylor, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time, the Chair would like to honor Senator Wade, of Cumberland County. Will you kindly come to the rostrum to preside?

The PRESIDING OFFICER (George M. Wade) in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO CONSIDER CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to proceed to the order of business of Consideration of the Calendar.

CALENDAR

HOUSE BILL No. 1288 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now call up out of order, from page five of today's Calendar, House Bill No. 1288, Printer's No. 513.

Mr. President, the reason for the consideration of this bill at this time is that, as I see it now, this is about the only bill on the Third Reading Calendar which will be, perhaps, of a controversial nature. I understand that the Members of the House plan to adjourn in a short time, and it is necessary for us to pass this bill in order to send the message over to the House that it has been passed.

There are also some Senators, Mr. President, who have made some plans and they would like to start for home quite soon. For this reason, I am calling this bill up out of order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1288, as follows:

Section 4 Section eight hundred eleven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 2329) is further amended to read as follows

Section 811 Brakes

(a) Every [motor] vehicle using the highways of this Commonwealth except trailers and semi-trailers having chassis and body weights of less than one thousand (1000) pounds shall be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of and to stop and to hold such vehicle Brakes shall be capable of stopping the vehicle and its load if any traveling at a speed of twenty (20) miles per hour upon a dry hard approximately level stretch of highway free from loose material where the grade does not exceed one (1) per centum within the following distances namely fifty-five (55) feet for emergency brakes forty (40) feet for service brakes effective upon less than all wheels and thirty (30) feet for service brakes effective upon all wheels Brakes shall be maintained in good working order and so adjusted upon vehicles other than motorcycles and bicycles with motors attached as to operate as equally as practicable with respect to the wheels on opposite sides of the vehicles [including] emergency brakes shall be adequate to hold such vehicle or vehicles stationary upon any grade upon which operated

(b) Every motor vehicle using the highways of this Commonwealth except motorcycles and bicycles with motors attached shall be equipped with two (2)separate means of applying the brakes [each of which means shall be effective to apply the brakes to at least two (2) wheels If these two (2) separate means of applying the brakes are connected in any way they shall be] so constructed that failure of any one (1) part of the operating mechanism shall not leave the motor vehicle without operative brakes on at least two (2) wheels One such means shall be a emergency brake employing a ratchet and pawl or other suitable locking and releasing mechanism effective to lock at least two (2) rear wheels on opposite sides of the vehicle The other such means shall be a service brake effective upon all wheels of every such motor vehicle sold new in this Commonwealth on or after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and upon at least two (2) wheels of every other such motor vehicle

[(b)] (c) Every motorcycle and bicycle with motor attached using the highways of this Commonwealth shall be provided with at least one (1) brake which may be operated by hand or foot

[(c)] (d) Every combination of a commercial motor vehicle and trailer or truck tractor and semi-trailer [having a chassis and body weight of one thousand (1000) pounds or more] when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with brakes [adequate to control the movement of and to stop and to hold such vehicle for at least fifteen (15) minutes and] so designed as to be applied upon both vehicles by the driver of the towing motor vehicle from its cab [and said] The brakes shall be so designed and connected that in case of an accidental breakaway of the towed vehicle the brakes thereof shall be automatically applied and stop and hold such vehicle for at least fifteen (15) minutes

[(d) Every new motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer sold in this Commonwealth on and after January first one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and operated upon the highways shall be equipped with service brakes upon all wheels of every such vehicle except any motorcycle and except that any semi-trailer having a chassis and body weight of less than one thousand (1000) pounds need not be equipped with brakes

(e) On a day hard approximately level stretch of highway free from loose material where the grade does not exceed one (1) per centum the service brakes upon any motor vehicle or combination of vehicles except as herein provided shall be adequate to stop such vehicle or vehicles when traveling at a speed of twenty (20) miles per hour within a distance of thirty (30) feet or at a rate corresponding to such performance

(f) Under the above conditions the emergency brake shall be adequate to stop such vehicle or vehicles within a distance of fifty-five (55) feet and said emergency brake shall be adequate to hold such vehicle or vehicles stationary upon any grade upon which operated

(g) Under the above conditions the service brakes upon a motor vehicle equipped with two wheel brakes only and when permitted hereunder shall be adequate to stop the vehicle within a distance of forty (40) feet and the emergency brake shall be adequate to stop the vehicle within a distance of fifty-five (55) feet

(h) All braking distances specified in this section shall apply to all vehicles mentioned whether such vehicles are not loaded or are loaded to the maximum capacity permitted under this act

(i) All brakes shall be maintained in good working order and shall be so adjusted as to operate as equally as practicable with respect to the wheels on opposite sides of the vehicle]

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall upon summary conviction before a magistrate be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five ($25) dollars and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment for not more than five (5) days

Section 5 Said act is further amended by adding thereto after section eight hundred twenty-one a new section to read as follows

Section 6 Section nine hundred three of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-five (Pamphlet Laws 328) and amended in part by the acts approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1412) the twenty-eighth day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Pamphlet Laws 1557) the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Pamphlet Laws 554) and approved the twenty-sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1455) is further amended to read as follows

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WEINER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed House Bill No. 582, entitled:

An Act concurring with the State of New Jersey in revoking in part Paragraph First of the Compact between the State of New Jersey and this Commonwealth dated April 26, 1783 and ratified by the act approved the 20th day of September, 1783, (2 Smith's Laws 77), entitled "An Act to ratify and confirm an agreement, made between commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of New-Jersey, and commisisoners appointed by the legislature of the state of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of settling the jurisdiction of the river Delaware, and islands within the same," and accepting the terms and conditions of Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey relating to the construction, the payment of land damages for land taken by eminent domain in New Jersey, costs and expenses, and the payment of taxes to New Jersey municipalities on land acquired in New Jersey for the purpose of construction, if and when the General Assembly of this Commonwealth shall authorize construction (but within fifty years from the effective date of this act) a storage dam across the Delaware River at or near the area known as Wallpack Bend, and a reservoir above such dam, or to construct a diversion dam across the Delaware River at or near Yardley or Brookville, or both such storage dam or reservoir and such diversion dam; and authorizing the Governor to apply on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Congress of the United States for its consent to the agreement which this act and Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey will constitute.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, when House Bill No. 1288 was called up, I was in the ante room and it was my intention to vote for that bill. I understand I am being recorded as being absent. I would have voted for the bill and I intended to vote for the bill when it came up. I did not know it was up at the time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH, that the bill is no longer in possession of the Senate. However, his remarks will be recorded in the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I was called to a conference in the rear of the Senate and no one informed me that we were voting on House Bill No. 1288. I, too, am marked as being absent. I want to state that if I would have been here, I would have voted against the bill. My full intentions were for voting against the bill.

Mr. President, I would like to have it recorded in the Legislative Journal to that effect.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair advises the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, that the bill is out of the possession of the Senate. However, his remarks will be recorded in the Legislative Journal and, for the purpose of brevity, he will be paired with the gentleman from Berks County, Mr. Ruth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the only thing I want to be assured of is that the notation will appear in the Legislative Journal, due to the fact that I was called on official business to a conference in the so-called "love nest," regarding a very serious legislative problem. I was not absent from the business of the Senate at that time.

I regret very much that I am not recorded as voting against the bill because in the years I have been here, since 1935, I have voted consistently against the truck bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman's remarks will be noted in the Legislative Journal.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 582, entitled:

An Act concurring with the State of New Jersey in revoking in part Paragraph First of the Compact between the State of New Jersey and this Commonwealth dated April 26, 1783 and ratified by the act approved the 20th day of September, 1783, (2 Smith's Laws 77), entitled "An Act to ratify and confirm an agreement, made between commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of New Jersey, and commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of settling the jurisdiction of the river Delaware, and islands within the same," and accepting the terms and conditions of Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey relating to the construction, the payment of land damages for land taken by eminent domain in New Jersey, costs and expenses, and the payment of taxes to New Jersey municipalities on land acquired in New Jersey for the purpose of constructing, if and when the General Assembly of this Commonwealth shall authorize construction (but within fifty years from the effective date of this act) a storage dam across the Delaware River at or near the area known as Wallpack Bend, and a reservoir above such dam, or to construct a diversion dam across the Delaware River at or near Yardley or Brookville, or both such storage dam or reservoir and such diversion dam; and authorizing the Governor to apply on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Congress of the United States for its consent to the agreement which this act and Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey will constitute.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in connection with presenting this bill, I also want to take the opportunity to remind my good friend, Senator Holland, that what happened to him happens to a lot of people who spend too much time in a "love nest."

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 560, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five, to assist in the payment of the operation and maintenance by the Trustees of the Mercy-Douglass Hospital of the addition to Philadelphia State Hospital constructed by The General State Authority.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am very sorry to admit that the "love nest" did not contain any love.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I happened to be absent from the Chamber when House Bill No. 1288 was called up for final passage. I was over in the Governor's Reception Room with the group of boys from the city of Bethlehem, and for that reason I was not able to be here.

Mr. President, I did understand that there would be sufficient time for me to get back, because there was going to be some delay before we went into the Calendar but, unfortunately, that did not happen.

Mr. President, I, therefore, want to indicate on the record that if I had been here, I would have voted "aye."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The remarks of the gentleman from Northampton will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The Chair wishes to advise that we will now revert to the regular order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances.

The Chair hears none.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATION

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nomination reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nomination reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nomination was read as follows:

TREASURER IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF BUTLER

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 21, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate H. Gale West, Slippery Rock, Butler County, for appointment as Treasurer in and for the County of Butler, to serve until the first Monday of January 1956, vice Wayne R. Aber, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Bane,	Harney,	Miller,	Taylor,
Barr,	Hays,	Mullin,	Toole,

Flack,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,	Wade,
Fleming,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,	Presiding Officer
Haluska,	McPherson, Jr.

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I appreciate very much your help in the past in having these nominations confirmed, but after today I don't think I will need you any longer.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, June 27, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 1:34 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, June 27, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, June 21, 1955.

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Dr. Emmanuel J. Hoover, guest Chaplain, and Pastor of the historic Quickel's Lutheran Charge, York County, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Everlasting God, whose wisdom ultimately triumps over the evil intentions of men and Whose Kingdom is an everlasting Kingdom; we come to Thee, acknowledging our dependence upon Thee as individuals, as a Legislature, a Commonwealth and Nation. We recognize Thy guiding hand in the history of our beloved land and State, and we would pray Thee especially to guide and counsel these Representatives of the people here assembled who participate in the enactment of new laws for this Commonwealth. Give each one a sublime desire and honest effort to serve all the people, thus making our democratic way of life a more genuine reality.

Wilt Thou bless the Governor and all who work with him in the execution of the laws here enacted that with fidelity and high purpose both he and they may administer the law with skill and unselfish devotion.

Wilt Thou bless the members of the Judiciary of our State; endow them with wisdom, mercy and understanding that they may interpret the laws and execute judgment without fear or favor.

Grant us Thy Wisdom as we now labor in the hours of this session, that the fruits thereof may abound unto good for all our citizens.

In the Name of Jesus Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, June 20, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Br Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. RESOLUTION No. 94

In the House of Representatives, June 20, 1955.

Whereas, The most inspirational holiday celebrated by the peoples of the United States is Independence Day each year; and

Whereas, That most hallowed spot in the United States relating to that day is in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where the Liberty Bell has its resting place; and

Whereas, It is the purpose of the City of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to make the observance of this holiday at Independence Square each year the most significant celebration in the United States of the signing of the Declaration of Independence; and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will officially dedicate the Mall, adjacent to Independence Hall; and

Whereas, This day offers a splendid opportunity for members of the United States Congress to visit the shrine dedicated to the true significance of liberty, freedom and equality; therefore Resolved, By the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, That members of the United States Congress be hereby respectfully requested to participate in the observance on Monday morning, July 4th, 1955 from Independence Mall, in the City of Philadelphia.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the members of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an

Serial No. 134.

In the Senate, May 9, 1955.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is a major faith in America and in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is not generally included among the religious confessions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Where anything is said concerning the major faiths, usually only Protestants, Catholics and Jews are referred to.

It, therefore, follows that a religious distinction is being made against the Eastern Orthodox Church, which is contrary to the prevailing liberal and democratic spirit of our Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring).

That the Eastern Orthodox Church be recognized as a major faith in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

That it be included among the religious confessions of this Commonwealth;

That the forms and official papers of the Commonwealth and local government units which refer to the major faiths and now limit them to Protestants, Catholics and Jews, be changed to: Protestants, Catholics, Eastern Orthodox and Jews; and be it further

Resolved, That all media of communication and individuals are hereby requested to include the Eastern Orthodox Church when referring to the major faiths.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. KOOKER for herself and Mr. KELLER for the week for the purpose of attending the Centennial for the borough of Quakertown.

Mr. Vaughan for Mr. VERONA for today and the remainder of the week.

Mr. KRATZ for himself for tomorrow's session.

Mr. Kratz for Mr. BRENNINGER for tomorrow's session.

Mr. Steggins for Mr. RUDISILL for today and the remainder of the week's session.

Mr. MEHOLCHICK for himself for next week's session.

Mr. Bazin for Mr. ROSEN for today and tomorrow's session.

Mr. A PATRICK BRENNAN for himself for tomorrow's session.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will tomorrow's session be a consent calendar?

The SPEAKER. Until the Chair has been informed by the respective Floor Leaders, the Chair will not be in a position to answer the gentleman's question.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader resume his proper station and will he consent to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Before I am interrogated may I say I have been mixed up. The reason I was at that station was because in the Evening News of June 21st I see that I am now the Republican Floor Leader. However, I am no longer confused, so I will consent to be interrogated.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether tomorrow's session will be a consent calendar?

Mr. READINGER. It will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Thank you.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House the Honorable J. Clair Sloan, a former Member from Indiana County.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mrs. REIBMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by her.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

(During the calling of the roll.)

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not going to struggle with the House. If the House decides it does not want a correct record. It is absolutely impossible, due to the confusion, for the Clerks to hear the response. We have tried since the beginning of this session to guarantee the accuracy of roll calls so that those in the minority would always be recorded. If that is not what this House wants to do, the Chair is not going to struggle day after day with the situation.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 459, as follows:

An Act prohibiting operation of boats having a manufacturer's horsepower rating in excess of seven and one-half on Quaker Lake in Susquehanna County

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 768, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 29 1937 (P L 551) entitled "An act prohibiting the employment of miners as herein defined in the bituminous coal mines unless certificated by a miners' examining board providing for the appointment of such boards and defining their powers and duties providing penalties and making an appropration" redefining the word "miner" changing the provisions relating to the certification and licensing of miners and decreasing the number of apprentices permitted work with miners

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 act of April 29 1937 (P L 551) entitled "An act prohibiting the employment of miners as herein defined in the bituminous coal mines unless certificated by a miners' examining board providing for the appointment of such boards and defining their powers and duties providing penalties and making an appropriation" amended June 3 1943 (P L 844) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That from and after the effective date of this act no person shall be employed or engaged as a miner in any bituminous coal mine in this Commonwealth except as hereinafter provided for without first having obtained a certificate of competency and qualification from a miners' examining board appointed under this act Provided however That any miner holding such certificate may have [a maximum of two persons] one person working with him and under his direction as [apprentices] an apprentice for the purpose of learning the business of mining [and such apprentice or apprentices shall be permitted to work under the direction of such miner at the face without a certificate] For the purpose of this act [in order to determine who shall be required to possess certificates] the term "miner" shall mean [only] all underground workers in bituminous coal mines [who cut drill blast or load coal or rock at the face of an entry room pillar or other working place also timbermen and trackmen whose duties require them to set timbers and lay or repair tracks at the working faces and motormen] except as hereinafter provided

Section 2 Paragraph six of section 2 of the act amended June 24 1939 (P L 867) is amended to read

Section 2 * * *

The number of miners' examining boards may be reduced at the pleasure of the Secretary of Mines after the first day of March of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight [Provided That when in the opinion of the Secretary of Mines a sufficient number of miners have been certificated to amply supply the demands of the bituminous mines of this Commonwealth he shall suspend entirely the activities of the miners' examining boards and direct that any additional miners shall be examined and granted certificates by the district mine foreman's examining boards under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Mines shall prescribe This examination by the mine foreman's examining board shall be given with the same rate of compensation and expenses as is now allowable to the mine foreman's examining board and a fee of one dollar ($1.00) shall be charged for the issuance of a certificate]

Section 3 Sections 5 and 6 of the act amended June 3 1943 (P L 844) are amended to read

Section 5 All examinations held by miners' examining boards shall be conducted in the English language and shall be of a practical nature so as to determine the competency and qualifications of the applicant to engage in the mining of bituminous coal The board or boards shall examine under oath all applicants as to their previous experience in mines Each member of the examining board or boards shall have power to administer oaths and any false statement wilfully made by an applicant under oath shall be deemed perjury All persons who shall be actually engaged as miners in a bituminous mine in this State at the time of the passage of this act and who shall have reached the age of twenty-one years and have had at least two years' practical experinece as mine workers shall be entitled to a certificate without examination upon the payment of a fee of one dollar and after producing satisfactory proof that they have been employed in a bituminous mine in this Commonwealth but no certificates of service shall be issued after the effective date of this act The form and manner of issuing such certificates shall be designated by the Secretary of Mines Certificates granted by a board shall entitle the holder thereof to be employed as and to do the work of a miner in the bituminous mines of the Commonwealth

All persons possessing certificates of qualification issued by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitling them to act as mine foremen assistant mine foremen or fire boss shall be eligible to engage at any time as miners in bituminous mines of this State Supervisory and technically trained employes of the operator whose work contributes only indirectly to mine operations [employes who are not performing the work of a miner as that term is defined in this act and apprentices of miners] shall not be required to possess a miner's certificate

No person shall be qualified to take the examination unless he produces evidence of having had not less than [one years'] two years' practical experience in the bituminous coal mines of this Commonwealth as a miner or who has served as a miner's apprentice for a period of [not less than one year] two years A certificate shall not be granted unless the applicant appears in person before the board and answers orally intelligently and correctly at least eight practical questions propounded to him

A certificate granted by a board shall be transferable and a transfer shall be deemed a violation of this act

In case of the loss or destruction of a certificate the Secretary of Mines shall upon presentation of satisfactory evidence of the loss or destruction issue a copy of the certificate to the original possessor on the payment of the sum of fifty cents ($.50)

Certificates shall be issued only at meeting of the board and shall be signed by at least three members of the board and sealed with the seal of the board

Section 6 No person shall after the effective date of this act engage as a miner [as the term is defined for the purpose of this act] other than as an apprentice in any bituminous coal mine in this Commonwealth without first having obtained a certificate of competency and qualification as provided for in this act except as hereinbefore stated nor shall any person firm or corporation or his or its agent employ as a miner other than as an apprentice any person who does not hold such certificate except as aforesaid Any person firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars and costs nor more than one hundred dollars and costs and in default of the payment of such fine and costs be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of ten days.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the Members of the House to know that this is the truck weight bill that is before us now, and I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not in print and it is not filed on my desk as Printer's No. 513. I would like to see the bill as amended, before I vote on it.

The SPEAKER. The bill has just arrived in the House and copies have not been distributed yet. They will be.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to hold up the proceedings of the House, but I feel I should have a reasonable time to . . .

The SPEAKER. The Chair will give the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley, time to study the amendments and the House will take up other business. We will pass over consideration of the amendments to House Bill 1288 temporarily.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. STANK from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed. Senate Resolution Serial No. 134.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think on both sides of the House the Members have been very, very patient this entire session. We have sat through days, and I don't say this in criticism, where we have not passed too much important legislation. I think we have kept our seats, and I think that can be said equally for both sides of the House.

I have had several Members from my side come down —this may seem a little premature, but I think it is timely —and ask me what we are going to do during Fourth of July week. The only thing that I would like to suggest, I imagine there are people on both sides of the House who would like to make plans with their families for the week of Fourth of July. I wonder if the Majority Leader realizes that the Senate, from what I understand, is not going to meet and that we have another week to think about it. If he would give due consideration to the matter, rather than bring these Member back from the western part of the State, particularly when, if you look at the calendar, the Fourth comes on a Monday. A lot of people still travel on Tuesday, it would mean breaking up the entire week to bring them in on Wednesday or Thursday. There would be not much sense to going home and coming back here again the following Monday. I was wondering—he doesn't have to answer it this moment—if he would give due consideration to that, because I believe there are Members on both sides of the House that would consider taking off that entire week and then have a full working week the following week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the House of Representatives is a sounding board so that the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may know the problems confronting them. The Governor of this Commonwealth has pictured the so-called classified income tax as a tax based upon ability to pay, as a tax which is graduated in nature, wherein the lower tax bracket people are given a break, as compared with those in the higher brackets

Examination of the laws of the United States, particularly the Internal Revenue laws, leads me to the opposite conclusion. In order to be certain of my position, I walked to the Internal Revenue Department in the City of Harrisburg yesterday, and got for my possession and guidance a folder of that department, and I would like to read certain excerpts from the folder:

First of all, any taxpayer who is in the $5,000 bracket or less is given an automatic 10 per cent credit without itemizing any taxes, contributions or interest which he may pay. People in the higher brackets are given the opportunity of itemizing. Those that are familiar with the facts of tax life know that the average businessman, the average farmer and the average working man is in the $5,000 tax bracket, and he gains nothing by itemization.

What does this mean from the standpoint of the net result of the so-called classified income tax to the people of Pennsylvania? This is what it really means: If a working man is in the one per cent bracket and earns $5,000 his tax is $40. Inasmuch as he cannot claim any additional exemptions, then his net tax is $40 or eight mills. A man who is a head of a large corporation and in the $100,000 bracket is in the eighty-seven per cent tax bracket He pays a tax of $1,000. What does the law of the United States say? Any person who pays a state income tax may claim that as a credit. What does that mean? That means that the man who is in the $100,000 bracket will note that he paid a tax of $1,000, and being in an eighty per cent bracket will take a credit of $800. That means, therefore, that the net cost to the man in the higher bracket is $200. In other words, this is a reverse graduated income tax, wherein the working man pays eight mills to the dollar and the man in the higher bracket pays two mills to the dollar. The man in the lower bracket pay on a percentage basis four times as much as the man in the higher bracket.

Let us examine this thing with respect to men who are in business, farmers who are in a two per cent bracket under the so-called classified income tax. If a man earns $5,000 from investing his money in business he has no exemption and pays two per cent or $100. Since he is in the $5,000 bracket, his ten per cent credit is already worked out for him, and, therefore it means nothing to him. Whereas the man who is in the $100,000 bracket pays $2,000, gets an eighty per cent credit at least, or $1600. Therefore he is out in actual dollars and cents $400, which means the man in business pays on a two per cent basis, whereas the man who is in the $100,000 bracket pays only four mills. In other words, the man in the $5,000 bracket pays on a percentage basis five times as much as the individual in the higher $100,000 bracket.

We can see no justice in this to the ordinary working man. We can see no justice to the ordinary farmer and to the ordinary businessman. This is an additional load upon the people who are in the lower bracket. This is no tax upon the individual in the higher bracket.

I also want to call to your attention that the lawyers of the State of Pennsylvania, being aware of the possibility, remote as it may be, of the passage of the so-called classified income tax, have inserted escalator clauses into leases. And what does this mean? That means that every time a tenant signs a new lease that the landlord is directing that any additional taxes be paid by the tenant. In other words, if the ordinary working man is leasing a home for $75, beginning with the passage of this act it will cost him $3.00 more or four per cent of $75. To the average working man this means $36 a year more in additional taxes

So, we call to your earnest attention, and we also call to the attention of the sounding board, and to the earnest attention of the people of Pennsylvania, that this tax is a burdensome tax upon the average working man, the average buhinessman and the average farmer.

We say in conclusion that the tax was conceived in haste and is now being defended in desperation.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL 1288 RESUMED

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

HOUSE BILL No. 1255.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eleven article three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing that the Legislature may authorize increases in retirement allowances or pensions of employes who are members of a retirement or pension system now or hereafter enacted by the Commonwealth its political subdivisions agencies or instrumentalities.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence Nos. 267, 268, 361 and 458.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 226.

An Act creating a temporary advisory commission to examine, report upon and recommend reorganizations of agencies and functions of the State government; prescribing its powers and duties; directing cooperation of governmental agencies; and authorizing the issuance of subpoenas.

HOUSE BILL No. 1288.

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the petce, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by increasing annual registration fees for certain commercial motor vehicles, truck tractors, trailers, and semi-trailers; prescribing additional equipment requirements for certain vehicles; changing the maximum gross weights and axle loads allowed for certain vehicles; changing the requirements for weighing vehicles and removal of excess loads; prescribing and changing penalties providing for impoundment and sale of vehicles and loads imposing duties upon peace officers magistrates and sheriffs and authorizing arrests on view

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I have an editorial from the McKeesport Daily News that I would like to have printed in the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the material will be inserted in the Legislative Journal. The Chair hears none.

Mr. WALSH placed the following editorial in the Legislative Journal.

POLLING THE PEOPLE

Assemblyman John T. Walsh is to be commended for his decision to carry Governor Leader's proposed income tax program directly to the people of this district.

He has mailed 6,000 letters to his constituents and hopes his message will reach 14,000 more. The letters explain the Governor's proposals and contain reply postcards on which can be marked a preference to guide Mr. Walsh in his vote.

We urge that these postcards be marked and returned for we feel, as does Mr. Walsh, that a tax program, as burdensome and different in concept as the Governor's, constitutes an issue to be settled as much by the people as by their representatives in Harrisburg.

Mr. Walsh's efforts should do much to clarify the program itself. Does it contain a wage tax, or is the provision as confused in terminology as the Governor has sought to make it? Would an increase in the prseent sales tax be preferable? Is a burden as heavy as the Governor wants necessary? Can the proposted state budget be justified under present circumstances?

Mr. Walsh suggests that we ask ourselves these questions and furnish him with our answers. He hopes that, if we do so, much of the rigged confusion will be dissipated and that, with this accomplished, a majority will join him in his opinion that the program should be defeated.

First response to his poll, gratifyingly heavy, supports him.

The Governor's program does contain a wage tax no matter what Mr. Leader may call it. Under its provisions, the state would grab into pay envelopes, as does Uncle Sam, and take what it considers its share. This is the procedure of a wage tax and no amount of quibbling can make it anything else.

We suspect, as does Mr. Walsh, that the endorsement of the Governor's program by the top labor leaders in the state does not reflect the opinion of the rank and file of their union memberships. His poll should help settle this question, raised so forcefully by the 8,000-member CIO United Steelworkers Local 1397 of Homestead which is on record against the wage tax.

Taxes in Pennsylvania and the nation generally have gotten out of hand because, in an era of continuing crisis, the people have had no opportunity to control them. Instead, the people have been made the victims of a gigantic spending spree, unequalled in world history, as the political parties competed with each other on spending propositions.

True, the pat economy promises have been made at campaign times, as Governor Leader made them last fall, but they have been promptly forgotten in waves of new taxation generated by the political game of buying support with tax money. A time of reckoning was inevitable. This time now has come in Pennsylvania.

With the time here, the people deserve, at long last, the chance to express themselves on how the reckoning should be made—what type of taxes are preferable, what kind of a state budget is wise and what new improvements are absolutely needed and can be afforded.

Taxes will be the big issue in coming political campaigns because the truth of the old axiom that the power to tax is the power to destroy has become critically pertinent in a state already tacitly bankrupt and a nation so heavily in debt that future generations have been mortgaged.

However, the Pennsylvania problem is immediate. It broke by surprise on a people who, as late as the last election, were fooled purposely about it. They had no chance to express themselves then. The only chance they have now is through a poll, such as Mr. Walsh is conducting and which could be a recommended undertaking for all other public-minded legislators.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. AMARANDO asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday I took the floor and spoke for a few minutes, and among other things I said that early in this session we recognized the Minority Leader as being the spokesman for a brain trust. The Minority Leader took exception to my remarks yesterday. I want to say at this time that either the Minority Leader has a very convenient memory, or he has a very poor memory, or perhaps he has a very poor and convenient memory.

So I want to quote today, and I will ask the Minority Leader, in order to make sure that I am not misquoting him, if he will look in the Legislature Journal, page 189, under date of January 31, 1955.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman quotes, I will take his word. I have taken it on many other occasions, so once more will not do any harm.

Mr. LOPRESTI. On this particular page of the Legislative Journal Mr. Smith says as follows:

> "I was just informed by some of my brain trust that Governor Leader made this recommendation in a bill in the Senate during that session."

I believe on that particular occasion Mr. Smith admitted that he did have a brain trust, and he should not resent the fact that I call it to his attention at this time.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has proven one of his points and I hope that makes him happy. Now I would like to ask the gentleman to prove the other points that he mentioned about bringing them in on their hands and knees and some of those other statements. I would like him to get the quote on the "hands and knees" that I asked the Governor.

The Governor had better start realizing, as I said a couple of times, that this is a bipartisan House.

If the gentleman wants to prove his point, I would like to introduce some of my brain trust around here: We have Mr. Bower; we have Mr. Helm; we have Mr. Tompkins; we have Mr. Johnson; we have Mr. Zeigler; we have Mr. Hewitt; we have Mr. Gibson; in fact, we have quite a whole House here.

Our brain trust is really an elaborate one, and one of the things I would like to remind the gentleman of is that none of it costs the state much money. We do not cost too much money, we are really cheap, this brain trust on this side of the House.

In fact, if you will look at the budget, Mr. Speaker, you will see it is one-half of one per cent for the Members, and that includes his own Members.

If you are talking about brain trusters and long-hairs—and we don't have too many long hairs over here, as you can see, some of us are rather short—we do have some brain trusters, I think, costing somewheres around $600,000 more to the people of Pennsylvania in the Governor's office, because he is asking for that much more. I do not think there is any equipment in there, so it must be really a confirmed brain trust.

Something else, too, I would like to remind the gentleman that we do not have any brain trusters that are relatives. I wish we could say that for the rest of the people in the state.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to accept the challenge of the Minority Leader to prove at least one other point which I have been making right along, that the Minority Leader talks out of both sides of his mouth at the same time.

I have before me three House bills, which bear the name of the Minority Leader, in one case as the sole sponsor and the other two as a co-sponsor. Those three bills are House Bill 823, House Bill 610 and House Bill 1306. All three of them are appropriation bills.

If our Appropriation Committee and the Governor had accepted the recommendations of the Minority Leader, the budget on those three items alone would have been increased $1,083,000. Those are appropriation bills which bear the name of the Minority Leader.

If he is interested in true economy, he perhaps should not have signed his name to these bills. If he is interested in a reduction of the budget, perhaps he should have considered previously to signing House Bill 1306, that there was an appropriation of $800,000, an entirely new item not presently carried in the budget. This sum, or as much as appropriated, was to be given to the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman criticizes the budget on one hand and claims that other things are being asked for which he does not think are proper, and yet he has introduced or signed bills asking for a total increase of $1,083,000.

As to proving the statements made by the gentleman, I believe if he would listen more intently to what I say he would likely get the point I am trying to make. I did not accuse the gentleman of having said the Governor should crawl on his hands and knees in that many words, but the inference of the remarks that he has been making is that the Governor should bow down to the Minority Leader and seek his assistance. I have not quoted him as saying that in so many words, I am merely drawing an inference from what the Minority Leader, together with his cohorts, has been been saying.

I have also said many times in these last few weeks that some of the Members of his team have been asking for a twenty per cent across-the-board decrease in the budget, or cut in the budget. I did not attribute those remarks to the Minority Leader, but he has asked me to prove them as having come from him. They did not come from him, but they came from a Member of his team and he was present and he did not object. Therefore, I must assume that he agrees with what the other gentleman has said.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, as long as we are taking up this matter to waste time, and I see that we are, and the Chair wishes to stall, I am perfectly willing to go along and stall some more and waste some more time.

I must apologize to the gentleman from Cambria for being such a piker and only asking for a million dollars in increases. If the gentleman will recall, I think during the last session the gentleman on the other side of the House asked for something like $800 million more in the budget, so I really must be a piker. Perhaps by association with him and thinking I could enlarge this and put some more appropriation bills in similar to what he has done in the past and maybe bring those appropriations up to four or five million, so that I will not appear to be such a piker in the eyes of the Members.

I apologize again, Mr. Speaker, for being a piker—and the gentleman was very brave the other day when talking about cutting hospitals—because of those bills one went to the Women's Medical Hospital in Philadelphia, which I think is quite a worthy cause. If he would like to write to them and tell them that he does not want to give it to them, that is all right with me. Perhaps it would be interesting to know that another of those bills was a College of Osteopathy bill, which I think is rather a good cause. The other was for the Academy of Science. All of those things were services to the people, but I am sorry that I did not ask for more money, Mr. Speaker, really I am.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. GUTHRIE from the Committee on Motor Vehicles, reported as as committed, House Bill No. 629, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens encumberances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees, prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," prescribing the maximum width of motor buses and motor omnibuses.

(During the Calling of the Roll.)

The SPEAKER. The Chair is not going to argue with the House. If we cannot hear the responses, we shall make up the roll call. The most precious privilege of this House is to make certain that the views of the minority are properly recorded. The rule that the Chair should enforce is to protect the rights of the minority. If this House does not join with the Chair, the Chair is just going to let you set your own pace and tell the Clerks to make up the roll call according to what they hear.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WILLIAMS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Mines and Mining to meet during the session of the House.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HEWITT, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1572, entitled:

An Act relating to coal mining, well operations and the underground storage of gas and the safety of personnel and facilities employed therein; prescribing the rights and duties of well operators, before, during, and after the drilling of wells for the production, extraction or storage of any gas, petroleum or other liquid; regulating the underground storage of gas under workable coal seams; prescribing the rights and duties of owners and operators of coal mines in relation to wells and underground storage areas; granting certain corporations a limited right of eminent domain to appropriate interests in real property for surface and sub-surface operations in connection with the underground storage of gas; creating the Oil and Gas Division of the Department of Mines and defining its personel powers and duties; providing for hearings and the procedures to be followed therein and imposing duties upon the courts and providing methods for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and imposing penalties.

Mr. NEEDHAM, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as amended, House Bill No. 770, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 9, 1911 (P. L. 756), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," requiring motormen and operators of portable mining machines to have an attendant and an assistant and prohibiting the use of the machines unless equipped with standard permissible lighting systems.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. HEWITT asked and obtained unanimous consent for House Bill No. 1572 to be read for the first time.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1955. No. 61.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, June 22, 1955

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The CHIEF CLERK (Benjamin L. Long). The Speaker has directed the Chief Clerk to request the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano to serve as Speaker for today's session. Will the gentleman please come to the rostrum?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. Capano) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Dr. EMMANUEL J. HOOVER, Pastor of Quickel's Lutheran Charge of York County, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God and Father of us all, we begin this day with all of its deliberations with an acknowledgement of Thee and of our dependence upon Thee. We express our deep gratitude to Thee for Thine innumerable blessings bestowed upon us as a people and a State in the days that are past, and we beseech Thee to continue to Guide and bless our beloved America in these perilous and difficult days of world history that she may continue to be the world-symbol of liberty and peace.

Here, especially, within the walls of these legislative halls, we call upon Thee to enlighten the minds and strengthen the wills of the Representatives of free people everywhere that they may enact equitable laws which promote and do not limit or curtail freedom anywhere. If we imitate, help us to imitate those who stand and struggle for freedom and against slavery and oppression. Give us a boundless faith in the ultimate victory of liberty and truth in this Twentieth Century struggle between liberty and tyranny, and in that faith help us to move forward without fear, with dedication given to our respective stations in life.

Guide these Legislators this day that with godly wisdom and discernment they may fulfill their duties wisely in the part they play in the governing of Thy people in this Commonwealth.

Hear our petitions, O God, as we pray them in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, June 21, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. McINROY and FLINT (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 95

In the House of Representatives, June 21, 1955.

That area of Tioga and Potter Counties which is now creased by Pennsylvania Highway Route Number 49 was at one time one of the main arteries of communication for the Indians between the Susquehanna River and the Allegheny River. This path was extensively used during French and Indian wars to carry white prisoners back and forth, and for years thereafter was forbidden under threat of death to all white men. Because of the historic background and many points of interest along this highway, it is appropriate that it be given a distinctive name; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That State Highway Route Number 49 which stretches from Lawrenceville, Tioga County to near Coudersport, Potter County, shall hereafter be designated on all official maps and known as "The Forbidden Trail;" and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Highways shall erect along State Highway Route Number 49 suitable tablets or markers in order to perpetuate this resolution.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. DAVIS (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 96.

In the House of Representatives, June 21, 1955.

Strip-mining has transformed portions of the formerly beautiful countryside of Pennsylvania into barron wastes. This generates within many people a feeling of resentment to the strip-mining industry which prevents these people from viewing the problems of the industry in an objective manner. Because of this it is best to have an impartial study made of the strip-mining industry by a body of experts.

In 1943, 1945 and 1947 the Joint State Government Commission made studies of the problems relating to strip-mining, and these studies have led to many worthwhile improvements. There is, however, a need for further regulation of the strip-mining industry; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed (1) to evaluate the enforcement and efficacy of existing strip-mining laws, and (2) to study adjustment of the regulation of the strip-mining industry to the board, long-range potentialities of the Commonwealth, economically, socially and politically, and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

SERIAL No. 134.

In the Senate, May 9, 1955.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is a major faith in America and in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is not generally included among the religious confessions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Where anything is said concerning the major faiths, usually only Protestants, Catholics and Jews are referred to.

It, therefore, follows that a religious distinction is being made against the Eastern Orthodox Church, which is contrary to the prevailing liberal and democratic spirit of our Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring),

That the Eastern Orthodox Church be recognized as a major faith in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

That it be included among the religious confessions of this Commonwealth;

That the forms and official papers of the Commonwealth and local government units which refer to the major faiths and now limit them to Protestants, Catholics and

Jews, be changed to: Protestants, Catholics, Eastern Orthodox and Jews; and be it further

Resolved, That all media of communication and individuals are hereby requested to include the Eastern Orthodox Church when referring to the major faiths.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have someone explain the differences between these various faiths that we speak of as the Catholic, Protestant and Jew, how they differ from the Eastern Orthodox Church. Can anyone in the House give me that answer?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the Majority Leader desire to explain the resolution?

Mr. READINGER. The Majority Leader does desire to, but cannot. I will ask the gentleman whether he desires this resolution to be deferred until Monday when the answer can be supplied?

Mr. FILO. I do not desire that, but I would like to know for my personal information what the differences are, if the gentleman or any Member of the House, can give them to me.

Mr. READINGER. In reply to the gentleman, I cannot answer the question he is raising, and I would prefer to postpone consideration of this resolution, if he would like to do so, until the answer can be supplied.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, if this resolution is not that urgent, I would like to have it deferred.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the resolution will be passed over. The Chair hears no objection.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, as you know, the Governor has been making television appearances over the state. Several times in listening to the recordings we have of the Governor we seemed to infer by the tone and quality of his voice that the minute someone asks questions about the five per cent dividend clause in the Governor's tax program, and how it affected older people who are living on pensions, and widows, the Governor seemed to resent anyone mentioning that and sort of belittled the fact that there are widows and older people in the state.

We have noticed it in our group as we listened. We thought, being Republicans and against this tax program, that perhaps we were prejudiced ourselves and only through the Governor's tone of voice seemed to infer a sneering tone.

Very recently we listened to a program where the Governor came back at an individual asking a question in regard to that and put words in the gentleman's mouth that he said widows and older people. The gentleman who was on the panel semed to resent the fact that he had not mentioned that, but the Governor's mind seems always to be based on the fact that older people and widows should not be treated with the same respect as other people.

We never said anything about it, but I want to quote to you from an editorial in the Philadelphia Inquirer. They seem to take the same attitude that we do, that the Governor does sneer at age and sneer at widows.

This is a quote, Mr. Speaker, from a lead editorial in today's Inquirer. It is in regard to Senator Duff and it says:

> "He (the Governor) has also taken occasion to attack Senator James H. Duff in a fashion that is in startlingly bad taste. Mr. Duff recently critized the Leader tax program. So the Governor hits back by sneering at Duff's age.
> This is the Governor's quote: As the ancient mariner of Pennsylvania politics, now being pressed by the unkindly encroachments of time, stated the kindly Mr. Leader, Senator Duff should suppress the enfeebling inclination to wrestle with issues that are beyond him.
> The comment of the Inquirer is this: "The 37-year-old Governor has thus brought a new element into the field of taxation. If you are not as young as he is, you have no right to complain about your taxes!"

I think, Mr. Speaker, it should be brought to the Governor's attention that regardless of whether you are a widow or are older you do have a right, and a perfect right to stand up and complain without having someone sneer back at you in their speeches.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we are running out of useful thoughts around here, and are now torturing the English language to make a point which is not true at all.

In answer to what the gentleman has just said about the Governor's attitude, demeanor, and so forth, I suppose it would be very easy to make the same argument about Honorable United State Senator Duff when sometime ago he referred to the "short-pants" Governor. Perhaps he was sneering then. I did not take it to be such. I took it to be a purely political wise crack designed perhaps to take away from the Governor some of his popularity. Perhaps the gentleman from Philadelphia and United States Senator Duff do not like the popularity of our young Governor. If our Governor is sneering at age, then certainly our venerable old Senator is sneering at youth.

To me the whole thing is silly and ridiculous. I do not think anybody is sneering, nobody is insulting age or youth, but it was not too bad a political speech. I do think we have been wasting a lot of our time here in the last few weeks with some of these political speeches.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FILO. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, may I go back to the calendar regarding the resolution we postponed and have it called up again? I would like to withdraw my objection, Sir.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will again lay before the House Senate Resolution Serial No. 134 on page 26 of today's calendar which was passed over. The Chair hears none.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to see this resolution pass today. I had hoped it would be passed yesterday.

As you know, the Greek Orthodox had a convention here yesterday. They were in hopes that this resolution would be passed and could be read at the convention yesterday afternoon. However, the resolution was delayed and was not passed. I think it is very important that we pass it today and copies sent to these organizations. They only ask for the same recognition as any other faith in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I see no harm in having this resolution considered and passed on today.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ADJOURNMENT

Mrs. MUNLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 27, 1955 at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 9:50 a. m. EST) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1955. No. 62.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 27, 1955.

The Senate met at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PAUL S. MONTGOMERY, D. D., Pastor of The United Church of Aspinwall, Presbyterian, Aspinwall, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, we pause now to give Thee thanks for the gift of life, with its opportunities of labor and of service for the common good of men. We invoke Thy Divine blessing upon this Session and its deliberations. Especially we pray, our Father, that Thou wilt give guidance and direction upon these men of the Senate whose province it is to struggle with the very problems of our Commonwealth. O Thou, God of infinite wisdom, grant unto these the ability to think clearly, to plan wisely, to act from worthy motives sincerely. Save us from the lethargy of indifference to the responsibilities of high office.

Cause these all to know that Thou are not far from any one of us; that Thou art as near as our deepest needs, whether they be of the body or of the mind or of the things of the spirit, and that Thou art the One able to do exceeding abundantly of and beyond that which we ask or think.

All these things we ask in the Name of the triune God; the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. McCREESH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DERK, due to illness.

HONORABLE J. ALBERT REED PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I certainly have a distinct honor today in having the privilege of presenting to the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania one of Washington County's most distinguished citizens.

I might say, Members of this Senate, that the gentleman I am about to present to you is a man who could be elected to any public office in Washington County. Oddly enough, he desires no public office. This gentleman served with distinction and honor for quite a number of terms as a Member of the Senate.

It certainly is a pleasure for me to present to you the Honorable J. Albert Reed, of California, Washington County, a former Member of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair also wishes to welcome the Senator here. When I was a Member of the House, he was also my Senator in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

If the gentleman wishes, we will be glad to have him sit at the rostrum.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I believe I prefer to sit over here. I thank you very much, though, for the privilege.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 134

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

URGING THE RECOGNITION OF THE EASTERN ORTHODOX CHURCH AS A MAJOR FAITH IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

In the Senate, May 9, 1955.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is a major faith in America and in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Eastern Orthodox Church is not generally included among the religious confessions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Where anything is said concerning the major faiths, usually only Protestants, Catholics and Jews are referred to.

It, therefore, follows that a religious distinction is being made against the Eastern Orthodox Church, which is contrary to the prevailing liberal and democratic spirit of our Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring),

That the Eastern Orthodox Church be recognized as a major faith in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

That it be included among the religious confessions of this Commonwealth:

That the forms and official papers of the Commonwealth and local government units which refer to the major faiths and now limit them to Protestants, Catholics and Jews, be changed to: Protestants, Catholics, Eastern Orthodox and Jews; and be it further

Resolved, That all media of communication and individuals are hereby requested to include the Eastern Orthodox Church when referring to the major faiths.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to introduce is an answer to a problem which is cankering our city life.

At the present time, Mr. President, the owners of parking lots in Philadelphia, and I presume in Pittsburgh, are exploiting the public by charging terrific prices. It is about time to provide remedial action.

This is the reason why, on behalf of my colleague, Senator Camiel, and myself, I am introducing a bill which will place all these parking lots under the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STIEFEL and CAMIEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 565, entitled:

An Act providing for regulation by the Public Utility Commission of charges made by owners and operators of parking lots and similar facilities; imposing duties on the owners and operators; and prescribing penalties.

An Act amending the act of May 16, 1923 (P. L. 207), entitled "An act providing when, how, upon what property and to what extent, liens shall be allowed for taxes and for municipal improvements, for the removal of nuisances, and for water rents or rates, sewer rates, and lighting rates; for the procedure upon claims filed therefor; the methods for preserving such liens and enforcing payment of such claims; the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened; the distribution of the proceeds of such sales, and the redemption of the property therefrom; for the lien and collection of certain taxes heretofore assessed, and of claims for municipal improvements made and nuisances removed, within six months before the passage of this act; and for the procedure on tax and municipal claims filed under other and prior acts of Assembly," providing for the revesting and reattaching of unpaid taxes and municipal claims and charges on, and estates in, land sold at public sale and thereafter redeemed.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. TAYLOR and DENT (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 568, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 23, 1945 (P. L. 913), entitled "An act relating to and regulating the practice of the profession of engineering; including civil engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, mining engineering, chemical engineering, surveying and constituent parts and combinations thereof as herein provided; providing for the licensing and registration of persons practicing said profession, and the certification of engineers in training, and the suspension and revocation of said licenses, registrations and certifications for violation of this act; prescribing the powers and duties of the State Registration Board for Professional Engineers, the Department of Public Instruction and the courts; prescribing penalties and repealing existing laws," providing for the licensing of certain engineers without examination.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 569, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," restricting the use of highways on Sunday by certain commercial motor vehicles, except those carrying perishables which have been issued a special permit.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE, from the Committee on State Government, reported as amended, House Bill No. 593, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of September, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1646), entitled "An act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray current and other expenses of the State government during any fiscal biennium evidenced by tax anticipation notes, secured by and payable from current revenues of any current biennium levied, assessed, collectible and accruing during such fiscal biennium; defining the powers and duties of the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto; providing for the payment of interest on and the repayment of such loans; and making an appropriation," by further providing a limit on the borrowing of money in any current biennium.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 27, 1955.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 11, 1955, at two-thirty o'clock, p. m., E. S. T., unless sooner reconvened by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, July 11, 1955, at a time to be fixed by the House of Representative, unless sooner reconvened at the call of the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

EXTENDING FELICITATIONS AND FRATERNAL GREETINGS OF THE SENATE TO JEWISH CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in connection with offering this resolution, I would like to read it to the Members of the Senate, and that will eliminate the necessity of having it read by the Reading Clerk:

"In the Senate, June 27, 1955.

"Whereas, Our fellow citizens of the Jewish faith have recently celebrated with pride and patriotic fervour the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of their ancestors in this country; and

"Whereas, Throughout the past three hundred years our Jewish fellow-citizens have contributed greatly to the growth and well-being of our country and of this, our State of Pennsylvania;

"Recalling as we do the continued and unblemished record of their patriotic devotion and sacrifice in behalf of the flag and county;

"Recalling their heroic military services in every war in which our country was engaged from the American Revolution to the World Wars and the Korean conflict in our own time;

"Recalling, furthermore, their devotion to religious freedom, civic righteousness and philanthropy which are the hallmark of Jewish character at its best;

"Bearing in mind the brilliant achievements of numerous American personalities in the arts and in the professions, in law and in literature, in industry and in government, in pioneering accomplishments in industry and commerce; therefore be it

"Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That we, in this General Assembly of Pennsylvania, herewith extend our felicitations and fraternal greetings to our Jewish fellow citizens in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States, giving effect to the sentiment of the Father of our Country when he proclaimed, 'The liberality of seniment toward each other which marks every political and religious denomination of men in this country, stands unparalleled in the history of nations.'

"We reiterate his prayerful conviction: 'Happily the governorment of the United States gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance. It requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens in giving it on all occasions their effective support."

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of this resolution, and request that it be printed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wish that I might have been able to second the motion also, but inasmuch as Senator Dent has seconded it, I will "third" the motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I make it a "joint second" with the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTENDING FELICITATIONS OF THE SENATE TO THE PATRIOTIC ORDER SONS OF ITALY

Messrs. In the Senate, June 27, 1955.

Whereas the patriotic Order Sons of Italy is now celebrating, in Philadelphia, its fiftieth anniversary; and

Whereas the membership of this patriotic Order has contributed to the progress and growth of the United States of America by helping to blend the great cultural heritage of the Italian People with the lofty traditions of our American civilization, thus enleavening the phenomenal forward march of our own culture; and

Whereas under the unmatched leadership of The Honorable Eugene V. Alessandroni, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, for and in Philadelphia County, the patriotic Order Sons of Italy in America is constantly forging ahead to even higher pinnacles of civic, patriotic, and cultural endeavors; now therefore be it

Resolved that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby extend its felicitations to the patriotic Order Sons of Italy in America and its gallant leadership with wishes for further success in its usual unselffish and resplendent contributions to the progress of America; and be it further

Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate of Pennsylvania be directed upon the passage of the instant Resolution to forward a copy thereof to The Honorable Eugene V. Allesandroni, Grand Venerable of the Order Sons of Italy in America.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of the resolution just read.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1026, Printer's No. 309, was discussed in our Republican Caucus today, and there was some difference of opinion as to which agency of government should handle the surplus food distribution. We thought the best way to find out which agency should handle it, and have it placed in a specific agency and this agency be solely responsible for this very important program, was to have the bill recommitted to the Committee on State Government, and have that committee study it and have the bill brought out with some amendment to specifically name the particular agency of State Government which should handle this food distribution.

Therefore, Mr. President, I now move that House Bill No. 1026, Printer's No. 309, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering any administrative department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when so designated by the Governor to cooperate with the United States in the distribution and use of surplus foods and commodities be recommitted to the Committee on State Government, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, it is my understanding that the Department of Property and Supplies now has that particular function of distributing surplus foods to the various counties. Is my assumption correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know. You made an affirmative statement. I think that is true, but I could not swear to it.

Mr. LANE. I know for an actual fact that that is their assumed function today. I would like to know if they have any particular legal status in assuming that responsibility.

Mr. MAHANY. I do not know. Perhaps they should have and I think this bill should specify the department that we would like to have handle this program.

There was some thought that the Department of Public Assistance probably should handle it. However, this bill is quite indefinite. It says that any department designated by the Governor can handle it. I think it is up to the Legislature to decide which department we would like to have handle this surplus food program.

Mr. LANE. Then, am I to assume that, in your opinion, the Department of Property and Supplies has temporarily assumed this obligation or function of distributing surplus foods, but without any legal status? Is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. I think it has. You seem to know more about it than I do. If they have assumed that, I do not believe anybody is objecting to it.

Now a bill is being presented to us to specify what department of government should handle this surplus food program. This bill says, "any department." I feel, and some others on this side of the aisle feel, that we should specify the particular department that we would like to have handle this program. It was this thought that prompted me to move that the bill be recommitted to the committee so that the committee can make some study of it and put the amendment in which will specify the department that they feel will be best able to handle this program.

Mr. LANE. Is there anything wrong with this suggestion, that the bill remain on the Calendar and that the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint a committee of three to study the bill and designate the particular department that should function in regard to the distribution of surplus foods? Is there anything wrong with that suggestion?

Mr. MAHANY. Ordinarily, a thing like this should be studied in the committee and the committee come up with their recommendations. That is what the committee is for. However, if you feel real strongly about it, and want the bill kept on the Calendar and we can work it out here, I do not have any particular objection. I will say, though, that it was our thought that it should go to committee, and that was the reason I made the motion.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

Mr. President, I believe that this is rather important legislation. I am very reluctant to see it go back to committee because we have no assurance that it will come out of committee, although I do not believe that the bill is political.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that in State Government we should designate some particular agency to handle the surplus food problems in Pennsylvania. I believe also that the legislation should be bipartisan. I feel that the President pro tempore could appoint a committee of three to do the job. They could study the functions of the various departments, and I think something could be worked out.

Mr. President, in county government, they have been in a quandary for some time in regard to the responsibility of the distribution of surplus foods. It has been said that county governments have no right to distribute surplus foods. They have no right to expend funds for freight transportation and so forth. As a matter of fact, the Chief Solicitor of Allegheny County made that statement several times and one time, in particular, at a convention. He also argued that the Department of Property and Supplies did not have a legal status in the distribution of surplus foods.

Therefore, Mr. President, it seems to me that this bill should not go back to committee unless we have definite assurance that it will be brought out on the floor, in order that something can be done at this Session of the Legislature in the case of validating expenditures which have already been made both from a county standpoint and from a State standpoint. We should know just exactly with whom we are dealing.

Therefore, Mr. President, I urgently suggest to the Majority Leader that he persuade his group to leave it on the Calendar and let the President pro tempore appoint a committee. Then, I am quite sure it can be worked out satisfactorily to all concerned.

Mr. MAHANY. What the gentleman suggests is certainly an unusual procedure. The President pro tempore would have no authority to appoint a committee to study this bill.

Mr. President, when you need study on a bill it is done by the committee. That is the reason for which these committees exist, so that they may study this legislation and come up with a good piece of legislation. If it needs amendments, they can prepare the amendments and recommend that these amendments be adopted by the Senate.

Mr. President, certainly it was no thought on my part, or any other Republican Senator, or any other Senators whom I have talked to about this bill, that we recommit the bill for the purpose of burial. That certainly was the fartherest from our thoughts.

I am also sure that Senator Diehm, who is chairman of this committee and also a County Commissioner, by the way, is interested in this problem and he will see to it that action is taken on this bill just as soon as it reaches his committee, and I feel quite sure that within the next couple of weeks he will have it reported back to the floor in a suitable form for us to act on.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members, I believe if you will take the bill and look at page 2, line 1, at the top of the page, you will find the answer to the dilemma we appear to be in. Starting in Section 1, page 1, the bill reads:

"Any administrative department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and it is hereby authorized to cooperate with the United States Department of Agriculture or any other Federal agency in the distribution and use of surplus foods and commodities upon being so designated by an Executive Directive of the Governor."

Now, Mr. President, that is the meat of the entire bill. It is not only surplus food but it is "other commodities," and there is not a single department of the State of Pennsylvania that is equipped to handle the situation if we are dealing in other than the Department of Agriculture in the Federal Government.

Mr. President, this bill is patterned after the suggestion of the Federal representatives who came here. I do not think that the selection of any department of the State would do anything but cripple the distribution of food and other commodities.

Mr. President, the Governor has with this authorization by the Legislature, the right to select the proper department of State to handle whatever type of commodity is in surplus and whatever the food problem may be. All of us must remember that this is not a long term right. We are very hopeful that this is a short term right and that this designation for the handling of surplus food is not a permanent action. We are hoping that after the action of the farmers in the Country yesterday on wheat surpluses and wheat control, that we will find that surpluses will not be beyond the amount that they want to retain for emergency purposes.

Mr. President, I would suggest to the gentleman, in all seriousness, without any reflection whatever on the chairman of the committee, whom I have a very high regard for and a fond memory of many fine, cooperative things which he has done for me when we were so abjectly in the minority and could not demand or ask for anything, that the Senate allow the bill to stay on the Calendar and that we do inquire into the possibility of what commodities there may be and whether the Governor may not need more than one department to do this work. If we designate that the Department of Property and Supplies handles this distribution we may later find that the Department of Agriculture, in one particular section of Pennsylvania, will be better qualified to handle it. Maybe the Department of Public Assistance, in some of the rural counties, may be better qualified to handle the distribution than the Department of Property and Supplies or the Department of Agriculture or any other department.

Mr. President, I believe, in looking for efficiency, that the Federal Government has set it up in such a manner that it is not only the Department of Agriculture that handles it in the Federal Government, but it is any department designated by the President. We are only trying to follow the procedure which it set up in the Federal Government.

It is not a matter of life or death whichever way do it. Let us not make a Federal case out of something which is of a temporary nature.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, all we were trying to do was to get a little more study on this legislation and get a little bit more information on it. If we can achieve that by leaving the bill on the Calendar, it will be all right with me and I will withdraw my motion to recommit it to committee.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I wish to withdraw my second to the motion.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Presidnt, I have a letter before me, signed by Governor George M. Leader, to the effect that Doctor William Menninger would like to address a meeting of the Senate and the House in the Hall of the House of Representatives tomorrow at one o'clock daylight time. So that we may be here and go over there to hear Doctor Menninger's talk, I think we should convene before one o'clock tomorrow.

Mr. President, I understand that this talk by Doctor Menninger is chiefly of interest to the Appropriations Committee of both the House and the Senate, but any other Senators who are not on the Appropriations Committee certainly are welcome to go and hear this talk. Perhaps we will get some information about this important program. We do not have any notice as to how long this meeting might last so, therefore, we think that it is better to have the Senate convene immediately before the meeting and then we can come back here after that meeting and continue with our session.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT, WEINER and WATSON read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 572, entitled:

The Senate adjourned at 5:34 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Stanard Time, until Tuesday, June 28, 1955, at 11:45 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, June 27, 1955.

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God, Who has made us in Thine own image so that we can love what Thou dost love, and hate what Thou dost hate, we thank Thee that Thou hast brought us to another day. Take this day's life into Thine own keeping. Control all our thoughts and feelings. Direct all our energies. Instruct our minds. Sustain our wills. Take our hands and make them skilful to serve Thee. Take our feet and make them swift to do Thy bidding. Take our eyes and keep them fixed upon Thine everlasting beauty. Take our mouths and make them eloquent in testimony to Thy love. Make this day a day of obedience, a day of spiritual joy and peace.

Now, O Lord, when this day's work is done grant us rest and peace and prosper all that has been done today in accordance with Thy will, and forgive all that has been done amiss. What good we have done today by Thy grace further for the good of all the citizens of this Commonwealth; and if we have done anything that is of evil, over rule it by Thine almighty power. To Thee, Father and Holy Spirit, be all the glory and praise. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, June 20, Tuesday, June 21 and Wednesday, June 22, 1955? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. STRAUSSER, LEISEY, MAHAN, POLEN, WILLIAMS, POLASKI, ASHTON, McINROY, HEWITT, MAGEE, STEVENSON, Mrs. DONAHUE, Messrs. GEORGE, WOOD, VARNER, WATERHOUSE, BLAIR, YETTER, BULLEN, MURPHY, ESHLEMAN and YETZER. RESOLUTION No. 97.

In the House of Representatives, June 22, 1955.

By 1960, there will be an estimated sixty-two million Americans under age eighteen—sixty-two million out of one hundred seventy-five million—more than one out of every three persons living. Ever since World War II, Americans have been marrying earlier, having their babies sooner, having their babies closer together, and having more of them. By 1975, there will be thirty-six million more of us than exist today, and with a million to a million and a half six-year-old children, over and above the 1940 to 1950 average being added to the public schools each year, we face a terrific shortage.

The teacher supply and demand studies of the National Commission on Teachers Education and Professional Standards, borne out by other investigations, show that we shall need twenty-five to thirty thousand new additional teachers each year just to take care of these new entering pupils. In Pennsylvania, we shall need from one thousand seven hundred to two thousand one hundred of that group of teachers just to take care of our new kindergarten and first grade pupils.

By 1958, in the elementary schools, we will have three pupils where we now have two. By 1962, in the high schools, we will have two pupils where we now have one. By 1965, in the State Teachers Colleges, we will have two students where we now have one.

These conditions present a challenge to the State and its teachers colleges which have the primary responsibility of preparing teachers for the schools of the Commonwealth.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction has submitted to the General State Authority, on behalf of the fourteen Pennsylvania State Teachers College, a requisition amounting to more than thirty million dollars for absolutely essential new construction; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives urges the General State Authority to give top priority to the construction program requested by the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the 1955-1957 biennium in order to provide the sorely-needed new buildings for our State Teachers Colleges, so that we will be in a proper position to take care of the great increase in the number of students and provide a sufficient number of graduate teachers to educate the children of our Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the General State Authority.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mrs. DONAHUE. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The lady will state it.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, on page 1651 of the Journal, on House Bill 1316, I am recorded as "not voting." And again on page 1662, House Bill 1317, I am recorded as "not voting." I was in the Hall of the House and in my seat.

These bills are appropriation bills and the reason I wish to be recorded is this: I was asked by one of the public assistance recipients in my district why I refused to vote on their bills.

Then on page 2267 House Bill 1048, I voted "no" and I am recorded as "not voting," and I was in the Hall of the House. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the lady will be spread upon the Journal. The Chair is encouraged by the fact that so many Members seem to be reading the Journal, a very informative publication, the Chair assures you.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 15 FROM GOVERNOR

Mr. TOMPKINS offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 23, 1955.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 977 as follows:

An Act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution giving cities of the third class the right and power to frame adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government and providing the procedure therefor imposing certain restrictions limitations and regulations imposing duties upon city councils city officers county boards of elections courts and the Secretary of the Commonwealth providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities and imposing penalties

ARTICLE I

Adoption and Amendment of City Charters

Section 1 Cities Empowered to Adopt and Amend Charters Any city of the third class may frame and adopt a charter for its own government and may amend its charter whether the same has been originally adopted under the provisions of this act or provided by local or general law

Section 2 Referendum for Appointment of Commission Ordinance (a) Registered electors equal to at least twenty per centum of all votes cast for mayor at the last preceding municipal election at which a mayor was elected in any city of the third class may petition the county board of elections to have submitted at the first general municipal or primary election occurring more than forty-five days after the petition shall have been presented to the board a proper question that will allow the voters to decide if the city shall retain its existing form of government or if council shall appoint a Home Rule Charter Commission to draft a home rule charter which will later be submitted to the voters for acceptance or rejection Said proceedings shall be in the manner and subject to the provisions of the election laws which relate to the signing filing and adjudication of nomiation petitions in so far as such provisions are applicable

If over fifty per centum of the electors of the city voting at such election shall vote for the appointment of a Home Rule Charter Commission the council of the city of the third class in which such vote has occurred shall provide by ordinance for the appointment of a commission to frame a new charter of the city and for giving public notice of the passage of the ordinance

(b) The clerk of the city council of the city shall file with the mayor of the city and with the Secretary of the Commonwealth a copy of such ordinance certified by him within the five days next following its final passage and shall also cause the public notice to be given as provided in the ordinance

Section 3 Appointment of Members of Commission Within thirty days after the final passage of the ordinance the city council shall appoint a commission to frame a new charter consisting of fifteen registered electors of the city Not more than ten of the members appointed by the city council shall be enrolled members of the same political party

Section 4 Vacancies Any vacancy in the membership of the commission caused by death resignation removal from the city or otherwise shall be filled by the remaining members of the commission by appointing as a member of the commission a registered elector of the city enrolled in the same political party as the member whom such appointee shall succeed

Section 5 Organization of Commission Framing of Proposed New Charter The mayor of the city shall call a meeting of the members of the charter commission so appointed within thirty days after their appointment to be held at a time and place fixed by him in his call and at such meeting the commission shall organize by selecting from their number a chairman and a secretary adopt rules to govern its proceedings and proceed to frame a new charter for the government of such city All meetings of the commission shall be open to the public except when the commission may desire an executive session All actions of the commission shall be by a majority vote of all members

Section 6 Amendments to Charter (a) Amendments to the charter for the government of any city may be proposed by a resolution of the city council adopted with the concurrence of two-thirds of its elected members

(b) Amendments to a charter adopted under the provisions of this act may also be proposed by a petition presented to the city council of the city Such petition shall be in the form prescribed by the city council and shall be signed by not less than five hundred registered electors of the city and shall set forth the text of the proposed amendments and may designate and authorize not less than three nor more than five of the signers thereto to approve any alteration or change in the form or language or any restatement of the text of the proposed amendments which may be made by the city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city as provided in section 7 of this act Each elector signing such petition shall add to his signature his occupation and residence and the date of signing Signatures to the petition may be on separate sheets but each sheet shall have appended to it the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person as on other sheets that to the best of the affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are registered electors of the city that they signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition and that their residences are correctly given

(c) Upon the filing of such petition as hereinafter provided the presiding officer of the city council shall without undue delay submit for the consideration of the city council the question as to whether the amendments proposed thereby shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval If the city council by a resolution adopted with the concurrence of a majority of its elected members shall so determine such proposed amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval otherwise the petition shall be deemed denied

(d) Upon the adoption of a resolution either proposing amendments or to submit to the qualified electors of the city amendments proposed by a petition signed by registered electors the city council shall forthwith provide by ordinance for the submission of the proposed amendments to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval at a special election on the day fixed and designated in the ordinance in accordance with the provisions of section 10 of this act

Section 7 Examination of Petitions for Amendments Filing Rejection (a) When any petition is presented to the city council of the city under or pursuant to the provisions of section 6 of this act it shall be the duty of the clerk of the city council with the assistance and advice of the city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city to examine such petition No such petition shall be permitted to be filed if (i) it contains material errors or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavits or (ii) it contains material errors made after signing without the consent of the signers or (iii) it does not contain a sufficient number of genuine signatures as required by this act Provided That although not hereby required so to do the clerk of the city council may question the genuineness of any signature or signatures appearing thereon and if he shall thereupon find that any such signature or signatures are not genuine such signature or signatures shall be disregarded by him in determining whether the petition contains a sufficient number of signatures as required by this act or (iv) in the case of amendments proposed in the petition if such proposed amendments as set forth in the petition are not in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States or of the Constitution or laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of this act or are not stated in such form or language as may be intelligently or properly submitted to the electors for approval or disapproval

(b) The city solicitor or head of the department of law of the city shall have authority to and may alter or change the form or language of or restate the text of the proposed amendments by and with the aproval of such signers of the petition who may have been authorized therein to aprove any such alteration change or restatement If the form or language of such proposed amendments are thus altered or changed or if the proposed amendments are thus restated the defect arising because of the original form or language in which the proposed amendments were stated shall be deemed corrected The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet The action of the clerk of the city council in rejecting and refusing to file and petition may by reviewed by the court of common pleas of the proper county upon an application for a writ of mandamus to compel its reception as of the tenth day next following the day it was presented to the city council Unless such aplication for a writ of mandamus shall be made and filed in said court of common pleas within ten days after the refusal of the clerk of city council to file the petition the court shall be without jurisdiction to entertain or consider any application for a writ of mandamus or any other proceeding to compel the filing of the petition The clerk of the city council shall be entitled to a reasonable time in which to examine any such petition and to summon and interrogate the persons presenting the petition or any of the signers thereof or any of the affiants to any of the appended or accompanying affidavits and his retention of such petition for the purpose of making such examination or interrogation shall not be construed as the filing thereof

Section 8 Objections to Petitions Any petition presented to the city council of the city under or pursuant to the provisions of section 6 of this act and if filed as hereinbefore provided shall be deemed to be valid unless within seven days after the filing of such petition a petition is presented to the court of common pleas of the proper county by not less than one hundred registered electors of the city specifically setting forth the objections thereto and praying that the said petition be set aside A copy of the petition presented to the court of common pleas shall within said period be served on the clerk of the city council of the city Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing the time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the presentation of the petition to the court and specifying the time and manner of notice by public advertising or otherwise that shall be given of such hearing On the day fixed for the hearing the court shall proceed without delay to hear the objections and shall give such hearing precedence over any other business before it and shall finally determine the matter not later than fifteen days after the last day for presentation of such petition to the court If the court shall find that such petition is defective under the provisions of section 7 of this act or does not contain a sufficient number of genuine signatures of registered electors entitled to sign the same under the provisions of this act it shall be set aside If the objections relate to material errors or defects apparent on the face of the petition or on the face of the accompanying or appended affidavits the court after hearing may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify In case any such petition is dismissed the court shall make such order as to the payment of the costs of the proceding including witness fees as it shall deem just

Section 9 Filing and Distribution of Proposed Charters or Amendments Framing of Ballot Question The new charter proposed by the commission or the proposed amendments which the city council of the city shall have provided by ordinance for submission to the qualified electors of the city for their approval or disapproval as provided in section 6 of this act shall be filed with the city council which shall thereupon cause the proposal or proposals together with the form of the question or questions hereinafter provided for to be printed in pamphlet form in sufficient number for general distribution The said pamphlets shall be made ready for distribution at least twenty-eight days before the election at which the proposals aforesaid are to be voted upon by the electors and the proposals together with the ballot questions shall also be published once a week for three weeks in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the city Such publication shall appear during the three weeks immediately preceding the election at which the vote is to be taken upon the proposals Each ballot question shall be framed in brief form of not more than seventy-five words by the commission proposing the new charter or by the city council of the city in the case of amendments The questions shall be stated in the report of the commission or in the ordinance of the city council Whenever a proposed new charter or amendments shall propose any change in the manner of selection of elected city officers such proposal and the necessary ballot question shall be stated separately from the remainder of the proposed new charter in the report or ordinance as the case may be and in the publications herein required The commission may require that its proposed charter be submitted in two or more parts so arranged that corresponding parts of the existing charter shall remain in effect if one or more of such parts are not adopted and may also submit alternative charters or alternative provisions to supersede designated portions of the proposed charter if adopted In such case the commission shall prescribe the form of questions in such a manner as will clearly indicate the effect of the approval of such questions All amendments to the charter shall be separately submitted The clerk of the city council shall within five days after the filing of a new charter proposed by a charter commission or within five days after final enactment of an ordinance by the city council as aforesaid providing for submission of amendments to its charter certify an exact copy of the text of such new charter or amendments together with the necessary ballot questions to the county board of elections of the county wherein such city is situate The county board of elections shall cause the ballot questions to be properly printed on the ballots or ballot labels

Section 10 Submission of Charter or Amendments to Vote The proposed new charter or amendments shall be submitted to the electors for approval or disapproval by the use of the ballot questions framed as aforesaid at a special election occurring more than forty-five days after the proposed new charter is filed with the city council of the city or the final enactment of an ordinance by the city council providing for the submission of amendments In the case of a proposed new charter the special election shall be held on a day fixed and designated by the any primary or regular November election or a day other than a day for holding any election in the city In the case of proposed amendments to a charter the special election shall be held on the day of any primary or regular November election as shall be fixed and designated by the city council in the ordinance enacted under the provisions of section 6 of this act Whenever a proposed new charter or amendments to the charter shall propose any change in the manner of selection of elected city officers the proposal shall be submitted by a separate ballot question

Section 11 Effect of Adoption of New Charter or Amendments on Existing Laws Any new charter or amendments to the charter of a city thus proposed which are approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon shall become the organic law of the city at such time as may be fixed therein and all courts shall take judicial notice thereof So far as the same are consistent with the grant of powers and the limitations restrictions and regulations hereinafter prescribed they shall supersede any existing charter and all acts or parts of acts local special or general affecting the organization government and powers of such city to the extent that they are inconsistent or in conflict therewith All existing acts or parts of acts and ordinances affecting the organization government and powers of the city not inconsistent or in conflict with the organic law so adopted shall remain in full force No contract existing at the time of the adoption or amendment of a charter by a city under the provisions of this act shall be affected thereby but such contract shall have the same force and effect and be of the same validity as if such charter had not been adopted or amended

Section 12 Recording and Filing of New Charter or Amendments Printing in Pamphlet Laws The clerk of the city council of the city shall forthwith cause the said new charter or amendments as approved by the qualified electors to be recorded in the ordinance book of the city He shall also file a certified copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the text thereof shall be published as an appendix to the next volume of the pamphlet laws subsequently published

Section 13 Conduct of Elections Returns All elections provided for in this act shall be conducted by the election officers for such city in accordance with the Pennsylvania Election Code The election officers shall count the votes cast and make return thereof to the county board of elections The result of any such election shall be computed by the county board of elections in the same manner as is provided by law for the computation of similar returns at any such election Certificates of the result of any such election shall be filed by the county board of elections with the city council of the city and with the Secretary of the Commonwealth

Section 14 Notice of Elections At least thirty days' notice of each election herein provided for shall be given by proclamation of the mayor of the city A copy of such proclamation shall be posted at each polling place of the city on the day of the election and shall be published in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the city once a week for three consecutive weeks during the period of thirty days prior to the election which publications may be included in the publications required to be made under the provisions of section 9 of this act

Section 15 Compensation to Members of Commission and Expenses Paid by City Such compensation to the members of the commission for their services as the city council of the city shall by ordinance deem proper the expenses of the charter commission and the cost of publishing distributing and advertising the proposal or proposals of the commission or of the city council of the city or of electors and the proclamations as required by section 14 of this act and all other expenses of the charter commission and of the city council incurred in connection with any proceedings hereinbefore provided for when not otherwise provided for by law shall be paid from the city treasury and the city council of the city shall provide therefor

Section 16 Limitations on Presenting Petitions For and the Adoption of Charters and Amendments No proposal for the appointment of a charter commission or of a new charter or amendments of similar substance purpose and intent shall be submitted to the qualified electors oftener than once in every five years

Section 21 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Third Class City Home Rule Act"

Section 22 Repealer All acts and parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

Section 23 Effective Date This act shall take effect January 1 1956

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have one of the sponsors of this bill explain the purpose of the bill and what effect it has on different cities, boroughs, townships and towns throughout Pennsylvania.

Mr. POLASKI. Mr. Speaker, this bill affects only third class cities and no other political subdivisions. This is a home rule charter bill for third class cities, which has been amended to satisfy most of the opposition to the bill.

Under this bill in its present form, the city manager is no longer mandatory. In other words, if some people in some third class city decide they want to vote or have the opportunity to vote on a referendum on what type of third class city government they desire, under this plan, if the home rule charter commission is appointed, if the people vote to have a home rule charter, the city manager is not mandatory but optional under this bill.

Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Erie, did I understand him to say this was an optional bill and not a mandatory bill?

Mr. POLASKI. A portion of the bill, Mr. Speaker, is optional yes. In fact, the referendum is also optional. No third class city will have a home rule charter or any change in its government unless the citizens of that city petition council and council submits such petition to the county board of elections, and provides a position on the ballots on such a question.

Mr. MORAN. Was this amended in committee, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLASKI. This bill was amended on the floor of the House, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my obpections.

Mr. POLASKI. The effective date of this bill has been changed from immediately to January 1st, 1956. That is to make sure that no present city mayor in a third class city, or city councilman, will be affected by this bill. In addition to no city official, that is mayor or councilman, being affected, any candidate aspiring to that office now, will also not be affected by this bill.

In Section 18 of the bill, we have written in every possible, conceivable protection for present city employes in their pension rights, in their maximum hours, in their minimum wages and in their civil service rights

I respectfully solict the votes of the Members of the House for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

(During the calling of the roll)

The SPEAKER. Members will take their seats during the roll call, please. The Clerks cannot hear the responses. This is a bill upon which there is a division of opinion and it is noted that because of the confusion the lady from Clinton was obliged to call attention to several different roll calls, upon which she was not correctly recorded. It is important to all Members that you be recorded as you vote. If the Clerks cannot hear you they cannot record you as you vote.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

Section 19 Who May Register Who May Vote Electors Need Register Only Once Exception Every person living in a borough town or township who shall possess all the qualifications of an elector as provided in the constitution and laws of this Commonwealth or who by continued residence in his election district will have obtained such qualifications before the next ensuing election shall be entitled to be registered as herein provided From and after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven no person shall be permitted to vote at any election or primary held in any borough town or township unless he shall have been so registered except by order of a court of common pleas as hereinafter provided and no elector so registered shall be required to register again for any election or primary while he continues to reside at the same address unless his registration is concelled by reason of his failure to vote during a period of [two] four years as hereinafter provided

Section 2 Section thirty-eight of said act as last amended by the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1443) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 38 Cancellation of Registration Upon Failure to Vote During [Two] Four Calendar Years Request for Reinstatement Effect of Removal Notice Within three months after January first [of each year] in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (1955) and within three months after the first day of January every four years thereafter except in such years as the commission shall conduct a check of electors in compliance with clause (c) of section thirty of this act the registration commission shall cause all of the district registers to be examined and in the case of each elector who has been registered for a period of at least [two] four immediately preceding calendar years and who is not recorded as having voted at any election or primary during said period the commission shall send to such elector by mail at his address appearing upon his registration card a notice setting forth that the records of the commission indicate that he has not voted during the [two] four immediately preceding calendar years and that his registration will be cancelled at the expiration of ten days from the date of mailing such notice unless he shall within that period file with the commission either personally or by mail a written request for reinstatement of his registration or a removal notice properly executed setting forth his place of residence and signed by him At the expiration of the time specified in the notice the commission shall cancel the registration of such elector unless he has filed with the commission a signed request for reinstatement of his registration as above provided or a removal notice. The cancellation of the registration of any such elector for failure to vote during the [two] four immediately preceding calendar years shall not affect the right of any such elector to subsequently register by personal application to the commission or a commissioner or a registrar or a clerk in the manner provided by this act

Such removal notice properly executed shall have the same effect as the request for reinstatement as above provided where failure to vote during [two] four calendar years may cause cancellation of registration Either a removal notice card or request for reinstatement card shall be permitted to be used interchangeably in such circumstances

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the privilege of speaking on House Bills 576, 577, 578, 579 and 1342 on page 25, as they all relate to the same subject matter.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the gentleman will be permitted to discuss these various bills as a package. The Chair hears no objection and the gentleman from Berks will proceed.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, these bills would change the period from two years to four years during which a person's registration for the purpose of voting would not be cancelled for failure to vote.

Every year a great many registration cards must be removed from the files because some person fails to vote within the second year. It is believed that this change in the law will save a great deal of time, effort and expense. Many of the people who for one reason or another fail to vote each two years do desire to vote during the third or fourth year and find too late to their sorrow, that they have not re-registered and cannot vote. It is believed by many that a lot of people are disenfranchised from voting because of this. And we believe it would be a wise change to make to allow the registration to stand for a period of four years, and then require the voters to re-register if they have failed to vote.

I ask the Membership of the House to support this bill and the others similar to it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we feel that the present system of permitting your name to remain on the permanent voting list for two years is working out well in Pensylvania. We think that to leave names on the voting rolls for four years will open the door to fraud, will create a great deal of chaos, and we do not think it is a good thing to keep the rolls open for four years.

I was talking to a person in a very busy county in Pennsylvania, where there are a lot of itinerant workers that come in and out of the county and communities. and this particular party worker said "why, in my voting district, to leave names on for four years will create such a situation that we really won't know how to get the vote out on election night."

That is particularly true in the highly populous areas in Pennsylvania, and as we see it, it will create such confusion in the various offices of the registration commissions to leave the name on for four years, and create such a disturbance on election day that we do not think it is a good thing to keep the rolls open that way for four years. Therefore, we are asking the Membership to vote down these bills.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if he would specify, if he can, in what manner any confusion would arise, due to the fact that a voter's card was kept on file and alive for a period of four years, which cannot happen now.

Mr. JOHNSON. In answer to the gentleman's query, most of us work at the polls on election day. Even in my little community of Smethport, with a relatively small turnover of voters, it is very remarkable on election day to note the large number of names that are on the voting list that have either passed away, have moved away or have moved into the district and are not entitled to vote. We have such confusion, as I say, in going over our list in a small borough of 2,000 people, and I can see where in a large city like Philadelphia or in the voting districts in Pittsburgh or in Westmoreland County, where you have a large turnover, you would get a list that is four years old, which presumably had been culled for voters that had no business voting and yet the names would still be on the list. You will find, as I say, that it will open the door to people voting in a district that have no business voting there. I think it is not a good thing, as I said before, to keep it open for four years.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether it is not true that any person who presents himself at a polling place and asks for the right to vote can be challenged as to his continual residence in the district?

Mr. JOHNSON. That is true, in answer to the gentleman's query, and it is true that a voter can be challenged. But I am just wondering how often that is done. People in a busy district—the people in the polling booth don't generally know the people on the whole too well, and an awful lot of voting is done right now that is in violation of the voting laws of Pennsylvania by reason of the lack of that knowledge.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether it is not true that a person who removes from his voting district within the two year period might come back and vote, if not challenged?

Mr. JOHNSON. The gentleman is correct. That is being done today where people have moved out of the district and do not have the right to vote, they come and they do vote, and in the district where they are registered, where they have no legal right to do it, but it is because of a lack of knowledge on the part of the voting officials of the fact that that particular party has moved out of the voting district.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman. Mr. Speaker. It seems to me that the arguments made by the gentleman from McKean indicate that he would like to see the registration laws changed from two years to one year.

I presume from his argument that there would be half as much confusion if we cut the present period from two years to one year. It also seems obvious to me from his argument that this confusion which arises through the proposed four year period is confusion among the party workers. They go to a house and they find that John Smith moved away the year before, and they go to some more and they find they have moved away, so they are besieged and beset and confused by having to look up a lot of veople who have moved away. But apparently it is not confusing registration officials; it is not confusing the election officials, but only the party worker who would like to go out and see that that particular party votes. So I do not think that we are doing anything wrong by voting for this bill today except to confuse some party workers, and we are certainly not here for that purpose today. I think these are good bills and should be voted for.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the privilege of voting should not be a four year obligation. Under this bill people would be allowed not to vote every four years, and they would continue on the rolls.

We really feel it would be in the best interest of all concerned that a person be obligated to vote every year. In some governments such as Australia, a person who fails to vote is fined. We should not make it easy for people to exercise this wonderful privilege by only voting every four years. I say this bill is not in the public interest and should be voted down.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, yields to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have spoken to the registration commissioners of our most populous city, and that is the City of Philadelphia. I wished to obtain their opinion before voting on this bill. According to the registration commissioners these bills, if approved, would create less confusion and would be a great saving of time to the commissioners and people of Philadelphia and of the other districts on behalf of the registration commissioners as mentioned by the gentleman on the other side, on behalf of a city that is quite populous in character, they are fully in accord with the provisions of the bill and favor it.

Therefore, I ask the Members to vote in favor of the bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I consider these bills very worthwhile bills for the following reasons:

First of all, practically all of our offices in Pennsylvania are set up for four-year periods. We vote for a president each four years, we vote for a Governor each four years, and the county row offces are also based on four-year terms.

Throughout the Commonwealth we have a number of people who are interested only in presidential elections and every presidential year you have a terrific increase in rgistrations and then during the interim they fall off, which requires the local registration commission to strike many thousands of names off the list, only to go through the trouble of adding them on again at the next presidential election.

Likewise, many people only vote during the governorship race, they do not care too much about the local campaigns, and as a result we also have a situation where many people vote for governor, and then have their names stricken off and again put on the next time the governorship comes up.

Since all of our officers are elected on a four-year basis, it seems to me it would be a great advantage to also continue our registration on the same four-year plan.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. CHARLES C. SMITH, HELM and ERB.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 961 Printer's No. 474 and

House Bill No. 1037, Printer's No. 477

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1342 as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1937 (P. L. 115), entitled "An act to provide for the permanent personal registration of electors in cities of the first class as a condition of their right to vote at elections and primaries, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries; prescribing certain procedure for the conduct of elections and primaries and the challenge and proof of qualifications of electors; and prescribing the powers and duties of citizens, parties, bodies of electors, registration commissions, commissioners, registrars, inspectors of registration and other appointees of registration commission, election officers, municipal officers, departments and bureaus, police officers, courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, county commissioners, peace officers, county treasurers, county controllers, registrars of vital statistics, real estate brokers, rental agents, certain public service companies, persons, firms, and corporations operating vehicles for moving furniture and household goods, and boards of school directors; and imposing penalties," changing the provisions with respect to cancellation of registration for failure to vote.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1553 as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Whereas Under the Constitution and the laws of this Commonwealth the State Treasurer may not pay out any moneys unless they be specifically appropriated by Act of the General Assembly therefore

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 That the sum of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the State Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose of paying the salaries and wages of the officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses of the State government in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as moneys appropriated by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts of one thousand nine hundred fifty-five may become available for such purposes and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Section 2 Payments out of the appropriation of this act shall be made by the State Treasurer upon requisitions by the several departments boards commissions or officers in the same manner as payments are ordinarily made

Section 3 All amounts paid by the State Treasurer in accordance with this act shall be charged against the appropriations made for the salaries and wages of the officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses of the State government in the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts of one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what is the purpose and necessity of this additional appropriation of $50 million at this time?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose is to carry on the functions of the state of Pennsylvania pending the passage of the final appropriation bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please tell us why this appropriation is necesary in view of the fact that several weeks ago we passed a like appropriation in the amount of $50 million?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to the gentleman while $50 million is a considerable amount of money, it is not inexhaustible. As the budget of the Commonwealth is quite extensive, it is very possible we will need this additional authorization or appropriation prior to the time this House and the Senate adopt the final appropriation bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman break down for us how they are spending the original $50 million as to specific categories and how they intend to spend this additional $50 million as to categories of spending?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not prepared today to do that, perhaps the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee might be. If he is, I will yield to Mr. Polen. If he is not prepared today, we will furnish the gentleman with the answer tomorrow, but I do assure the gentleman that we are going to need this additional $50 million sometime in the reasonably near future.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, yield to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the gentleman from Washington.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would state that this appropriation of $50 million is approximately one twenty-fourth of the amount necessary to run the general fund budget. It is appropriated to the State Treasurer and the different bills of the Commonwealth from the various departments are paid from this appropriation. The original appropriation of $50 million which the gentleman speaks of will be exhausted sometime early in July and this stopgap is necessary to continue the functions of the Commonwealth.

Mr. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman, although you have not given me the answer I want. I will give you my position on this particular bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, several weeks ago we did pass an emergency, a so-called emergency, appropriation bill in the amount of $50 million. As we have read the bills, this bill and the other one, it says that the $50 million is to cover salaries and the expenses of running our state government. As we interpret the $50 million, it provides money for that item which totals, even though we mention the inflated figure, the amount of $330 million which is in the Governor's budget for general governmental operations, and that is exclusive of grants, subsidies and debt retirement.

If you divide that $330 million by twenty-four months, you will obtain about $13.7 million per month. As we figure it, this $50 million that we gave you originally will run on into the month of September, and this additional $50 million would run from September to approximately the first of the year.

We on this side do not propose to pass the Governor's budget piecemeal. It reminds me of cutting off a dog's tail inch by inch. We feel the $50 million we have already appropriated will last well into the month of September and there is no need for rushing through an additional $50 million appropriation at this time.

Therefore, we ask the Members of the House to vote agaist this bill at this time, although if you have been able to muster enough votes for your tax program, at the proper time, in order that the machinery of government will not break down, we, of course, will go along on a stopgap appropriation.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I, of course, do not have available at this time the breakdown which the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, requested.

The figures I have show the present appropriation of $50 million which was made some time ago will run into early July. This will be necessary due to the fact that the bill was passed here in the House, and is now in the Senate, on the tax anticipation notes has not been passed. This appropriation is necessary in order to continue the payment of bills, salariese and expenses of the Commonwealth.

I would ask the Members of the House to support and vote for this bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Do I understand, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman does not have a breakdown of how you are spending the original $50 million?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have that breakdown, but we can secure it from the State Treasurer as to what payments have been made from the $50 million.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, would you mind passing this bill over until we get a statement of that?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we object to passing it over at this time because we have to pass it this week in order that it may be passed the week of July 11th in the Senate.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have a breakdown of how this second $50 million will be spent?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman ask me the question, do I have a breakdown?

Mr. JOHNSON. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. I do not, Mr. Speaker. It will go to the general expenses of the Commonwealth as the bills are requisitioned to the State Treasurer and Auditor General. It will go for all salaries and expenses.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman made a statement about tax anticipation notes. Isn't it true, even though you are able to borrow money right now on tax anicipation notes, that you cannot spend that money unless you have specific appropriation bills passed by this House?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that you can borrow against the appropriations.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, is it the gentleman's contention if we pass this $50 million, add it to the other $50 million and then add to that what we have already passed for public assistance, if the bill in the Senate authorizing the borrowing of money on tax anticipation notes on revenue is not passed, that you can at least borrow money on the $150 million worth of appropriations we have already passed on a stopgap basis?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is my understanding.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is actually to permit the borrowing of money on tax anticipation notes by virtue of appropriation bills passed by this House and Senate?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the bill had passed the Senate, it would permit us to borrow on estimated revenues. As I understand it, this bill is more necessary now because of the fact that that bill in the Senate has not been passed. This is not a new thing, stopgap appropriations. It has been done in the past when we have not had the tax program through or have not passed the regular appropriation bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Before I ask another question, Mr. Speaker, I want to make a statement and then see whether the gentleman agrees.

Under the present law this Commonwealth cannot borrow any money on tax anticipation notes unless there are appropriation bills passed by this Legislature and signed by the Governor which create obligations of the Commonwealth.

Isn't that correct?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. JOHNSON. Therefore, if we give you this additional $50 million added to the original $50 million, and then add to it what we have passed for public assistance, you will be able to borrow money on tax anticipation notes by reason of these appropriation bills that we are passing. Is that right?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, if the cash would not be in the treasury, it would enable them to borrow the money, as I understand it.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, actually this appropriation is not necessary to keep the government functioning. It is necessary so that you can borrow on tax anticipation notes, isn't that right?

Mr. POLEN. No. Mr. Speaker, that is not correct. After the present appropriation of $50 million is exhausted, we will need an additional appropriation if we are to continue to pay our bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Isn't it true, Mr. Speaker, that the original $50 million appropriation bill, plus this $50 million bill on the calendar today, provides no money for the support of public schools, that being a subsidy bill which is a separate bill and is not under the heading of expenses of operating the departments of our State government?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, that is correct. This would provide for the payment of salaries and expenses, but not cover school subsidies. Separate bills are being introduced for that purpose.

Mr. JOHNSON. Well, Mr. Speaker, if you will divide $330 million by twenty-four, you will get about $13 million per month as the cost to run the several departments. Isn't that true?

Mr. POLEN. The figures sound correct to me, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, four months at $13 million a month would be $52 million, so the original $50 million will run on into the month of September. Isn't that right?

Mr. POLEN. I do not believe that is correct.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please explain why he does not think that is correct?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would have to get the details, but in a conference with the budget office they told me the $50 million appropriation would run into July and then this apropriation would be necessary. I think it is unwise that we permit it to get so close that we couldn't pay our bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman mind passing this bill over until he can give the House some accurate, definite figures on the real need for this money at this time?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I object to passing it over at this time. We discussed this matter thoroughly in Committee and there were no objections to it. It is the usual procedure, and anything we appropriate here will be deducted from the other appropriation bills.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman expect the Members of this House to vote $50 million to be spent in a manner that you are not able to tell us today what it is going to be spent for in the immediate future?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, we did it in the past. Every appropriation will be charged, or every account or symbol will be charged, with the amount that goes out of this apropriation. As I stated before, these amounts that we are appropriating now will be deducted from the figures when we have passed the appropriation bills. They are not in addition to them, they will be deducted from them.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman agree that at the rate of $13 million a month the original $50 million will not be exhausted until late September?

Mr. POLEN. No, Mr. Speaker, I would not agree with that. I have stated that the budget office tells me that the $50 million we did appropriate will run into July.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think it is fair to ask us to vote on this bill without our knowing definitely what the money is going to be spent for?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill has been on the calendar several days. If the question had been raised, I am sure we could have gotten the full details on it. It seems to me it is rather academic to ask where it is goin, because it is all going to be deducted from the appropriation.

Mr. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

I want to say to the membership of the House that I think I am correct in the way I have analyzed the need for money based on the bill that is before us.

If you will look at the budget, it is going to cost $330 million during the next two years to run our several departments, and that is according to Governor Leader's own figure. If we accept those figures, it would run about $13 million a month or, as I have stated, down into September before we would need any additional money.

The Members on this side of the House certainly are reluctant to vote for the Governor's budget piecemeal. They would like to see the appropriation bills on the calendar so they would know what they total, what particular appropriations, if any, should be amended or even increased. Therefore, today we feel it is not right to ask us to vote for an additional $50 million when it appears that the purpose of it is to have these appropriations on the books so that tax anticipation notes can be issued against them, when the possibility exists that the Senate might not pass the tax anticipation bill which is before them, which as you know will permit borrowing money against revenues before any appropriation bills have been passed.

Therefore, I again say I think this bill should be voted down at this time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I am very ignorant on matters of the budget. I do not have the slighest notion of what this conversation is all about, but Mr. Johnson seems to be fairly well acquainted with it.

I would like to know from the gentleman just how the deficit, if there is one, and I believe there has been an admission of at least $50 million, would enter into this picture, if at all?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the so-called deficit does not enter into this picture. I can give you quite a discussion on what should have been done, and then I can tell you what has been done.

If you will read the so-called Liveright case which was decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, that decision laid down the principle that the Commonwealth cannot end a biennium more than $1 million in debt. The Governor when he came into office on January 18th had figures in front of him and knew that there would be a net deficit of some $50 million. If he would have followed that court decision with particularity, and also the opinion of William Schnader, the then Attorney General, the Governor would have been forced at the time to lapse enough appropriation bills so the state would not be more than $1 million in debt. I know an attempt was made to try and lapse some apropriations to meet that particular problem.

As I understand the appropriation acts of last session and of previous sessions, any money that was not expended during the biennium that particular appropriation lapsed. Therefore, I say in order to meet those particular obligations, if they exist by reason of the deficit, new appropriation bills will have to be passed and earmarked for a particular purpose. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. LOPRESTI Mr. Speaker, does the deficit mean unpaid bills that the treasurer must pay?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I can't say it does. I think the deficit merely indicates there was an intention on the part of the state government to spend so many million dollars and, if they did not have the money at the end of the biennium, I do not see how they could spend it.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the gentleman's statement, he mentioned that the appropriation bills should be introduced. I will advise the House that today I introduced the bills covering the Department of Public Instruction, tomorrow I hope to have a majority of the appropriation bills introduced so they can be discussed and debated, and then the Appropriations Committee will take action upon them.

I might further state in connection with the question the gentleman raised that if he will read on page 3 of the bill he will see that all amounts paid to the state treasurer in accordance with this act shall be charged against the appropriations made to the salaries and wages of the officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses of the state government in the General Appropration Act and other appropriation acts of 1955. In other words, any money that is expended under these stopgap appropriations will be charged to and deducted from the General Appropriation and other appropriation bills.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from McKean, I would like to say that this side recognizes obstructionist tactics when it sees them. But if it will make the gentleman happier to wait until tomorrow, until we can give him a more specific breakdown of the manner in which this money has been spent and is being spent, I shall be glad to accede to his wishes and ask that this bill be passed over until tomorrow.

However, the gentleman must know, having read the bill, that all of this money, the $50 million that was appropriated and the $50 million sought to be appropriated in this bill, is for ordinary and general expenses of this government until such time as specific appropriation bills are passed. If he is worried about us overspending what is called for in the budget, $100 million is still $230 million short of $330 million. But I say if the gentleman on the other side will be happier to wait until tomorrow, when we can bring him a breakdown on exactly what has been done with the first $50 million and approximately how long that will last, we shall be glad to do so, but I do not want to put the other side in the position of having defeated a bill which may become very necessary in the near future and result in some of our worthy state employes not getting paid for a period of time.

So, Mr. Speaker, I ask that this bill be passed over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, that the bill having been passed on third reading and debated, the parliamentary situation is that the motion should be that this bill be placed upon the final passage postponed calendar. The other bills as you come to them can be passed over in order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1554, Printer's No. 507,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Majority Leader, if he desires to call up Bills 1554 and 1555, there will be some votes on this side of the House for him, if he does not have sufficient votes to pass them.

Mr. READINGER. How many?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. We shall supply sufficient votes on the part of the Minority to pass the bills.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I still ask that the bill be passed over until tomorrow.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1555, Printer's No. 508,

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Erb for Mr. AUKER for today's session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I would like to address my remarks to the Majority Leader on the last bill, the school bill, wherein you are taking the appropriation of the last session of $348 million, and putting it back from $338 to $348 million.

There has been a question raised as to whether you can go back into a previous biennium and take an appropriiation bill and raise it. We have been informed that appropriations die at the end of a biennium and as this is a bill of great importance to the school districts we are wondering whether you should, shall I say, flirt with unconstitutionality, when it is vital that this $10 million be restored. Now, if tomorrow you would be prepared to give us an answer on that subject, we shall appreciate it.

Mr. READINGER. I shall be happy to do that.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUBIN from the Committee on Professional Licensure, reported as amended, House Bill No. 177, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 19, 1931 (P. PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. KAMYK asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. NEEDHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WALSH. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, for the last couple of months the air conditioning system back here has been giving me a stiff neck and a cold. I have appealed to the Chief Clerk and everyone else to see if the condtion could be remedied and we be made comfortable back here. I wish they would fix it.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker will direct the Chief Clerk's attention to the condition existing.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. HELM, CHARLES C. SMITH, JOHNSON and BOWER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1955.

Sunday, June 26, 1955, marked the forty-fourth birthday of the Honorable Robert F. Kent, member of the House of Representatives from Crawford County.

The House has been honored by his presence since 1946. During the session of 1953 he became well known to us as the majority whip.

The honors and achievements which "Bob" Kent has attained as a soldier, a statesman and a citizen in his few short years indicate a rich and full life ahead; a life which we feel sure he will conscientiously devote to the good of his fellowmen as he has so admirably in the years which have passed.

The sterling personality of this fine gentleman makes it a great pleasure to be in his companionship and to serve with him; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby congratulates "Bob" Kent on his birthday anniversary and extends to him its very best wishes for many more happy anniversaries in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House transmit a copy of this resolution to The Honorable Robert F. Kent, 738 Maple Street, Meadville, Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the sterling statesman from Crawford. The House will be in order for his statesmanlike deliverance.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I certainly want to have a copy of that resolution, because there were a lot of gentlemen sitting around me here who had their fingers crossed as it was being read. I was going to suggest that I might know who wrote it from some other things that I have heard on the floor of the House here, but I believe the Speaker would probably rap me out of order. So I will dispense with that and maybe I can find out privately who lavished those very kind and very gracious words on me.

I want to thank all the Members of the House for their thoughtfulness and their kindness in remembering me, at least the day after my birthday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, my worthy adversary on the other side, Mr. Smith, has been making some very, very fine political speeches from the floor of this House. But I noticed that in the last several weeks he seems to have deteriorated somewhat, and that the amount of applause he is getting from his own Members is diminishing.

Well, as the gentleman is on my mind practically all the time, whether I be sleeping or eating or visiting gift shops, I happened to think about him the other day as I visited a gift shop with my wife in the city of Reading.

I was feeling sort of sad about this condition, because I hate to see the day come when the gentleman makes one of his fine political speeches and gets no applause either on his side or on our side. That is something that should not happen to any gentleman of the caliber of my friend, Mr. Smith.

So, Mr. Speaker, I procured this little object here, which I would like to give to him in a moment, one that will never let him down and I hope it does not let me down now.

Mr. Smth, if ever your boys fail to applaud, you put this in your desk and it will help you out.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I can't even stop the applause now—it won't stop. It really isn't the applause on this side of the House that counts, Mr. Speaker, it is when we get the applause from the other side of the House.

I do not want the gentleman to think that we are deteriorating in any respect. We are just saving our strength, because these nightly apearances do help out so much for the Republican party on TV, that we just don't want to waste all of the talents here before the gentleman from Berks.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we of the rural districts listen to speeches of all kinds, and we of the rural districts make very few speeches on the fioor, but when we go back home we are so hungry for applause that we have to go out into the open hinterlands, and do our speechifying in the pastures of our farm lands, where we get the right kind of applause, which goes something like this, Mr. Speaker, "M-o-o."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on the matter of Resolution No. 93 which I introduced into this House on June 15, 1955, I have a letter from the Friends Committee on National Legislation and signed by its Executive Secretary, E. Raymond Wilson, supporting the general purpose of Resolution No. 93.

I also have in my possession a signed statement giving wholehearted endorsement of this Resolution No. 93 in its present form and substance by the members of Warrington Monthly Meeting of Friends at Wellsville, Pa., located in York County.

In the light of these letters, I urge the Rules Committee of this House to reconsider its present position on Resolution No. 93 and let the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth take the real lead in backing up the President of the United States in his efforts for world peace on July 18th in Geneva.

Mr. Speaker, I ask permission of the House to have the contents of these letters and statements entered upon the Legislative Journal and that these originals be returned to my possession after the contents thereof have been entered upon today's Legislative Journal.

Will the House, through its Speaker, give this permission?

The SPEAKER. Without objection, permission is granted. The Chair hears none.

Following is the material inserted in the record by Mr. WORLEY.

June 19, 1955

We the members of Warrington Monthly Meeting of Friends at Wellsville, Pa. hereby give our wholehearted endorsement of this resolution, No. 93, of the House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania. Signed:

The Honorable Francis Worley
Pennsylvania State House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Representative Worley:

I want to write in support of the general purpose of your Resolution No. 93 urging American leadership in efforts to seek universal disarmament of all nations with adequate inspection and supervision by the United Nations.

At the present time nearly nineteen million men and women in the world are under arms and about one-eighth of the world's production goes into preparation for warfare. An atomic war would be mutual suicide and devastation and our political and military leaders are saying increasingly that the only satisfactory answer is the abolition of war itself.

In this country the burden of arms is tremendous. Nearly one-sixth of our labor force is in military service or producing for military ends. In a world where two-thirds of the human race are still hungry or ill nourished, where so many are illiterate or sick, the energies of mankind should be directed toward constructive goals rather than in an increasingly dangerous armaments race.

No one would underestimate the difficulties. But mankind must somehow find the answer to peace and security. An essential part of that effort is to lift the burden of arms from all peoples.

Sincerely yours,

E. Raymond Wilson,
Executive Secretary

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 15

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 23, 1955

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 81, entitled "An act amending the act of June 16 1836 (P. L. 715) entitled 'An act relating to Reference and Arbitration' further providing for membership of arbitration boards", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GARLOCK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I listened last Monday to one of my colleagues on the other side of the House berate the Highway Department, the Governor's office and the Governor of this Commonwealth. He made some statements in regard to the Highway Department which I very much disagree with.

He says they have dismissed very efficient men and do not have anyone to replace them. He also states they have carried on a very progressive road-building program in the last four administrations—with which I very much disagree. During five of those years there were hardly any highways built in this Commonwealth, and during the other eleven years of the time he spoke of there may have been highways built in some sections of this Commonwealth, I think mostly for political reasons.

In our community the Highway Department was used 100 per cent for a political machine; it was impossible for a Democrat to go work on the Highway Department.

I think we are moving too slow, I think we should kick out the balance of the Highway employes and put in men who can do the job. I know we have them, I know they are capable of doing the job, and I know these hold-overs are trying to do a good job saying that our people who are applying for the jobs cannot fill them. They are being interviewed principally by Republican hold-overs who did not do too good a job themselves.

I have an instance in our county where they tried to run water up hill in an open ditch, and I am quite sure it does not take a smart engineer to do a job of that kind, because a boy in the fifth grade knows that you do not run water up hill in an open ditch.

If they are the kind of men that are being fired out of the Highway Department, they sure waited too long to fire them. I spoke to the Chief Engineer, Mr. Buckius, who I think should have been fired about twenty years prior to the time that he was. He had a very arrogant attitude toward anyone who mentioned roads in the state of Pennsylvania. A delegation from our particular district came down to see Mr. Buckius and he said he could inform us, or tell us, that there would be no improvements made on our highway in the next six years; he could guarantee that, and as far as he could see twenty to thirty years beyond that. I say that he was a 1918 engineer at the time he went to work and did not progress with the times.

I also disagree very much with my colleague on the idea that Route 6 is one of the most important highways in the state of Pennsylvania. I happen to live along Route 30 and I think Route 30 is one of the most important in the state of Pennsylvania. I think it contributes more to the defense of the nation than any other highway in this state. It furnishes access to Pittsburgh, Chicago, the great towns of Ohio, and the eastern seaboard.

I think we should go ahead and do a good job of cleaning these boys out and putting our own men in, and then we can take the criticism, if they have criticism to offer, of the job we do. We won't blame it on the hold-overs.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr Speaker, there seems to be quite a bit of dispute as to the amount of road building which the previous administrations have done.

We must admit that not only in Pennsylvania but in the whole United States for a period of four or five years there was no road building done.

I should like to make this statement, that the gentleman from Philadelphia, who was a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket four years ago against the Republican candidate for Governor John S. Fine, when he appeared in our section of the state every time he took the platform he made excuses to the people that he was sorry that he might have been a little late, or that he had trouble getting into the community because of the detours he had to make on account of roads that were being built. That is a very good indication that we were not lax in that respect.

I might further state that when I first came to this House in 1947 my riding companion both in 1947 and 1949 was the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson. I think he will bear me out that we travelled a route by way of Clearfield, State College and Lewistown to get into Harrisburg because of the road being built from Amity Hall into Selinsgrove. We also had to travel a route on the other side of the river through Duncannon because of the road being built from Clarks Ferry Bridge down. In '51, '53 and '55 we had the privilege of traveling over some beautiful roads to get to our work here in Harrisburg. I think if you will travel around the state of Pennsylvania, you will find that same condition exists.

I have not heard a great deal of objection to the detours there are up to the present time, although there is a tremendous amount of road building being done. I think you will find if you check the statistics that Pennsylvania has built more roads in the last twelve years than any other state in the nation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GARLOCK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

I will agree that we have had detours in the state of Pennsylvania, but as I stated before I think they have been put where they would do the GOP the most good. That is one reason today I would suggest that the Governor, rather than asking for a one cent increase in gasoline tax, ask for two, and give us some roads in other sections of the country, sections that have not done so well, and have not fared so well as some of the people have on the other side of the House.

We have not been bothered with detours in our section of the country except at election time. We have had detours there, I had to travel a detour last fall when I was campaigning. That is true, they finished the job up the day school started. They did have some road building programs at that time, election years particularly.

INTERROGATION

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Fulton.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Garlock, if he will consent to be interrogated

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fulton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GARLOCK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether the Democrats out-register the Republicans in the City of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County?

Mr. GARLOCK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that past Republican administrations were playing politics when they invested hundreds of millions of dollars in the Allegheny County Parkway East and Parkway West?

Mr. GARLOCK. Yes, sir, hoping to pick up some of those Democratic registrations and get them on the Republican side.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 28, 1955. No. 63.

SENATE

TUESDAY, June 28, 1955.

The Senate met at 11:45 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PAUL S. MONTGOMERY, D. D., Pastor of The United Church of Aspinwall, Presbyterian, Aspinwall, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Father, Who hast given us this great Commonwealth for our heritage, we humble beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy divine favor and desirous to do Thy will.

Bless our land, we pray Thee, with honorable industry, fruitful farming and sound learning. Save us from the spirit of pride and arrogance and evil intrigue.

For these now assembled here in this Senate we pray, for the President, for the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders, for each Senator, that Thou, O God, wilt endue with true wisdom and discernment all these whom we entrust with the authority of government.

Keep us spiritually keen, that when our minds may be confused, our hearts will know the answer. Then grant us O God, the courage of our convictions. With the undergirding of Thine infinite wisdom and patience, match us to the duties of the day before us.

All this we ask with the forgiveness of our sins, through the merit of Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. SILVERT, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was aproved.

DELEGATION FROM PUMPSVILLE GRANGE, BUCKS COUNTY, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you and the Members of the Senate, a delegation from the Pumpsville Grange, Bucks County.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the other Members of the Senate, wishes to welcome the group from Bucks County to the Senate Chamber. I hope you enjoy your visit with us.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DERK, due to illness.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thought perhaps the Members of the Senate would like to hear the latest word that I have received about Doctor Derk.

Mr. President, today, I received a letter from the Doctor, himself, and he said that he is now out of the iron lung and fighting with his doctor to go home. He said that he is, according to his physician and according to his own feelings, feeling great and out of danger, and he wanted the Members of the Senate to know that he appreciates the very fine words which have been sent up there wishing him well. He hopes to be with all of us very shortly.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 28, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly:

One of the most important tasks which this Assembly and this Administration will face is the revision and improvement of our State's program for the care and education of its children who suffer grave physical or mental disabilities.

A savage society, living by the rule of tooth and claw, can solve such problems by a callous order of survival of the fittest. In a society such as ours, with its religious and humanitarian ethic, we must recognize our responsibilities and do everything within our power to assure every child in the State of an opportunity to overcome as far as possible his disability and to become a useful and productive citizen.

Ithink we will all admit that Pennsylvania has not yet perfected a program in which we bring maximum attention to the problems of the handicapped child. It is time that we did so, and this Administration is therefore submitting legislation to the General Assembly which will provide a stimulus to our system of public education which will place new emphasis in every county in the State on the special educational needs of the handicapped.

It is my hope that the Members of the House and Senate will give such legislation their prompt and sympathetic consideration.

The extent of the problem is shocking. It is estimated that twenty per cent, one out of every five, of our children are seriously handicaped by some physical or mental disability.

Our neglect is also shocking. Only twenty-five per cent of our handicapped children are enrolled in the special classes which alone can help them to attain the fullest potential of their possible achievement.

It is now proposed that we move forthwith to a more effective program which will have as its goal the establishment of special educational services and classes for the handicapped child everywhere in the Commonwealth.

The suggested legislation will provide:

1. An over-all survey of all the school districts of the second, third, and fourth class to establish the number and type of handicapped children. Such surveys will be made on a county-wide basis and reported to the County Board of School Directors.

2. The preparation of a county plan for the establishment of special services and classes for handicapped children. This plan will be prepared by the County Board of School Directors in cooperation with the school districts in the county not under the Board's jurisdiction. The county plan will be submitted to the Department of Public Instruction for approval.

3. Classes for handicapped children will be set up by local districts or by the County Board in accordance with the approved plan. The operation of these classes will be mandatory.

4. The over-all survey and development of plans will be done during the school year of 1955-56.

5. The organization of classes and services will be accomplished during the school year of 1956-57.

6. In the event that the local school districts or County Board fail in their obligations under the approved plan, the Superintendent of Public Instruction will be empowered to assume the obligation, operate the special classes, and charge their costs to the local districts plus a ten per cent management fee to cover costs of supervision.

The State will pay such extra costs as the special classes require, above the normal cost of educating a child in the local school system.

Our school districts of the first class have already developed plans for the education of their handicapped children, and benefit by the financial assistance now paid by the State toward the cost of such special classes.

No addition need be made to the proposed 1955-57 budget for this program, since the appropriations recommended for the Department of Public Instruction already include the necessary sums.

To succeed, the program will of course require the cooperation of the local school districts, which I am sure will be forthcoming. It will also require a speeded-up and intensified program of training instructors for the specialized work entailed, which will be the responsibility of the Department of Public Instruction. Finally, it will require the approval of the Legislature, which I am entirely confident will not be withheld.

The children to be aided are the mentally retarded; the mentally defective; crippled; orthopedic (poliomyelitis, cerebral palsy and cleft palate); blind; partially blind; deaf and hard of hearing; multiple handicapped (blind-deaf, cerebral palsy-blind; cerebral palsy-deaf); non-mobile cripples (cardiacs, physically delicate and epileptics).

Our goal is to keep them out of institutions and to bring them as close as is possible to a normal life in their own homes and in their own communities. We cannot and we should not meet this problem by a continual expansion of custodial institutions and a continual expansion of dependency. We should, for every economic motive and every humanitarian motive, put our full energies and resources into the rescue of these lives.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

The PRESIDENT. The Communication from the Governor will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 41 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MADIGAN, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, to which was referred on March 22, 1955, the following resolution from the House of Representatives reported the same without amendments as follows, viz:

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO CARRY ON CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW CUMBERLAND DAM

In the House of Representatives, March 14, 1955.

The New Cumberland Dam authorized by Congress to replace existing locks and dams, numbers 7, 8 and 9 on the Ohio River, is an emergency project.

The existing locks and dams, especially lock and dam number 7, are in such deplorable condition that failure is imminent. Due to extreme pressure from a hillside, the land lock wall at lock number 7 is gradually moving riverward. The situation is so very critical that it is feared the wall will collapse before the new dam can be built, even if the building program proceeds on schedule. If this happens, it will be a real catastrophe. Traffic will be stopped on the river for a period of a few months to a year or more, depending upon the seriousness of the failure.

When it is realized that more than 60 million tons of traffic moved over the Ohio River last year and that over a million freight cars would be required to handle this traffic, it becomes apparent that this is one of the world's most vital traffic arteries. If one of the locks were to fail, the result would be immediate shut-down of many mills and factories along the Ohio River. There are not sufficient existing rail or track facilities to handle the tonnage now moving over the Ohio River. Many of the plants are entirely dependent upon the river for the transportation of raw materials such as coal, petroleum and other bulk material, to the plants, as well as for the movement of their finished products to market. A failure in this system of river transportation would cause immediate unemployment of 30,000 persons in addition to the loss of production.

The estimated cost of the entire project is 46 million dollars spread over five-year construction period. The present appropriation of one million dollars will be sufficient to relocate a highway and purchase property in the project area. The amount required to carry on the actual construction program for the next fiscal year is about 13 million dollars. This money must be appropriated by the Congress of the United States before July 1, 1955 to continue construction.

It is estimated that the huge tonnage moved on the Ohio River last year saved shippers some 80 million dollars. This is nearly twice the amount required to build New Cumberland Dam. The ratio of benefit over cost is nearly 6 to 1 in benefit to the public, since the savings on this traffic is passed on directly to the consumer.

The project is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense. One of the heaviest concentrations of traffic in the world moves through the project area. Materials such as coal, coke, iron, steel, fluorspar, sulphur, oil, gasoline, sand, gravel, glass, stone, acids, solvents, benzol, scrap, slag, ore, and general freight comprise the tonnage through the project area. During World War II, actually billions of gallons of gasoline and oil which could not be moved by sea because of the submarine menace, came up the Ohio River to the North and East for both military and domestic use. Right in the Pittsburgh district there were literally hundreds of war vessels built and moved down the Ohio River for our armed forces. If we were to experience a failure of one of the locks or dams during such a war emergency, it would be a terrible disaster. The unsettled international situation today makes it imperative that construction of New Cumberland Dam be started at once and brought to completion with all possible haste.

When canalization of the Ohio River was begun, it was estimated that when the tonnage moved over it reached the figure of 15 million tons per year it would then be a self-liquidating proposition. This figure was passed before canalization was complete and today that much tonnage moves through just one of locks 7, 8 and 9. This traffic comes from many points. In the Pittsburgh District, which includes the three rivers as far South as mile 109 on the Ohio River, there are 47 terminals on the Allegheny River, 136 terminals on the Monongahela River, and 123 terminals on the Ohio River, including 9 river-rail terminals. It can be seen from these statistics that industry makes intensive use of the rivers. It is also noteworthy that, in spite of the fact that all of the locks and dams on the Ohio River were designed for downstream tonnage only, the upstream tonnage now equals that which moves downstream. There is a fine reciprocity of trade between Pittsburgh and lower river points.

It was not happenstance that industry located along the river banks. There are many advantages to industry and the public from a canalized river in addition to low-cost transportation. Water is a vital necessity to many industries. It requires about 30 tons of water to make a ton of steel. The City of Pittsburgh is a tremendous user of water for drinking purposes and sanitation, yet one plant such as Kobuta on the Ohio River uses more water each day than this great metropolis. The assurance of a stable and insured harbor for transportation and landings is a real advantage, but equally important is an assured supply of water for municipal and industrial purposes. All of these uses of water will be considerably enhanced by the construction of New Cumberland Dam.

The existing structures (Locks 7, 8 and 9) are completely worn out; they have paid for themselves in savings to the public many times over; they are incapable of handling modern transportation and unsuited to modern methods and traffic; their replacement is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense; their failure will put undue hardship on industry and the public and cause unemployment; whereas construction of a new dam will increase employment and further the prosperity of the entire valley. Congress was infinitely wise in canalizing the Ohio River. The investment has paid off in savings to the public and in the development of the entire river valley as a great industrial empire. The welfare of the Nation demands that Congress now invest once more in a replacement program on the Ohio River beginning with New Cumberland locks and dam.

The so-called New Cumberland Dam will consist of one entirely new structure consisting of a roller-gate dam and two sets of locks impounding a pool some 22.7 miles in length. The larger lock will measure 1200 feet in length and 110 feet in width and the smaller lock will be 600 feet long and 110 feet wide. They will accommodate a towboat and 22 barges carrying a cargo of some 22,000 tons at a draft of 8.5 feet; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact into legislation the necessary appropriation measure or measures for the next fiscal year to carry on the actual construction of the so-called New Cumberland Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have before me a copy of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. In it appears a picture of Mayor Lawrence, crowning Raymond Jones, who is the Marble King of the United States.

Mr. President, here is a young boy in my District who is twelve years old, who beat the champion marble players of fifty-five other cities in Asbury Park the other day. He is now the Marble Champion of the United States.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, most everyone knows, and I am sure everyone in this body knows, that in Blair County we have located the largest and most modern railroad shops in the world.

On my return home last week, I read in our local newspapers that the Morrison Cove Joint High School of Martinsburg, Blair County, in competition with all other Pennsylvania high schools in vocational agricultural projects won that contest. I feel certain that all of my colleagues in the Senate will join me in voting for the resolution which I now wish to present to the Chair, congratulating the members of the Morrison Cove Joint High School of Martinsburg, Blair County.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTENDING CONGRATULATIONS OF THE SENATE TO MORRISON COVE JOINT HIGH SCHOOL FOR WINNING THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA PROJECTS CONTEST

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, June 28, 1955.

The Morrison Cove Joint High School of Martinsburg, Blair County, won over all other Pennsylvania high schools in vocational agriculture projects contest conducted by the Future Farmers of Pennsylvania.

The Morrison Cove entrants amassed 143 points in the Statewide competition with vocational agriculture departments of 292 Pennsylvania high schools. The contest included projects in a wide variety of activities in which the Future Farmers of America boys can develop their home farms or their own farming programs; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its heartiest congratulations to the Morrison Cove Joint High School for winning the Future Farmers of America projects contest; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Morrison Cove Joint High School.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 582, as follows:

An Act concurring with the State of New Jersey in revoking in part Paragraph First of the Compact between the State of New Jersey and this Commonwealth dated April 26 1783 and ratified by the act approved the 20th day of September 1783 (2 Smith's Laws 77) entitled "An Act to ratify and confirm an agreement made between commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of New Jersey and commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of Pennsylvania for the purpose of settling the jurisdiction of the river Delaware and islands within the same" and accepting the terms and conditions of Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey relating to the construction the payment of land damages for land taken by eminent domain in New Jersey costs and expenses and the payment of taxes to New Jersey municipalities on land acquired in New Jersey for the purpose of constructing if and when the General Assembly of this Commonwealth shall authorize construction (but within fifty years from the effective date of this act) a storage dam across the Delaware River at or near the area known as Wallpack Bend and a reservoir above such dam or to construct a diversion dam across the Delaware River at or near Yardley or Brookville or both such storage dam or reservoir and such diversion and authorizing the Governor to apply on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Congress of the United States for its consent to the agreement which this act and Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey will constitute

Whereas on December 30 1953 the Governor of the State of New Jersey approved Chapter 443 of the Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey which reads as follows

"An Act concerning the construction and maintenance of certain dams and a storage reservoir across and in the Delaware river and of certain reservoirs in and immediately adjacent to the said river for the purpose of impounding the waters of said river to provide a supply for domestic commercial and industrial purposes and compensation flow providing for the giving of authority to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or through it to any commission or other public body or municipality singly or collectively designated by the Legislature of said Commonwealth to construct and maintain said dams and reservoir and use of water impounded therein for said purposes as a public project subject to certain terms conditions and limitations providing for participation by the State of New Jersey in the said project granting to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or its authorized agency the right to acquire property in New Jersey for the purposes of this act providing for the exercise of the power of eminent domain in connection with said project by the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development granting certain powers to and imposing certain duties upon said department in connection with said project prescribing the procedure for condemnation providing for the inoperation of the act unless and until the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall enact into law legislation consistent with the terms of this act and revoking in part (subject to Pennsylvania's concurrence) the compact between New Jersey and Pennsylvania dated April twenty-sixth one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three and ratified by the act entitled 'An act to ratify and confirm an agreement made between commissioners appointed by the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania and commissioners appointed by the Legislature of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of setting the jurisdiction of the river Delaware and islands within the same' passed May twenty-seventh one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three (P L 1783 chap XX 2d sitting)

"Whereas Litigation is pending in the United States Supreme Court between the State of New York the City of New York the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relative to the use of the Delaware river as a source of public water supply and

"Whereas The State of New Jersey has claimed the right to divert a volume of water from the Delaware river based upon its prior diversion through the Delaware and Raritan canal and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has indicated that it will contest this State's diversion of said waters for public water supply without compensation flow releases and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has agreed not to contest this State's right to divert a volume of water equivalent to one hundred million gallons per day out of the Delaware basin for domestic commercial or industrial purposes without any requirement for compensation flow releases if the State of New Jersey enacts the following mutually advantageous legislation and

"Whereas It is proposed that the United States Supreme Court will retain jurisdiction over diversions from the Delaware river by either State and

"Whereas It is desirable that the water resources of the Delaware river be made available to meet the water needs of the State of New Jersey and

"Whereas The city and State of New York have proposed substantially increased minimum flows of the river to be provided by them upon the completion of their present reservoir construction and the proposed dam and reservoir at Cannonsville New York all under the jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court therefore

"Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey

"1 Subject to the provisions of this act authority is given to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or through it to any commission or other public body or municipality singly or collectively designated by the Legislature of said Commonwealth to construct and maintain a storage dam across the Delaware river at or near the area known as Wallpack Bend but above the confluence with Flatbrook and including the works and appurtenances of said dam and to maintain the reservoir above said dam for the purpose of impounding the waters of said river to provide a supply of water for domestic commercial and industrial purposes and compensation flow Such construction and maintenance shall be deemed to be a public project for the benefit of New Jersey and Pennsylvania The authority to construct such reservoir hereby conferred shall expire unless sooner exercised fifty years after the effective date of this act

"2 (a) The entire cost of such construction and maintenance shall be borne by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or by said commission or public body or municipality but the State of New Jersey shall be entitled to become a participant in the said project and acquire a proportionate interest therein not to exceed a thirty per centum (30%) interest by paying to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to said commission or public body or municipality immediately upon the completion of the project such proportionate amount of the cost of the project and thereafter from time to time the proportionate cost of maintaining the project

"(b) The county of Sussex in the State of New Jersey shall have the right to divert from the Wallpack Bend reservoir for the water supply of its municipalities a quantity of water not exceeding 25 million gallons daily and shall pay for the quantities diverted the average production cost thereof calculated by sound accounting principles provided that if the State of New Jersey shall have participated in the construction of the project any water diverted by the county of Sussex shall be taken out of New Jersey's proportionate share of the water and the county of Sussex shall make its payments therefor solely to the State of New Jersey

"3 Any such reservoir so constructed and maintained shall at all times be made available for fishing and recreation subject only to reasonable rules regulations and license fees to be adopted by the State of New Jersey applicable to that section of the reservoir within its territorial limits and by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania applicable to that section of the reservoir within its territorial limits Each State shall have the right to erect and maintain publicly owned recreational facilities on its respective side of the reservoir and to provide reasonable access thereto in conformity with such reasonable rules and regulations

"4 No work upon any such project shall be commenced by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or said commission public body or municipality until copies of the plans and specifications for such work shall first be filed with the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development

"5 In the event that the State of New Jersey shall elect to become a participant in any such project as in section two of this act provided the State of New Jersey shall be entitled to withdraw water from said reservoir or said river or both for domestic commercial and industrial purposes and compensation flow according to the proportion of its interest but subject to any restrictions that may be imposed by decree of the Supreme Court of the United States Any restrictions upon such taking which may be imposed upon New Jersey by decree of the Supreme Court of the United States shall not affect the right of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to construct the reservoir and diversion dam authorized herein

"6 Authority is also given to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or through it to any commission or other public body or municipality singly or collectively designated by the Legislature of said Commonwealth to construct and maintain a diversion dam across the Delaware river at or near Yardley or Brookville Pennsylvania with necessary appurtenances for the withdrawal of a water supply from the said river

"7 In connection with the construction of any such storage dam and reservoir or any such diversion dam real property in New Jersey may be acquired by purchase or may be taken by the exercise of the power of eminent domain The power so to take shall be exercised by the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development or its successor hereinafter called the department and any such acquisition or taking shall be deemed to be for and shall inure to the benefit of the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania The cost of any such acquisition and the entire expense of any condemnation proceeding including the payment of awards shall be borne by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or by said commission public body or municipality provided however that if the State of New Jersey shall be a participant in the construction of the storage dam and reservoir the State of New Jersey shall bear its proportionate share of such cost and expense Before such condemnation proceeding shall be instituted the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or its authorized commission public body or municipality shall deposit with the Treasurer of the State of New Jersey for the use of the department such reasonable amount in cash or United States Government securities as shall meet with the approval of the Governor of the State of New Jersey as security for the payment of its share of cost and expense and any surplus remaining after the payment of such cost and expense shall be repaid or returned to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

"8 Upon the exercise of the power of eminent domain by the department the compensation to be paid thereunder shall be ascertained and paid in the manner provided in chapter one of Title 20 of the Revised Statutes in so far as the provisions thereof are applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions contained in this act Subject to the rules of civil practice in the Superior Court adopted by the Supreme Court of New Jersey the department may join in separate subdivisions in one complaint the descriptions of any number of tracts or parcels of land or property to be condemned and the names of any number of owners and other parties who may have an interest therein and all such land or property included in said complaint may be condemned in a single proceeding provided however that separate awards be made for each tract or parcel of land or property and provided further that each of said tracts or parcels of land or property lies wholly in or has a substantial part of its value lying wholly within the same county

"9 Upon the filing of such a complaint or at any time thereafter the department may file with the clerk of the county in which such property is located and also with the Clerk of the Superior Court a declaration of taking signed by the department declaring that possession of one or more of the tracts or parcels of land or property described in the complaint is thereby being taken by and for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and State of New Jersey The said declaration of taking shall be sufficient if it sets forth (1) a description of each tract or parcel of land or property to be taken sufficient for the identification thereof and to which there may or may not be attached a plan or map thereof (2) a statement of the estate or interest in the said land or property being taken (3) a statement of the sum of money estimated by the department by resolution to be just compensation for the taking of the estate or interest in each tract or parcel of land or property described in said declaration and (4) that in compliance with the provisions of this act the department has established and is maintaining a trust fund as hereinafter provided

"10 Upon the filing of the said declaration the department shall deposit with the Clerk of the Superior Court the amount of the estimated compensation stated in said declaration In addition to the said deposits with the Clerk of the Superior Court the department at all times shall maintain a special trust fund on deposit with a bank or trust company doing business in this State in an amount at least equal to the aggregate amount deposited with the Clerk of the Superior Court as estimated compensation for all property described in declarations of taking with respect to which the compensation has not been finally determined and paid to the persons entitled thereto or into court Said trust fund shall consist of cash or securities readily convertible into cash constituting legal investments for trust funds under the laws of this State Said trust fund shall be held solely to secure and may be applied to the payment of just compensation for the land or other property described in such declaration of taking The department shall be entitled to withdraw from said trust fund from time to time so much as may then be in excess of the aggregate of the amount deposited with the Clerk of the Superior Court as estimated compensation for all property described in declarations of taking with respect to which the compensation has not been finally determined and paid to the person entitled thereto or into court

"11 Six months after the filing of the said declaration as aforesaid and depositing with the Clerk of the Superior Court the amount of the estimated compensation stated in said declaration the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and State of New Jersey without other process or proceedings shall be entitled to the exclusive possession and use of each tract of land or property described in said declaration and may forthwith enter into and take posession of said land or property it being the intent of this provision that the proceeding for compensation or any other proceedings relating to the taking of said land or interest therein or other property shall not delay the taking of possession thereof and the use thereof by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey for the purpose or purposes for which the department is authorized by this act to acquire or condemn such land or other property or interest therein

"12 The department shall cause notice of the filing of said declaration and the making of said deposit to be served upon each party in interest named in the complaint residing in this State either personally or by leaving a copy thereof at his residence if known and upon each party in interest residing out of the State by mailing a copy thereof to him at his residence if known In the event that the residence of any such party or the name of such party is unknown such notice shall be published at least once in a newspaper published or circulating in the county or counties in which the land is located Such service mailing or publication shall be made within ten days after filing such declaration Upon the application of any party in interest and after notice to other parties in interest including the department any judge of the Superior Court assigned to sit for said county may order that the money deposited with the Clerk of the Superior Court or any part thereof be paid forthwith to the person or persons entitled thereto for or on account of the just compensation to be awarded in said proceeding provided that each person shall have filed with the Clerk of the Superior Court a consent in writing that in the event the award in the condemnation proceeding shall be less than the amount deposited the court after notice as herein provided and hearing may determine his liability if any for the return of such difference or any part thereof and enter judgment therefor If the amount of the award as finally determined shall exceed the amount so deposited the person or persons to whom the award is payable shall be entitled to recover from the department the difference between the amount of the deposit and the amount of the award with interest at the rate of six per centum (6%) per annum thereon from the date of making the deposit If the amount of the award shall be less than the amount so deposited the Clerk of the Superior Court shall return the difference between the amount of the award and the deposit to the department unless the amount of the deposit or any part thereof shall have theretofore been distributed in which event the court on petition of the department and notice to all persons interested in the award and affording them an opportunity to be heard shall enter judgment in favor of the department for such difference against the party or parties liable for the return thereof The department shall cause notice of the date fixed for such hearing to be served upon each party thereto residing in this State either personally or by leaving a copy thereof at his residence if known and upon each party residing out of the State by mailing a copy to him at his residence if known In the event that the residence of any party or the name of such party is unknown such notice shall be published at least once in a newspaper published or circulating in the county or counties in which the land is located Such service mailing or publication shall be made at least ten days before the date fixed for such hearing

"13 Whenever under chapter one of Title 20 of the Revised Statutes the amount of the award may be paid into the court payment may be made into the Superior Court and may be distributed according to law The department shall not abandon any condemnation proceeding subsequent to the date upon which it has taken possession of the land or property as herein provided

"14 Whenever real property in New Jersey is acquired or taken in connection with said project the municipalities wherein such real property is located shall be compensated for the loss of tax revenue by reason of such real property being devoted to a public use by the payment to the said municipalities by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or by said commission public body or municipality or proportionately by said Commonwealth or said commission public body or municipality and by the State of New Jersey should the State of New Jersey become a participant in the project annually of an amount equal to the average annual taxes assessed against the real property during the five-year period preceding such acquisition or taking

"15 In the event that this act becomes operative as herein provided the New Jersey State Department of Conservation and Economic Development shall be charged with the duty of administering it and shall have the power to do all things necessary thereto

"16 The procedure for condemnation of lands shall be to acquire in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or its authorized commission public body or municipality singly or collectively in accordance with the provisions of law in so far as such provisions may be applicable such public lands or parts thereof or rights therein and any fee simple absolute or any lesser interest interest in private property and any fee simple absolute in easements upon or the benefit of restrictions upon abutting property to preserve and protect said dam or diversion projects

"17 This act shall not be construed as a consent by the State of New Jersey to the diversion by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of any specific volume of water from such reservoirs dam or diversion dams Any diversion by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be subject to restrictions or conditions that may be imposed by decree of the Supreme Court of the United States or restrictions or conditions arrived at by compact between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey

"18 Subject to the concurrence of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania but only if this act becomes effective in accordance with the following section Paragraph First of the compact between the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania dated the 26th day of April 1783 and ratified by the Act of May 27 1783 (P L 1783 Chap XX 2d sitting) is hereby revoked in so far as it would prevent the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any commission or other public body or municipality singly or collectively designated by the Legislature of said Commonwealth to construct and maintain the dams and reservoir specified in this Act

"19 This act shall become effective when the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall prior to July first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-five by statute accept the terms and conditions of this act relating to the construction the payment of land damages costs and expenses and the payment of taxes to municipalities on land acquired for the aforesaid purposes and shall concur in the revocation of the compact of April 26 1783 to the extent provided in the preceding section"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby concurs with the State of New Jersey in revoking Paragraph First of the Compact between the State of New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania dated the 26th day of April 1783 and ratified by the New Jersey Act of May 27 1783 (P L 1783 Chapter XX Second Sitting) and by the Pennsylvania Act of September 20 1783 (2 Smith's Laws 77) entitled "An act to ratify and confirm an agreement made between commissioners appointed by the legislature of the state of New Jersey and commissioners appointed by the ligislature of the state of Pennsylvania for the purpose of settling the jurisdiction of the river Delaware and islands within the same" in so far as it would prevent the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any commission or other public body or municipality singly or collectively designated by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth from constructing and maintaining the dams and reservoirs specified in Chapter 443 Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey which is hereinbefore set forth in full

Section 2 The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby accepts the terms and conditions of Chapter 443 Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey hereinbefore set forth relating to the construction of the dams and reservoir specified in that act the payment of land damages costs and expenses and the payment of taxes to municipalities of the State of New Jersey on land acquired in New Jersey for the purpose set forth in that act

Section 3 Inasmuch as this act and Chapter 443 Public Laws of 1953 of the State of New Jersey constitute an agreement between this Commonwealth and the State of New Jersey the Governor is hereby authorized to apply on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Congress of the United States for its consent and approval of such agreement

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, June 28, 1955

The House met at 1:00 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverand Frank W. Ake, Minister of Beaver Memorial Methodist Church, Lewisburg, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, how manifold are Thy Works. In wisdom Thou hast made them all, the earth is full of Thy goodness. We rejoice in the richness of Thy providence from which we obtain joy and gladness in every time of need. In these confusing days with their many voices we await Thy will concerning us. In all our hopes and aspirations be Thou our anchor, keep alive the flame of good purpose on the altar of our soul. O, thou who hast borne the robe of human flesh, revealing Thyself in the common ways of human life, we humbly pray for understanding in the solution of perplexing problems. Without Thy directing hand our labors become a delusion, our devotion foolishness. We pray that special blessing of guidance and grace may attend upon our presiding officer and upon all members of this body. May they be not only worthy servants of our beloved state but fit children of the Kingdom of God. In the name of our blessed Master, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, June 27, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 27, 1955.

Whereas, Our fellow citizens of the Jewish faith have recently celebrated with pride and patriotic fervour the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of their ancestors in this country; and

Whereas, Throughout the past three hundred years our Jewish fellow-citizens have contributed greatly to the growth and well-being of our country and of this, our State of Pennsylvania:

Recalling as we do the continued and unblemished record of their patriotic devotion and sacrifice in behalf of flag and country:

Recalling their heroic military services in every war in which our country was engaged from the American Revolution to the Word Wars and the Korean conflict in our own time:

Recalling, furthermore, their devotion to religious freedom, civic righteousness and philanthropy which are the hallmark of Jewish character at its best:

Bearing in mind the brilliant achievements of numerous American personalities in the arts and in the professions, in law and in literature, in industry and in government, in pioneering accomplishments in industry and commerce; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That we, in this General Assembly of Pennsylvania, herewith extend our felicitations and fraternal greetings to our Jewish fellow citizens in Pennsylvania and throughout the United States, giving effect to the sentiment of the Father of our Country when he proclaimed, "The liberality of sentiment toward each other which marks every political and religious denomination of men in this country, stands unparalleled in the history of nations."

We reiterate his prayerful conviction: "Happily the government of the United States gives to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance. It requires only that they who live under its protection should demean themselves as good citizens in giving it on all occasions their effective support."

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KUBACKI. RESOLUTION No. 98.

In The House of Representatives, June 27, 1955.

The annals of railroading in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are filled with deeds above and beyond the routine performance of duty. Yet, even in a field where courageous deportment is considered almost commonplace, there emerges from time to time an extraordinary feat of heroism which reflects great credit upon the railroading profession.

Such an heroic feat was accomplished on the Sunday morning of June 12, 1955, by Aloysius A. Russell, a Reading Company brakeman.

In the past two weeks, newspapers have told in stories and pictures how Al Russell, a resident of Reading, saved the life of two-year old Billy Mattson. Little Billy Mattson was playing on the railroad track near his Honey Brook home that Sunday morning when a Reading Company freight train came along.

Brakeman Al Russell knew that the Diesel locomotive could not be stopped short of the helpless child. Without a thought for his own safety and without a moments hesitation, Al crawled out onto the front end of the rolling engine. While holding on to the engine with one arm, with his body in a precarious position, he lunged forward and grabbed Billy; as he did so, he and the child both rolled away from the moving train to the ground. Billy sustained no injuries but, unfortunately, Russell fractured his foot.

While recuperating from his injuries at home, the heroic trainman learned that Reading Company officials were nominating him for the Carnegie Fund's Gold Medal for Heroism. He also received numerous messages of commendation, including letters from Governor George M. Leader and Secretary of Labor and Industry John R. Torquato.

On Wednesday, June 29—Al Russell will be further honored by Fellow-Railroaders, public officials and private citizens at a presentation ceremony in Reading;

Therefore Be It Resolved, That the membership of The House commend Aloysius A. Russell, heroic railroad brakeman, for his unselfish act of bravery in saving a two-year old child from certain death, and this heroic accomplishment should be an inspiration to all of us.

And Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be forwarded to Joseph A. Fisher, President of the Reading Company, whose excellent safety program annually receives National praise; E. Paul Gangewere, Vice-President of the Reading Company; H. Floto, Manager of The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and Aloysius A. Russell.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. YOUNG. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 99.

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1955.

Whereas, Adequate and promptly available printing is essential to the proper functioning of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, In the interests of economy, such printing should be supplied at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer; and

Whereas, Legislative printing has not been re-evaluated since the Joint State Government Commisison reports of 1941 and 1947; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Joint State Government Commisison be directed to make a thorough and exhaustive study of the entire subject of legislative printing and report its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, together with drafts of legislation necessary to implement the same.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FRANK, Miss LEIBY, Mrs. MARKLEY and Mr. STECKEL. RESOLUTION No. 100.

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1955.

Whereas, The Mack Truck Company is one of the oldest established industries in Allentown, and

Whereas, This company furnishes employment for some four thousand workers in Lehigh County, and is one of the backbone employment industries in that area, and

Whereas, The Mack Company has submitted a bid on three hundred fifty new buses to be purchased by the Philadelphia Transit Company which averages some seven hundred dollars less per bus than the other bidder, an out-of-state firm; and

Whereas, The attainment of this contract by the Mack Company is vitally important to its economic future, and consequently the employment of the thousands of workers who would be affected, and in a larger sense, to the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do hereby urge the Philadelphia Transit Company to give favorable consideration to the low Mack bid, thus aiding the economy of Pennsylvania and likewise aiding a Pennsylvania industry.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 28, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly:

One of the most important tasks which this Assembly and this Administration will face is the revision and improvement of our State's program for the care and education of its children who suffer grave physical or mental disabilities.

A savage society, living by the rule of tooth and claw, can solve such problems by a callous order of survival of the fittest. In a society such as ours, with its religious and humanitarian ethic, we must recognize our responsibilities and do everything within our power to assure every child in the State of an opportunity to overcome as far as possible his disability and to become a useful and productive citizen.

I think we will all admit that Pennsylvania has not yet perfected a program in which we bring maximum attention to the problems of the handicapped child. It is time that we did so, and this Administration is therefore submitting legislation to the General Assembly which will provide a stimulus to our system of public education which will place new emphasis in every county in the State on the special educational needs of the handicapped.

It is my hope that the Members of the House and Senate will give such legislation their prompt and sympathetic consideration.

The extent of the problem is shocking. It is estimated that twenty per cent, one out of every five, of our children are seriously handicapped by some physical or mental disability.

Our neglect is also shocking. Only twenty-five per cent of our handicapped children are enrolled in the special classes which alone can help them to attain the fullest potential of their possible achievement.

It is now proposed that we move forthwith to a more effective program which will have as its goal the establishment of special educational services and classes for the handicapped child everywhere in the Commonwealth.

The suggested legislation will provide:

1. An over-all survey of all the school districts of the second, third, and fourth class to establish the number and type of handicaped children. Such surveys will be made on a county-wide basis and reported to the County Board of School Directors.

2. The preparation of a county plan for the establishment of special services and classes for handicapped children. This plan will be prepared by the County Board of School Directors in cooperation with the school districts in the county not under the Board's jurisdiction. The county plan will be submitted to the Department of Public Instruction for approval.

3. Classes for handicapped children will be set up by local districts or by the County Board in accordance with the approved plan. The operation of these classes will be mandatory.

4. The over-all survey and devedopment of plans will be done during the school year of 1955-56.

5. The organization of classes and services will be accomplished during the school year of 1956-57.

6. In the event that the local school districts or County Board fail in their obligation under the approved plan, the Superintendent of Public Instruction will be empowered to assume the obligation, operate the special classes, and charge their costs to the local districts plus a ten per cent management fee to cover costs of supervision.

The State will pay such extra costs as the special classes require, above the normal cost of educating a child in the local school system.

Our school districts of the first class have already developed plans for the education of their handicapped children, and benefit by the financial assistance now paid by the State toward the cost of such special classes.

No addition need be made to the proposed 1955-57 budget for this program, since the appropriations recommended for the Department of Public Instruction already include the necessary sums.

To succeed, the program will of course require the cooperation of the local school districts, which I am sure will be forthcoming. It will also require a speeded-up and intensified program of training instructors for the specialized work entailed, which will be the responsibility of the Department of Public Instruction. Finally, it will require the approval of the Legislature, which I am entirely confident will not be withheld.

The children to be aided are the mentally retarded; the mentally defective; crippled; orthopedic (poliomyelitis, cerebral palsy and cleft palate); blind; partially blind; deaf and hard of hearing; multiple handicapped (blind-deaf, cerebral palsy-blind; cerebral palsy-deaf); non-mobile cripples (cardiacs, physically delicate and epileptics).

Our goal is to keep them out of institutions and to bring them as close as is possible to a normal life in their own homes and in their own communities. We cannot and we should not meet this problem by a continual expansion of custodial institutions and a continual expansion of dependency. We should, for every economic motive and every humanitarian motive, put our full energies and resources into the rescue of these lives.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. ANDREWS, CHARLES C. SMITH, JOHNSON, KENT, HELM, BOWER and READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 28, 1955.

The ageless Parliamentarian of the House of Representatives is suspected of trying to duck a birthday on Thursday of this week.

The members of the House, anxious for an opportunity to express their individual and collective feeling of high regard and respect for the value of his services to the House and for the charm and friendliness of his personality, will not permit the occasion to pass unnoticed, nor its best wishes to remain unsaid; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives place itself on record to wish the Honorable S. Edward Moore, Parliamentarian Extraordinary, a great many very happy returns of his natal day, and health and prosperity throughout; and be it Resolved, That the Chief Clerk certify a copy of these resolutions for transmission to Mr. Moore.

The SPEAKER. Does the Parliamentarian have any words to address to the House at this time? I think I set him in his place. I had to overrule him to obtain a hearing for this resolution. He was going to stop consideration of it at this time because he had not read it. I am going to teach him.

The PARLIAMENTARIAN (S. EDWARD MOORE). Mr. Speaker, there is nothing more difficult for me to do than to say "thanks." I am trying to forget these birthdays, but I do appreciate your thoughfulness, very much.

BILL ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 179, Printer's No. 411, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on second reading postponed.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 508

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 508, Printer's No. 348, entitled:

"An act to prevent unfair discrimination, unfair methods of competition and destructive trade practices in the production, manufacture, distribution or sale of petroleum products; providing civil remedies and procedure for the enforcement of this act; defining the duties of the Attorney General with regard thereto and providing penalties."

was defeated on final passage on Monday, June 20, 1955, be reconsidered.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Toll vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Kolankiewicz vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 907

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 907, Printer's No. 290 entitled:

"An Act providing for and regulating the licensing and practicing of public accountancy creating and imposing powers and duties on the State Board of Licensed Public Accountants prescribing unlawful acts and imposing penalties."

was defeated on final pasage Monday, June 20, 1955, be reconsidered.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Erie Mr. Waterhouse vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Sarraf vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCORMACK. I desire to debate the motion briefly, Mr. Speaker, and in that connection I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Erie inform me as to the vote by which this bill was defeated on June 20th?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, I do not have that information here. He can get that from his History. I think it failed by one vote, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, would I be correct in saying that the vote for this bill on June 20th was 78 in favor of the bill to 109 against the bill? I ask the gentleman if that is correct?

The SPEAKER. The microphone the gentleman is using does not carry as far as the desk.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker. ———

The Speaker. The Chair can now hear the gentleman.

Mr. McCORMACK. You will regret it, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. I am quite certain that the gentleman has not as yet found his parliamentary gimmick. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. I will ask the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Speaker, whether or not I am correct in saying that the vote against this bill on June 20th was 109 and that the vote in favor of the bill was 78.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I assume the gentleman might be correct, but I question the roll call for this reason, that we had a terrifically noisy House that day, and I am afraid they misconstrued the vote. So, I believe we should really have a fair vote on it, and for that reason I think we should vote on this bill again.

Mr. McCORMACK. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie consent to be further interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Speaker, has such a keen sense of humor that I do not know whether or not he is being facetious at the present time, but I ask the gentleman in all seriousness whether or not the last statement made with respect to the fairness of the vote is in his opinion correct.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I am very honest in that opinion. The Speaker has repeatedly told the House that it was hard for the clerks to get a fair vote due to the noise in the House, and if you will recall that was one of the days that the Chair was having a lot of trouble, and I believe it did affect the final vote on this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. May I further interrogate the gentleman, by asking, Mr. Speaker, whether or not at that time he asked for a verification of the roll, or was he satisfied with the vote?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I do, Mr. Speaker.

In answer to the gentleman's question I do not believe I asked for a verification of the roll. As I recall, we were anxious to get out and I am sure that the Members of the House appreciated the fact that I did that for them, but I think we have more time now.

Mr. McCORMACK. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

I desire to speak against this motion to reconsider the vote, Mr. Speaker, for the following reasons.

This bill was before the House on June 20th, and after a full debate on the merits of the bill, in which both sides were heard, the vote in favor of the bill was 78, give or take one or two because of the change in order to bring this motion for reconsideration up.

I submit, Mr. Speaker, that when a bill fails by one vote, then I think there is a good reason why the vote should be reconsidered, and a motion should be made to reconsider it, as was done on the last bill, which I believe failed of passage by one or two votes. But here we have a situation where it was soundly defeated, and I submit to this House that it is really an affront to the House to offer a motion to reconsider when it was defeated so badly. The bill itself is absolutely without merit, and that was fully brought out on the floor.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is privileged to debate the motion but is not privileged to debate the merits of the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is the Speaker ruling me out of order?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker is simply calling to the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the motion is to reconsider, and the gentleman must confine himself to the motion to reconsider. He cannot discuss the merits of the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is that the ruling of the Chair, that I can not discuss the merits of the bill?

The SPEAKER. At this time, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not agree with the Speaker, but I will not take it any further. I had been informed before I decided to argue this motion that I could debate the merits of the bill, and it was not my own idea that I do that. Nevertheless if that is the ruling of the Chair, I will not debate the merits of the bill.

Because of the fact that this bill was so badly beaten last week, I ask the Members of this House not to create a precedent, and to vote against this motion. If this motion is carried then every bill that is defeated in the House, no matter by how many votes, there will be a change of votes and a subsequent motion to reconsider. It will establish a dangerous precedent, it is time-consuming, it is a tremendous waste of the taxpayers' money to keep us here voting on motions and bills that have been defeated, and I ask the Members to vote against the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. McCormack and Flint and were as follows.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. McCORMACK, WILT and FOSTER.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think the verification of this roll was direct evidence of what I tried to bring out, that there is entirely too much confusion in the House, too much noise, and that the Clerks are not able to properly record the vote. That was why I felt that this reconsideration motion was in order.

The SPEAKER. Thou shalt not shake thy gory locks at me, and say "Thou didst it." I certainly clamored for silence.

HOUSE BILL 1056 AND AMENDMENTS TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1056, Printer's No. 402, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (Pamphlet Laws 1107) entitled "An act providing for the construction erection and maintenance of roadside rests adjacent to State highway routes providing for the acquisition of interests in land by gift purchase or condemnation granting powers to and imposing duties upon the Department of Highways the Secretary of Highways the Governor and the Department of Property and Supplies authorizing rules and regulations and providing penalties for violations thereof and making an appropriation" by removing the limitation on the number and cost of roadside rests.

together with the amendments be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, to save the time of the House and the Speaker's voice, I would like to withdraw my amendments to House Bill 1056, Printer's No. 402, in favor of the amendments about to be offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 232 as follows:

An Act amending the act of April nine one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the maner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" fixing compulsory resignation ages for members of the Pennsylvania State Police

Section 1 Section 205 act of April nine one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 177) known as "The Administrative Code of 1929" amended July twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Pamphlet Laws 1006) is amended to read

Section 3 This act shall take effect January 1 1956.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 205), page 4, line 9, by inserting after "sixty" -two

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, this is a very simple amendment changing the compulsory retirement age of State Police from sixty to sixty-two years.

Why do I believe that sixty-two years is a better retirement point? Well, for one thing, there is a seasoned precedent for this figure. Sixty-two is the compulsory retirement age for the armed services. It has been said that this retirement figure of sixty will do something for the morale of the younger members of the force, that it will speed up promotions along the line by sloughing off five or six files at the top for a year or two. This can well be true but, after this spurt, the expectation is that retirements will drop for a number of years.

Then, logically, there would probably be another shot in the arm needed for morale in the lower echelons.

Clearly, Mr. Speaker, this conclusion but voices my broad criticism of this legislation. It deals piecemeal with a question which needs a broad study and re-evaluation.

Speaking of morale, there are doubtless many other factors which need attention perhaps better pay, a promotion system tied more closely to meritorious performance, and so on.

The point is that there are many indications that the entire Pennsylvania State Police system could hardly help from benefitting from a thorough study toward generating a broad, comprehensive program of progressive legislation. Such a study would integrate into the picture the good that other states have found to be sound. Accordingly, Mr. Speaker, it is my intention at an early date to introduce a resolution calling for a Joint State Government study.

To return for a moment to the amendment I have just offered, it is my thought that to impose a drastic retirement level of sixty at this time could not only be disruptive, but also perhaps a bit of an added burden to future taxpayers, a burden imposed without having exact knowledge of the facts.

My amendment to postpone, in effect, to sixty-two years is designed to hold status quo for two years until a thorough, broad-gauge study of the Pennsylvania State Police has been made.

I, therefore, commend my amendment to the thoughtful consideration of the Members of this House.

Mr. MOODY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendment submitted by Representative Davis.

This bill as originally introduced would ultimately have had a forced retirement age for Pennsylvania State Police of fifty-five years. It would also have imposed a limit on the age of the superintendent and deputy superintendent of the State Police. Those retirement ages for the superintendent and deputy superintendent have been eliminated.

The Governor at his own will could appoint Methuselah secretary or deputy secretary of the Pennsylvania State Police. The sub-committee of the State Government Committee studied this bill and they eliminated the fifty-five year retirement age and agreed that the compulsory retirement of state police should be sixty years.

Police work is essentially a young man's job and it is felt that for the morale of the force a compulsory retirement age of sixty would give great incentive to the State Police force. Therefore, I ask the Members to oppose the amendments submitted by Mr. Davis.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis.

The original bill stated the age at a given year, and as was stated by the previous speaker, the compromise age of sixty was reached in this bill.

I believe the gentleman from Forest stated that this would incur an additional cost to the Commonwealth. I would like to remind the gentleman that the police force is fixed at 1,900 personnel.

At the moment I did not know that he was going to introduce amendments. I have in my office the number of people who would retire each given year 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960. This personnel would be changed over by retirement under this bill. I think this is the initiative that is needed in the State Police force, an outstanding organization which a great number of young men in the Commonwealth desire to enter. I believe the Colonel of the State Police, the Commissioner, stated that at the present time we have over 400 applicants applying for the next school. Of these 400 they will run an examination to get the best qualified men.

I humbly request this House for the betterment and the advancement of the members of the Pennsylvania State Police who are now in the service that we reduce this retirement age to sixty and vote against the amendments offered by the gentleman from Forest.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I was a member of the sub-committee that studied this bill and made these alterations raising the age limit from fifty-five to sixty.

In line with what the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCann, has just stated, the information furnished to the sub-committee is to the effect that by January 1, 1956, nine members of the force will be retired from the force under the provisions of this bill; during the year 1956 two members will be retired; during the years 1957 five members will be retired; during the year 1958 six members will be retired; and the year 1959 seven members will be retired.

Further information for the consideration of the House is the fact that a candidate for the State Police Force will not be accepted past the age of twenty-nine, which means under the provisions of this bill that a person would have thirty years service before he is forced to retire.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 365, as follows:

Amending the act of April 9 1929 (P L 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Execptive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officcers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganizing of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" further regulating membership and compensation of the State Board of Barber Examiners and imposing duties on the board

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 486, as follows:

An Act to repeal sections 662 663 664 and 730 of the act of June 24 1939 (P L 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" relating to the imposition of penalties against railroad employes and other persons for certain activities during strikes and against transportation employes for injuries or death resulting from their actions

Section 1 Sections 663 664 and 730 act of June 24 1939 (P L 872) Known as "The Penal Code" are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 486 because of the limited information given me I want to correct some errors.

This bill is to revise and delete certain sections of the Penal Code of 1939 which deal specifically with the railroads. It is to delete Sections 663, 664 and 730 from the Penal Code of 1939.

Section 663 makes it a crime for any railroad employe to further the objective of or render aid to a strike, and would effectually enjoin or prevent picketing in railroad labor disputes. It makes it a crime punishable as a misdemeanor by a year's imprisonment, I believe, for interference or interruption with any railroad during strikes or labor disputes.

Section 664 would make it a misdemeanor, with punishment by a fine not exceeding $200, for interfering with, or molesting, or obstructing any railroad employe during the course of his employment while a strike is in progress.

These acts in the Penal Code of 1939 are not in keeping with modern labor relations, they are not in keeping with modern labor legislation. As a matter of fact, they fly in the face of the Labor Relations Acts of Pennsylvania of 1937.

I ask that the Members of the House support this bill also with regard to section 730, which this bill deletes from the Penal Code of 1939. I would like to call to the attention of the House that I think this is the only legislation in Pennsylvania which would make it a crime for a man to be negligent. Section 730 of the Penal Code of 1939 makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a fine not exceeding $1,000 and imprisonment not exceeding three years, for a railroad employe to disregard a rule or regulation of the railroad so as to cause injury to anyone, whether he is negligent or wantonly and deliberately violating the rules of the railroad.

As I say, I think it is the only piece of legislation in Pennsylvania which would actually make it a crime for a man to be negligent, and I respectfully ask the Members of this House to vote in favor of this legislation.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1378, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 20, 1915 (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" increasing period of school service for which credit may be given

Section 1 Section 11 act of May 20, 1915 (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" amended August 24, 1953 (P. L. 1375) is amended to read

Section 11 The time of service herein specified namely twenty years or in case of the lesser pension fifteen years or more but less than twenty years shall be computed from the time of the first or original employment said employment to consist of service either to such cities or to the county or other public service paid out of the city treasury or both as aforesaid and need not be continuous Provided That in no case shall a period of more than eighteen years be credited to the service record of any person or persons who shall be employed after the passage of this act and who shall have been employed by the said cities prior to the passage of this act No pensions shall be paid under the provisions of this act however until after January first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

The time of service shall include [twenty thirty-fifths of] service with a school district of the first class coterminous with the city or county of the first class if the person claiming such credit shall within one year after the effective date of this amendment or within one year after joining the pension fund in the case of any person who may hereafter join the pension fund pay into the fund the contributions he or she would have paid had he or she been employed during the period of credited service by the city or county at the same salary received from the school district In no case shall credited service with a school district exceed [ten] twelve years

For the purpose of determining the total number of years or months of service or contribution under this act any period of fifteen days or more but less than a month beyond the total number of full months shall be considered a "month of service"

Section 2 Nothing contained in this amending act shall be construed to affect the power of a city of the first class or the powers or duties of a board department or the council thereof to provide and administer pension and retirement systems covering officers and employes of the city as provided by and authorized and directed under the Home Rule Charter of such city

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1555 as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction

Section 1 The item making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursing school districts of section two of the act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the suport of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty three" as amended by the act approved the seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (Appropriation Act No 6A) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The following sums or as much thereof as may be necessary are hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the several hereinafter named agencies of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth for the purpose hereinafter set forth for the two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of the bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

For reimbursing school districts upon the salaries of school teachers and upon the basis of teaching units as prescribed by law for closed schools and for nonresident high school tuition and any other nonresident tuition as required by law and for the minimum salaries of teachers and supervisors of home bound children and extension class pupils the sum of [three hundred thirty-eight million dollars ($338,000,000)] three hundred forty-eight million dollars ($348,000,000) Provided That the Superintendent of Public Instruction with the approval of the Governor may make payments from this appropriation in advance of the due dates prescribed by law to school districts which are financially handicapped whenever he shall deem it necessary to make such advanced payments to enable school districts to keep their public schools open

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 1555 the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, raised the question of the constitutionality of this bill.

I took the matter up with the Attorney General's office and if the gentleman so desires, I shall read the opinion from the Attorney General.

Dear Mr. Polen:

With reference to your telephone inquiry concerning H. B. 506 and H. B. 1555, I would call your attention to the decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of the Commonwealth ex rel. Schnader v. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35 (1932). Beginning at page 67, the Court said:

"Legislative power is vested in the General Assembly by Article II, Section 1, and its power is supreme on all such subjects unless limited by the Constitution. The control of the state's finances is entirely in the legislature, subject only to these constitutional limitations; and, except as thus restricted, is absolute."

The restrictions whom appropriations in the Constitution are found in Article III, Section 17, which refers to charitable and educational institutions, and Section 18 of the same Article which forbids appropriations to denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association.

Article III, Section 15, refers to the contents of appropriation bills and Article IV, Section 16, gives the Governor power to partially disapprove appropriation bills. Article III, Section 19, refers to the right to make appropriations to widows or orphans of soldiers.

Thus an examination of the Constitution reveals that there are no restrictions upon the General Assembly in doing what it did in H. B. 506 and H. B. 1555, which, by H. B. 506 reduced the appropriation for reimbursing school districts from 348 million dollars to 338 million dollars and at the same time the General Assembly gave notice of its intention to restore to the Department of Public Instruction by subsequent legislation the amount of the deduction. The General Assembly fulfilled its promise of such restoration of 10 million dollars in H. B. 1555. H. B. 506 was passed without a dissenting vote of either the House or the Senate.

Very truly yours,

Harrington Adams, Deputy Attorney General.

Mr. Speaker, I might state that approximately 62 per cent of the semi-annual payment due the first and second class school districts have not been paid, and this bill will make provision for the payment of these subsidies. They were due in April, and I think this bill should be passed immediately.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am reminded of that old adage, "A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still."

I will repeat what I said yesterday. Despite the opinion of our able Attorney General I again say I do not believe you will find in any statutory law, or in our constitution, or in any case law in Pennsylvania, anything which says that the long arm of this Legislature can reach back into a biennium which already has gone by and boost an appropriation made for that particular biennium.

I, therefore, again repeat my assertion of yesterday that I still think this bill is unconstitutional in its present form. I know of no power of this body to do this. We cerainly could pass a new appropriation bill in the amount of $10 million which would accomplish the same purpose.

We on this side of the House intend to vote for this bill. Again we repeat we feel this is not the right way to do it, but we certainly do not want to penalize any further these very fine school districts that you have mentioned.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

(8) "Owner" means any person as herein defined who owns manages operates leases controls or possesses any well or coal property

(9) "Well operator" means any person as herein defined who proposes to or does locate drill operate plug recondition or abandon any well as herein defined in cases where a well is used in connection with the underground storage of gas the term "well operator" shall also mean a "storage operator" as hereinafter defined

(10) "Gas" means any natural manufactured or by-product gas or any mixture thereof

(11) "Storage reservoir" means that portion of any subterranean sand or rock stratum or strata into which gas is or may be injected for the purpose of storage or for the purpose of testing whether said stratum is suitable for storage

(12) "Plat" means a map drawing or print accurately drawn to scale showing the proposed or existing location of a well or wells as herein defined

(13) "Casing" means a string or strings of pipe commonly placed in wells drilled for natural gas or petroleum

(14) "Bridge" means an obstruction placed in a well at any specified depth

(15) "Cement" or "cement grout" means hydraulic cement properly mixed with water only

(16) "Linear foot" means a unit of measurement in a straight line on a horizontal plane

(17) "Oil" means the same as the word "petroleum"

(18) "Person" means any individual association partnership or corporation

(19) "Reservoir protective area" means all of that area outside of and surrounding the storage reservoir boundary but within two thousand linear feet thereof

(20) "Retreat mining" means the removal of such coal pillars ribs and stumps as remain after the development mining has been completed in that section of a coal mine

(21) "Pillar" means a solid block of coal surrounded by either active mine workings or a mined out area

(22) "Inactivate" means to shut off all flow of gas from a well by means of a temporary plug or other suitable device or by injecting aquagel or other such equally nonporous material into the well

(23) "Storage operator" means any person as herein defined who proposes to or does operate a storage reservoir either as owner or lessee

Article II

Drilling and Plugging

Section 201 Well Operator's Responsibility Before and During Drilling (a) Before drilling any well which is to pass through any workable coal seam the well operator shall have a plat prepared by a competent engineer (on a form to be furnished by the division) showing the political subdivision and county in which the tract of land upon which the well to be drilled is located the name of the lessor or landowner the name of the owner or operator of all known underlying workable coal seams the acreage in the tract to be drilled the proposed location of the well determined by survey the courses and distances of such location from two or more permanent points or landmarks on said tract the proposed angle and direction of such well if the well is to be deviated substantially from a vertical course and the number or other identification to be given the well indicating the workable coal seams if any underlying said tract which are to be cased off in accordance with section 204 of this act and shall forward by registered mail copies of the plat to the division and the division shall in turn forward by registered mail a copy of said plat to the owner and lessee if any of such coal and every coal operator operating in any of said seams of coal who has the right to file objections under section 202 and who has mapped the same and filed his maps with the Department of Mines as required by law If the well operator submits to the division written approval of the proposed well location by the coal operator or owner of the coal underlying the proposed well location and no objections are raised by the division within ten days or if no such approval has been submitted and no objections are made to such proposed well location within ten days from receipt of such notice by the coal operator or owner or by the division the same shall be filed and become a permanent record of such location subject to inspection at any time by any interested person and the division shall forthwith issue a drilling permit to the well operator and the well operator may proceed with the drilling of the well at the exact location shown on the plat

(b) It shall be the duty of the well operator whose well penetrates one or more workable coal seams to keep a driller's log of such well Such log shall show the character thickness and depth of the formations passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well and show the depth at which all gas oil and water were encountered The log shall show whether the well is productive of gas oil or water the volume or quantity thereof and the initial rock pressure of such well which has been taken for a period of not less than forty-eight hours A copy of this log shall be furnished to the division within thirty days after the completion of the well and it shall be kept on file by the division

Section 202 Drilling Permit Agreed Location of Wells Docket of Proceedings (a) In case any well location referred to in subsection (a) of section 201 is made so that the well when drilled will penetrate anywhere within the outside coal boundaries of any operating coal mine or coal mine already projected and platted but not yet being operated or within one thousand linear feet beyond such boundaries and the well when drilled or the pillar of coal about the well will in the opinion of the coal owner or operator unduly interfere with or endanger such mine then the coal owner or operator affected shall have the right to file objections in accordance with subsection (h) of section 501 to such proposed location within ten days of the receipt by the coal operator of the plat provided for in subsection (a) of section 201 An alternative location at which the proposed well could be drilled to overcome such objections shall if possible be indicated If no such objections to the proposed location are filed or if none are raised by the division within ten days after receipt of the plat by the coal operator or owner or if written approval by the coal operator or owner of the location is filed with the division and no ojections are raised by the division within ten days the division shall forthwith issue to the well operator a drilling permit authorizing the well operator to drill at such location

(b) If any objections are filed by any coal operator or owner or are made by the division the division shall fix a time and place for a conference in accordance with section 502 not more than ten days from the date of the service of such objections on the well operator at which conference the well operator and such coal operators or owners as are present or represented shall consider the objections and attempt to agree upon a location If they fail to agree upon a location the division shall direct that a hearing be held within five days of such conference in accordance with section 502 and after such hearing shall by an appropriate order determine a location on such tract of land as near to the original location as possible where in the judgment of the division the well can be safely drilled without unduly interfering with or endangering such mine Such new location as agreed upon by said parties or as determined by the division shall be indicated on the plat on file with the division and shall become a permanent record whereupon the division shall promptly issue a drilling permit authorizing the well operator to drill at the location agreed upon by the parties or as determined by the division

(c) Within one hundred and twenty days after the commencement of drilling operations the coal operator shall accurately locate the well by a closed survey on the same datum as the mine workings or coal boundaries are mapped and file the results of the survey with the division and forward by registered mail a copy to the well operator

(d) No well shall be drilled through a workable coal seam except in accordance with a permit issued under this section

(e) Drilling permits shall not be required for wells which do not pass through one or more workable coal seams However the well operator shall have a plat prepared in the form and manner prescribed in subsection (a) of section 201 of this act and shall forward such plat along with a driller's log as described in subsection (b) of section 201 by registered mail to the division within thirty days after the completion of the well In cases where more than one well is to be drilled as part of the same development project the well locations may be shown on a plat prepared on a lease or project basis provided that such plat is filed with the division within thirty days after the completion of the first well

Section 203 Coal Operator's Responsibility Upon Approaching Wells Already Drilled or Located (a) Hereafter at any time prior to removing any coal or other underground material or extending the workings in any coal mine within five hundred feet of any oil or gas well of which the coal operator has knowledge or any approved well location of which the coal operator has knowledge the coal operator shall forward by registered mail to or file with the well operator and the division a copy of such relevant part of its maps and plans which it is presently required by law to prepare and file with the Department of Mines showing the pillar which the coal operator proposes to leave in place around each oil or gas well in the projected workings Following the filing of said maps and plans the coal operator may proceed with his mining operations in the manner projected on said maps and plans but he shall not remove any coal or cut any passageway within one hundred fifty feet of any such well or approved well location until a permit has been issued as hereinafter provided If in the opinion of the well operator or the division such plan indicates that the pillar proposed to be left around any such well or approved well location is insufficient in size then the well operator affected shall attempt to agree with the coal operator upon a suitable pillar subject to the approval of the division but failing to agree such well operator may within ten days from receipt by them of such plan file objections in accordance with subsection (h) of section 501 to such proposed plan indicating the size of the pillar to be left with respect to each such well If no objections are filed within said ten day period or if none are raised by the division the division shall forthwith issue a permit to the coal operator reciting the filing of said maps or plans that no objections have been made thereto and that the pillar proposed to be left for each such well is approved in the manner as projected

(b) If any objections are filed by such well operator or are raised by the division the division shall direct that a conference be held in accordance with section 502 within ten days of the filing of such objections At such conference the coal operator and the person who has filed such objections shall attempt to agree upon a proposed plan showing the pillar to be left around each well which will satisfy such objections and be approved by the division and if such plan is agreed upon the division shall forthwith issue to the coal operator a permit reciting the filing of said plan and that the pillar to be left for each such well is approved as agreed upon If no such plan showing the pillar to be left with respect to each well can be agreed upon at such conference the division shall direct that a hearing be held within five days after such conference in accordance with section 502 and after such hearing shall in accordance with the standards set forth in this section and by an appropriate order determine the pillar to be left with respect to each such well In any proceeding under this section the division shall follow as nearly as is possible the original plan filed by the coal operator The division shall not require the coal operator to leave a pillar in excess of one hundred feet in radius except that if it is established that unusual conditions exist requiring the leaving of a larger pillar the division may require a pillar up to but not exceeding one hundred fifty feet in radius The pillar to be left with respect to each well as determined by the division shall be shown on the maps or plans on file with the division as provided in subsection (a) of this section and the division shall thereupon issue to the coal operator a permit approving the pillar to be left for each such well

(c) Whenever a permit shall have been issued by the division under this section approving or requiring a certain plan for the leaving of a pillar of a specified size in the projected workings and it shall thereafter be demonstrated by further mining operations in the area that such a pillar is insufficient in size the well operator shall subject to the approval of the division attempt to agree with the coal operator upon a suitable pillar but failing to agree such well operator or operators may file a petition with the division to review such plan and following the procedure hereinabove in this section prescribed the division may by an appropriate order determine subject to the limitations set forth in this section a different plan showing the pillar to be left thereafter with respect to each such well and an amended permit shall thereupon be issued approving the pillar to be left for each such well

(d) Application may be made at any time to the division by the coal operator to leave a pillar of less size than that shown on the plan filed by him or approved or determined by the division pursuant to the provisions of this section If any such application is filed the division may following the procedure hereinbefore in this section prescribed by an appropriate order determine a different plan showing a pillar of less size with respect to any or all wells covered by such application and an amended permit shall thereupon be issued approving the pillar to be left with respect to each such well

(e) No coal operator shall without the written approval of the division after notice and opportunity for hearing as prescribed in this section remove any coal or cut any passageway so as to leave a pillar of less size with respect to any oil or gas well than shown on a permit or amended permit issued under this section

(f) Nothing in this act shall be construed to require a well operator to pay for any coal pillar required by the act to be left around any well drilled prior to the effective date of this act Nothing contained in this act which may require a coal operator to leave a pillar of coal of a certain size around a well drilled after the effective date of this act shall in any way affect (1) any right which the coal operator would have had prior to the effective date of this act to obtain payment for such coal nor (2) any duty or right which the well operator storage operator or land owner may have had prior to the effective date of this act to pay for or not to pay for such coal

Section 204 Method of Casing Through Coal Seams (a) When a well is drilled through a coal seam in a location from which the coal has been removed the hole shall be drilled at least thirty feet below the coal seam and of a sufficient size to permit the placing of a steel pipe liner not less than ten inches in diameter and of at least one-quarter inch wall thickness the liner shall extend from a point not less than twenty-five feet below the coal seam to a point not less than twenty-five feet above it The bottom end of the liner shall be fastened and sealed to the casing and the casing shall be centrally located within the liner The annular square between said casing and liner shall be filled with aquagel cement or such other equally nonporous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 The casing shall be raised at least ten feet off the bottom of the hole and cement shall be placed in the well through the casing to a depth of at least twenty feet After the cement has been placed the casing shall be lowered to the bottom of the hole In each case where cement is used to set such liners or casing strings sufficient time shall be allowed for the proper setting of the comment before drilling is resumed The casing string shall be equipped with either an approved packer or casing shoe A liner may be run and cemented as a separate string of pipe or such alternate method of protecting the coal seam may be employed as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 Such representative of the division as the deputy secretary shall have designated and the coal operator shall be given at least seventy-two hours notice by the well operator when the work described above is to be done

(b) When a well is drilled through two or more coal seams in a location from which the coal has been removed such liner shall extend not less than twenty-five feet below the lowest seam penetrated and shall extend to a point not less than twenty-five feet above the highest such seam In such multiple coal seams in a location from which the coal has been removed the liner may be run and cemented as a separate string of pipe or such alternate method of protecting the coal seams may be employed as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 Such representative of the division as the deputy secretary shall have designated and the coal operator shall be given at least seventy-two hours notice by the well operator when the casing is to be cemented through the coal seam

(c) A well penetrating one or more workable coal seams in a location from which the coal has not been removed shall be drilled to such depth and of such size as will permit the placing of casing and packers in the hole at such points and in such manner as will exclude all oil or gas from the coal seam except such as may be found naturally in the coal seam itself Each string of casing run in the hole shall be provided with a steel casing shoe collar packer or other suitable device firmly fixed on the bottom of such string of casing The outer string of casing run through any workable coal seam shall be of at least one-quarter inch wall thickness and shall be seated at least thirty feet below such coal seam or if run through more than one workable seam then at least thirty feet below the lowest of such coal seams in at least twenty feet of cement aquagel or other such equally nonporous material or such alternate method as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 and such casing string shall extend to the surface The space behind the largest diameter casing extending through a workable coal seam or seams shall be filled to the extent possible to the surface with cement aquagel or such other equally nonporous material or such alternate method as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 Such representative of the division as the deputy secretary shall have designated and the coal operator or owner shall be given at least seventy-two hours notice by the well operator when the well is to be cased through such coal seam

(d) In the event that gas is found beneath a workable coal seam before the size of the hole has been reduced a packer shall be placed below such coal seam and above the gas horizon and the gas by this means shall be diverted to the inside of the adjacent string of casing through perforations made in such casing and through it shall be passed to the surface without contact with the coal seam Should oil or gas be found between two workable seams of coal in a hole of the same diameter from seam to seam two packers shall be placed with perforations in the casing between them permitting the gas to pass to the surface inside the adjacent casing or the gas may be sealed off by cement or by some other method approved by the division pursuant to an application filed under section 207 In either of the cases here specified the strings of casing shall extend from their seats to the top of the well

(e) In the event that a well becomes commercially productive of natural gas or petroleum all coal-protecting strings of casing shall remain in place during the life of the well and until such well is properly plugged The annular space between the various strings of casing adjacent to workable seams of coal shall be kept open except as provided in subsection (d) of this section and the top ends of all such strings shall be provided with casing heads or such other suitable devices as will permit the passage of gas into the air or into a pipeline and prevent the obstructing or filling of such annular spaces with dirt or debris

Section 205 Notice of Intention to Plug a Well and Filing of Plugging Certificate Prior to the abondonment of any well the well operator shall notify the coal operator and the owner of all known workable coal seams to whom notices are required to be given by the well operator under section 201 and such representative of the division as the deputy secretary shall have designated of his intention to plug and abandon any such well and submit a plat (on a form to be furnished by the division) showing the location of the well and fixing the time at which the work of plugging will be commenced which time shall be not less than seventy-two hours after the time when such notice is received in order that their representative may be present at the plugging of the well Such notice may be waived by the division and said coal operator or owner and either of them may likewise waive his right to be present but such waiver shall be in writing and a copy thereof attached to notice of abandonment filed with the division under this section Whether or not such representatives appear the well operator may if he has fully complied with the requirements of this section proceed at the time fixed to plug the well in the manner hereinafter described When such plugging has been completed a certificate shall be prepared (on a form to be furnished by the division) by two experienced and qualified men who participated in the work setting forth the time and manner in which the well was plugged One copy of this certificate shall be mailed to each coal operator or owner to whom notice was given by registered mail and another copy shall be mailed to the division

Section 206 Plugging and Pulling Casing (a) Upon abandoning or ceasing to operate any well in an area not underlain by a workable coal seam the owner or operator thereof shall plug the same in the following manner

The well shall be filled with sand pumpings mud or other equally nonporous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 from the bottom of the well to a point twenty feet above the top of the lowest stratum bearing or having borne oil gas or water or a permanent bridge shall be anchored thirty feet below the lowest stratum bearing or having borne oil gas or water and from such bridge the well shall be filled with sand pumpings mud or other equally nonporous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 to a point twenty feet above such stratum at this point there shall be placed a plug of cement or other suitable material which will completely seal the hole Between this sealing plug and a point twenty feet above the next higher stratum bearing or having borne oil gas or water the hole shall be either filled or bridged and filled in the manner just described and at such point there shall be placed another similar plug of cement or other suitable material which will completely seal the hole In like manner the hole shall be filled and plugged or bridged filled and plugged with reference to each of the strata bearing or having borne oil gas or water Whenever such strata are not widely separated and are free from water they may be grouped and treated as a single horizon and the aforesaid filling and plugging may be performed as though there were but one horizon After plugging all strata bearing or having borne oil gas or water as aforesaid a final plug shall be anchored approximately ten feet below the bottom of the largest casing in the well and from this point to the surface the well shall be filled with sand pumpings or other equally nonporous material

(b) In an area not underlain by a workable coal seam when it is desired to pull the casing in any well the well may be produced through tubing placed on a packer and after cement has been poured on the packer to a depth of not less than twenty feet and the annular space outside of the tubing and above the cement plug is filled with cement aquagel or other equally nonporous material or such alternate method as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 up to the bottom of the smallest water string of casing then the casing or casings may be pulled

Upon the abandonment of such well a plug or bridge shall be placed in the tubing at a point near the depth at which the packer was set and cement placed on top of said plug or bridge to a depth of not less than thirty feet After the tubing has been parted above the plug and pulled a bridge shall then be set at a depth of not less than thirty feet from the surface and the hole completely filled from that point to the surface with sand pumpings mud or other suitable material With the approval of the division pursuant to an application filed under section 207 some other equally effective method of pulling casing or plugging may be used

(c) Upon abandoning or ceasing to operate any well which passes through a workable coal seam the owner or operator of said well shall plug the same in the following manner

The well shall be filled with sand pumpings or other equally non-porous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 to the top of the lowest stratum bearing or having borne oil gas or water and at such point a suitable type of plug approved by the division shall be placed The space above the plug shall be filled for at least twenty feet with cement or other equally nonporous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207 A sufficient lapse of time shall be allowed after the introduction of the cement or other material for it is to set properly before proceeding All other formations encountered in the well wich bear or have borne oil gas or water shall be plugged and filled in the same manner A final plug shall be anchored approximately ten feet below the bottom of the smallest coal protecting string of casing but not less than forty feet below the lowest workable coal seam and the hole above filled with approximately twenty feet of rock or gravel After the inside casing has been drawn there shall be placed on top of the rock or gravel above the final plug a vent pipe at least two inches in diameter with a bell fitting or other suitable device to carry any fee gas into the vent pipe The vent pipe shall extend above the surface at least six feet and shall be fitted at the top with a tee and two street ells or similar devices to prevent debris from entering the vent pipe The space surrounding the vent pipe and immediately above the bell fitting or other device shall be filled with at least five feet of sand pumpings or fine gravel and then the space from this point shall be filled with cement to a point not less than twenty-feet above the highest workable coal seam From this point to the surface the space around the vent pipe shall be filled with sand pumpings or other equally nonporous material In a storage reservoir subject to section 304 the vent pipe shall be maintained in good repair by the storage operator If approved by the division pursuant to an application filed under section 207 an alternative method of plugging and venting may be employed

(d) Upon abandoning or ceasing to operate any well pursuant to this section where any of the strata bearing or having borne oil gas or water in a well hase been shot thereby creating cavities which cannot be readily filled in the manner above described the well operator shall use either of the following methods unless he has approval of the division pursuant to an application filed under section 207 to use an alternative method

(1) Should the stratum which has been shot be the lowest one in the well there shall be placed at the nearest suitable point but not less than twenty feet above the stratum a plug of cement or other suitable material which will completely seal the hole In the event however that the shooting has been done above one or more strata bearing or having borne oil gas or water in the well plugging in the manner specified shall be done at the nearest suitable points to not less than twenty feet below and not less than twenty feet above the stratum shot

(2) When such cavity shall be in the lowest stratum bearing or having borne oil gas or water in the well a liner shall be placed which shall extend from not less than twenty feet above to a solid bottom in the stratum in which the shooting has been done In the event however that the shooting has been done above one or more strata bearing or having borne oil gas or water in the well the liner shall be so placed that it will extend not less than twenty feet above nor less than twenty feet below the stratum in which shooting has been done Following the placing of the liner in the manner here specified it shall be completely filled with sand pumpings mud or other equally nonporous material as the division may approve pursuant to an application filed under section 207

Section 207 Alternative Method (a) Whenever provision is made in this act by reference to this section for using an alternative method or material in carrying out any obligation imposed by the act the person seeking the authority to use such alternative method or material shall file an application with the division describing such proposed alternative method or material in reasonable detail Notice of filing of any such application shall be given by registered mail to any coal operator or operators affected Any such coal operator may within ten days following such notice file objections to such proposed alternative method or material If no objections are filed within said ten day period or if none is raised by the division the division shall forthwith issue a permit approving such proposed alternative method or material

(b) If any such objections are filed by any coal operator or are raised by the division the division shall direct that a conference be held in accordance with section 502 within ten days following the filing of such objections At such conference the person seeking approval of the alternative method or material and the person who has filed such objections shall attempt to agree on such alternative method or material or any modifications thereof and if such agreement is reached and approved by the division the division shall forthwith issue a permit approving the alternative method or material If no such agreement is reached and approved the division shall direct that a hearing be held in accordance with section 502 hereof provided however that if the alternative method or material involves a new development in technology or technique the division may before such a hearing is held grant such affected parties a period not to exceed ninety days to study and evaluate said proposed alternative method or material Following such hearing if the division shall find that such proposed alternative method or material will furnish adequate protection to the workable coal seams the division shall by order approve such alternative method or material otherwise the division shall deny the said application

Article III

Regulation of Underground Gas Storage Pools in Certain Areas

Section 301 Filing of Maps and Data by Persons Operating or Proposing to Operate Gas Storage Reservoirs (a) Any person who on the effective date of this act is injecting gas into or storing gas in a storage reservoir which underlies or is within three thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine which is operating in a coal seam that extends over the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area shall within sixty days thereafter file with the division a copy of a map and certain data in the form and manner provided in this subsection

Any person who on the effective date of this act is injecting gas into or storing gas in a storage reservoir which is not at such date under or within three thousand linear feet but is less than ten thousand linear feet from an operating coal mine which is operating in a coal seam that extends over the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area shall file such map and data within such time in excess of sixty days as the division may fix

Any person who after the exective date of this act proposes to inject or store gas in a storage reservoir located as above shall file the required may and data with the division not less than six months prior to the starting of actual injection or storage

The map provided for herein shall be prepared by a competent engineer or geologist It shall show the stratum or strata in which the existing or proposed storage reservoir is or is to be located the geogprahic location of the outside boundaries of the said storage reservvoir and the reservvoir protective area the location of all known oil or gas wells which have been drilled into or through the storage stratum within the reservoir or within three thousand linear feet thereof indicating which of these wells have been or are to be cleaned out and plugged or reconditioned for storage and also indicating the proposed location of all additional wells which are to be drilled within the storage reservoir or within three thousand linear feet thereof

The following information if available shall be furnished for all known oil or gas wells which have been drilled into or through the storage stratum within the storage reservoir or within three thousand linear feet thereof name of the operator date drilled total depth depth of production if the well was productive of oil or gas the initial rock pressure and volume the depths at which all coal seams were encountered and a copy of the driller's log or other similar information At the time of the filing of the aforesaid maps and data such person shall file a detailed statement of what efforts he has made to determine (1) that the wells shown on said map are accurately located thereon and (2) that to the best of his knowledge they are all the oil or gas wells which have ever been drilled into or below the storage stratum within the proposed storage reservoir or within the reservoir protective area This statement shall also include information as to whether or not the initial injection is for testing purposes the maximum pressure at which injection and storage of gas is contemplated and a detailed explanation of the methods to be used or which theretofore have been used in drilling cleaning out reconditioning and plugging wells in the storage reservoir or within the reservoir protective area The map and data required to be filed hereunder shall be amended or supplemented semiannually in case any material changes have occurred provided however that the division may require a storage operator to amend or supplement such map or data at more frequent intervals if material changes have occurred justifying such earlier filing

(b) The requirements of this section shall not apply to the operator of an undergound gas storage reservoir so long as said reservoir is located more than ten thousand linear feet from an operating coal mine provided however that such storage operator shall give notice to the division of the name of each political subdivision and county in which said operator maintains and operates a gas storage reservoir In those political subdivisions and counties where both gas storage reservoirs and coal mines are being operated the division may request the storage operator to furnish maps showing the geographical location and outside boundaries of such storage reservoirs The division shall keep a record of such information and shall promptly notify both the coal operator and the storage operator if it is found that the coal mine and storage reservoir are within ten thousand linear feet of each other

(c) At the time of the filing of the above maps and data and the filing of amended or supplemental maps or data the division shall give written notice of said filing to all persons who may be affected under the provisions of this act by the storage reservoir described in such maps or data Such notices shall contain a description of the boundaries of such storage reservoir When a person operating a coal mine or owning an interest in coal properties which are or may be affected by the storage reservoir requests in writing a copy of any map or data filed with the division such copy shall be furnished by the storage operator

(d) For all purposes of this act the ouside boundaries of a storage reservoir shall be defined by the location of those wells around the periphery of the storage reservoir which had no gas production when drilled in said storage stratum provided however that the boundaries as thus defined shall be originally fixed or subsequently charged where based upon the number and nature of such wells upon the geological and production knowledge of the storage stratum its character permeability and distribution and operating experience it is determined in a conference or hearing under section 502 that modification should be made

Section 302 Filing of Maps and Data by Persons Operating Coal Mines (a) Any person owning or operating a coal mine shall within thirty days from the effective date of this act file with the division a map prepared by a competent engineer showing the outside coal boundaries of the said operating coal mine the existing workings and exhausted areas and the relationship of said boundaries to identifiable surface properties and landmarks Any person who is storing or contemplating the storage of gas in the vicinity of such operating coal mines shall upon written request be furnished a copy of the aforesaid map by the coal operator and such person and the division shall thereafter be informed of any boundary changes at the time such changes occur The division shall keep a record of such information and shall promptly notify both the coal operator and the storage operator if it is found that the coal mine and the storage reservoir are within ten thousand linear feet of each other

(b) Any person owning or operating any coal mine which on the date of the enactment of this act is or which thereafter comes within ten thousand linear feet of a storage reservoir and where the coal seam being operated extends over the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area shall within forty-five days after he has notice from the division of such fact file with the division and furnish to the person operating such storage reservoir a map in the form hereinabove provided and showing in addition the existing and projected excavations and workings of such operating coal mine for the ensuing eighteen month period and also the location of any oil or gas wells of which said coal operator has knowledge Such person owning or operating said coal mine shall each six months thereafter file with the division and furnish to the person operating such storage reservoir a revised map showing any additional excavations and workings together with the projected excavations and workings for the then ensuing eighteen month period which may be within ten thousand linear feet of said storage reservoir provided however that the division may require a coal operator to file such revised map at more frequent intervals if material changes have occurred justifying such earlier filing Such person owning or operating said coal mine shall also file with the division and furnish the person operating said reservoir prompt notice of any wells which have been cut into together with all available pertinent information

Section 303 Notice by Persons Operating Coal Mines (a) Any person owning or operating a coal mine on the effective date of this act and having knowledge that it overlies or is within two thousand linear feet of a gas storage reservoir shall within thirty days notify the division and the storage operator of such fact

(b) When any person owning or operating a coal mine hereafter expects that within the ensuing nine months period such coal mine will be extended to a point which will be within two thousand linear feet of any storage reservoir he shall notify the division and the storage operator in writing of such fact

(c) Any person hereafter intending to establish or reestablish an operating coal mine which when established or reestablished will be over a storage reservoir or within two thousand linear feet of a storage reservoir or which upon benig established or reestablished may within nine months thereafter be expected to be within two thousand linear feet of a storage reservoir shall notify the division and the storage operator in writing before doing so and such notice shall include the date on which it is intended the operating coal mine will be established or reestablished

Any person who serves such notice of an intention to establish or reestablish an operating coal mine under this subsection without intending in good faith to establish or reestablish such mine shall be liable for continuing damages to any storage operator injured by the serving of such improper notice and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor under this article and subject to the same penalties as set forth in section 504

Section 304 Obligations to be Performed by Persons Operating Storage Reservoirs (a) Any person who on the effective date of this act is operating a storage reservoir which undelies or is within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine which is operating in a coal seam that extends over the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area shall

(1) Use every known method which is reasonable under the circumstances for discovering and locating all wells which have or may have been drilled into or through the storage stratum in that acreage which is within the outside coal boundaries of such operating coal mine and which overlies the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area

(2) Plug or recondition in the manner provided by subsection (c) of section 206 and subsection (e) of this section all known wells (except to the extent otherwise provided in subsections (e) (f) (g) and (h) of this section) drilled into or through the storage stratum and which are located within that portion of the acreage of the operating coal mine overlying the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area provided however that where objection is raised as to the use of any well as a storage well and after a conference or hearing in accordance with section 502 it is determined taking into account all the circumstances and conditions that such well should not be used as a storage well such well shall be plugged provided however that if in the opinion of the storage operator the well to which such objection has been raised may at some future time be used as a storage well the storage operator may recondition and inactivate such well instead of plugging it if such alternative is approved by the division after taking into account all of the circumstances and conditions

The requirements of clause (2) of this subsection shall be deemed to have been fully complied with if as the operating coal mine is extended all wells which from time to time come within the acreage described in such clause (2) are reconditioned or plugged as provided in subsections (e) or (f) of this section and in subsection (c) of section 206 so that by the time the coal mine has reached a point within two thousand linear feet of any such wells they will have been reconditioned or plugged so as to meet the requirements of said subsections (e) or (f) and of subsection (c) of section 206

(b) Any person operating a storage reservoir referred to in subsection (a) of this section shall within sixty days after the effective date of this act file with the division and furnish a copy to the person operating the affected operating coal mine a vertified statement setting forth

(1) That the map and any supplemental maps required by subsection (a) of section 301 have been prepared and filed in accordance with section 301

(2) A detailed explanation of what the storage operator has done to comply with the requirements of clauses (1) and (2) of subsection (a) of this section and the results thereof

(3) Such additional efforts if any as the storage operator is making and intends to make to locate all oil and gas wells

(4) Any additional wells that are to be plugged or reconditioned to meet the requirements of clause (2) of subsection (a) of this section

If such statement is not filed by the storage reservoir operator within the time specified herein the division shall summarily order such operator to file such statement

(c) Within one hundred twenty days after the receipt of any such statement the division may and it shall if so requested by either the storage operator or the coal operator affected direct that a conference be held in accordance with section 502 to determine whether the information as filed indicates that the requirements of sections 301 and of subsection (a) of this section have been fully complied with At such conference if any person shall be of the opinion that such requirements have not been fully complied with the parties shall attempt to agree on what additional things are to be done and the time within which they are to be completed subject to the approval of the division to meet the said requirements

If such agreement cannot be reached the division shall direct that a hearing be held in accordance with section 502 At such hearing the division shall determine whether the requirements of section 301 an of subsection (a) of this section have been met and shall issue an order setting forth such determination If the division shall determine that any of the said requirements have not been met the order shall specify in detail both the extent to which such requirements have not been met an the things which the storage operator must do to meet such requirements The order shall grant to the storage operator such time as is reasonably necessary to complete each of the things which he is directed to do If in carrying out said order the storage operator encounters conditions which were not known to exist at the time of the hearing and which materially affect the validity of said order or the ability of the storage operator to comply with the order the storage operator may apply for a rehearing or modification of said order

(d) Whenever in compliance with subsection (a) of this section a storage operator after the filing of the statement provided for in subsection (b) of this section plugs or reconditions a well he shall so notify the division and the coal operator affected in writing setting forth such facts as will indicate the manner in which the plugging or reconditioning was done Upon receipt thereof the coal operator affected or the division may request a conference or hearing in accordance with section 502

(e) In order to meet the requirements of subsection (a) of this section wells which are to be plugged shall be plugged in the manner specified in subsection (c) of section 206 When a well located within the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area has been plugged prior to the enactment of this act and on the basis of the data information and other evidence submitted to the division it is determined that (1) such plugging was done in the manner required in subsection (c) of section 206 or in a manner approved as an alternative method in accordance with section 207 and (2) said plugging is still sufficiently effective to meet the requirements of this act the obligations imposed by subsection (a) of this section as to plugging said well shall be considered fully satisfied

(f) In order to meet the requirements of subsection (a) of this section wells which are to be reconditioned shall be cleaned out from the surface through the storage horizon and the following casing strings shall be pulled and replaced with new casing using the same procedure as is applicable to drilling a new well as provided for in this act (1) the producing casing (2) the largest diameter casing passing through the lowest workable coal seam unless such casing extends at least twenty-five feet below the bottom of such coal seam and is determined to be in good physical condition provided however that the storage operator may instead of replacing the largest diameter casing replace the next largest casing string if such casing string extends at least twenty-five feet below the lowest workable coal seam and (3) such other casing strings which are determined not to be in good physical condition In the case of wells to be used for gas storage the annular space between each string of casing and the annular space behind the largest diameter casing to the extent possible shall be filled to the surface with cement or aquagel or such equally nonporous material as is approved by the division pursuant to section 207 At least fifteen days prior to the time when a well is to be reconditioned the storage operator shall give notice thereof to the coal operator or owner and to the division setting forth in such notice the manner in which it is planned to recondition such well and any pertinent data known to the storage operator which will indicate the then existing condition of such well In addition the storage operator shall give the coal operator or owner and such representative of the division as the deputy secretary shall have designated at least seventy-two hours notice of the time when such reconditioning is to begin The coal operator or owner shall have the right to file within ten days after the receipt of the first notice required herein objections to the plan of reconditioning as submitted by the storage operator If no such objections are filed or if none by the division within such ten day period the storage operator may proceed with the reconditioning in accordance with the plan as submitted If any such objections are filed or are made by the division the division shall fix a time and place for a conference in accordance with section 502 at which conference the storage operator and the person who has filed such objections shall endeavor to agree upon a plan of reconditioning which meets the requirements herein and which will satisfy such objections If no plan is approved at such conference the division shall direct that a hearing be held in accordance with section 502 and after such hearing shall by an appropriate order determine whether the plan as submitted meets the requirements set forth herein or what changes if any should be made to meet such requirements If in reconditioning a well in accordance with said plan physical conditions are encountered which justify or necessitate a change in said plan the storage operator or the coal operator may request that the plan be changed If said parties cannot agree upon such change the division shall arrange for a conference or hearing in accordance with section 502 to determine the matter in the same manner as set forth herein in connection with original objections to aid plan Application may be made to the division in the manner prescribed in section 207 for approval of an alternative method of reconditioning a well When a well located within the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area has been reconditioned prior to the enactment of this act or was so drilled and equipped previously and on the basis of the data information and other evidence submitted to the division it is determined that

(1) Such reconditioning or previous drilling and equipping was done in the manner required in this subsection or in a manner approved as an alternative method in accordance with section 207

(2) Such reconditioning or previous drilling and equipping is still sufficiently effective to meet the requirements of this act the obligations imposed by subsection (a) as to reconditioning said well shall be considered fully satisfied Where a well requires emergency repairs this subsection shall not be construed to require the storage operator to give the notices specified herein before making such repairs

(g) When a well located within the reservoir protective area is a producing well in a stratum below the storage stratum the obligations imposed by subsection (a) of this section shall not begin until such well ceases to be a producing well

(h) When a well within a storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area penetrates the storage stratum but does not penetrate the coal seam being mined by an operating coal mine the division may upon application of the operator of such storage reservoir exempt such well from the requirements of this section Either party affected may request a conference and hearing with respect to the exemption of any such well in accordance with section 502

(i) In fulfilling the requirements of clause (2) of subsection (a) of this section with respect to a well within the reservoir protective area the storage operator shall not be required to plug or recondition such well until he has received from the coal operator written notice that the mine workings will within the period stated in such notice be within two thousand linear feet of such well Upon the receipt of such notice the storage operator shall use due diligence to complete the plugging or reconditioning of such well in accordance with the requirements of this section and of subsection (c) of section 206 If the said mine workings do not within a period of three years after said well has been plugged come within two thousand linear feet of said well the coal operator shall reimburse the storage operator for the cost of said plugging provided such well is still within the reservoir protective area as of that time

(j) When retreat mining approaches a point where within ninety days it is expected that such retreat work will be at the location of the pillar surrounding an active storage well the coal operator shall give written notice of such approach to the storage operator and by agreement said parties shall determine whether it is necessary or advisable to inactivate effectively said well temporarily The well shall not be reactivated until a reasonable period has elapsed such reasonable period to be determined by said parties In the event that said parties cannot agree upon either of the foregoing matters such question shall be submitted to the division for decision in accordance with section 502 The number of wells required to be temporarily inactivated during the retreat period shall not be such as to materially affect the efficient operation of such storage pool This provision shall not preclude the temporary inactivation of a particular well where the practical effect of inactivating such well is to render the pool temporarily inoperative

(k) The requirements of subsections (a) (l) and (m) of this section shall not apply to the injection of gas into any stratum when the sole purpose of such injection (such purpose being herein referred to as testing) is to determine whether the said stratum is suitable for storage purposes provided however that such testing shall be conducted only in compliance with the following requirements

(1) The person testing or proposing to test shall comply with all of the provisions and requirements of section 301 and shall verify the statement required to be filed thereby

(2) If any part of the proposed storage reservoir is under or within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine which is operating in a coal seam that extends over the proposed storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area the storage operator shall give at least six months' written notice to the division and to the coal operator of the fact that injection of gas for testing purposes is proposed

(3) The coal operator affected may at any time file objections with the division in accordance with subsection (h) of section 501 If any such objections are filed by the coal operator or if the division shall have any objections the division shall fix a time and place for a conference in accordance with section 502 not more than ten days from the date of the notice to the storage operator at which conference the storage operator and the person who has filed such objections shall attempt to agree subject to the approval of the division on the questions involved If such agreement cannot be reached at such conference the division shall direct that a hearing be held in accordance with section 502 At such hearing the division shall determine and set forth in an appropriate order the conditions and requirements which it shall deem necessary or advisable in order to prevent gas from such storage reservoir from entering any operating coal mine The storage operator shall comply with such conditions and requirements throughout the period of the testing operations In determining such conditions and requirements the division shall take into account the extent to which the matters referred to in subsection (a) of this section have been performed If in carrying out said order either the storage operator or the coal operator encounters or discovers conditions which were not known to exist at the time of the hearing and which materially affect said order or the ability of the storage operator to comply with the order either operator may apply for a rehearing or modification of said order

(4) Where at any time a proposed storage reservoir being tested come under or within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine either because of the extension of the storage reservoir being tested or because of the extension or establishment or reestablishment of the operating coal mine then and at the time of any such event the requirements of this subsection shall become applicable to such testing

(l) Any person who after the effective date of this act proposes to establish a storage reservoir under or within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine which is operating in a coal seam that extends over the storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area shall prior to establishing such reservoir in addition to complying with the requirements of section 301 and subsection (a) of this section file the verified statement required by subsection (b) of this section and fully comply with such order or orders if any as the division may issue in the manner provided for under subsection (b) or (c) of this section before beginning the operation of such storage reservoir After the person proposing to operate such storage reservoir shall have complied with such requirements and shall have thereafter begun to operate such reservoir he shall continue to be subject to all of the provisions of this article

(m) When a gas storage reservoir (1) is in operation on the effective date of this act and at any time thereafter it is under or within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine or (2) when a gas storage reservoir is put in operation after the effective date of this act and at any time after such storage operations begin it is under or within two thousand linear feet of an operating coal mine then and in either such event the storage operator shall comply with all of the provisions of this section except that the time for filing the verified statement under subsection (b) shall be sixty days after the date stated in the notice filed by the coal operator under subsections (b) or (c) of section 303 as to when the operating coal mine will be at a point within two thousand linear feet of such reservoir provided however that if the extending of the projected workings or the proposed establishment or reestablishment of the operating coal mine is delayed after the giving of the notice provided in subsection (b) and (c) of section 303 the coal operator shall give notice of such delay to the division and the division shall upon the request of the storage operator extend the time for filing such statement by the additional time which will be required to extend or establish or reestablish such operating coal mine to a point within two thousand linear feet of such reservoir Such verified statement shall also indicate that the map referred to in subsection (a) of section 301 has been currently amended as of the time of the filing of such statement The person operating any such storage reservoir shall continue to be subject to all of the provisions of this article

(n) If in any proceeding under this act the division shall determine that any operator of a storage reservoir has failed to carry out any lawful order of the division issued under this act the division shall have authority to require such storage operator to suspend the operation of such reservoir and to withdraw the gas therefrom until such violation is remedied In such an event the gas shall be withdrawn under the following conditions The storage operator shall remove the maximum amount of gas which is required by the division to be removed from the storage reservoir that can be withdrawn in accordance with recognized engineering and operating procedures and shall proceed with due diligence in so far as existing facilities used to remove gas from the reservoir will permit

(o) In addition to initial compliance with the other provisions of this act and any lawful orders issued thereunder it shall be the duty at all times of the person owning or operating any storage reservoir which is subject to the provisions of this article to keep all wells drilled into or through the storage stratum in such condition and to operate the same in such manner as to prevent the escape of gas into any coal mine therefrom and to operate and maintain such storage reservoir and its facilities in such manner and at such pressure as will prevent gas from escaping from such reservoir or its facilities into any coal mine provided that this duty shall not be construed to include the inability to prevent the escape of gas where such escape results from an act of God or an act of any person not under the control of the storage operator other than in connection with any well which the storage operator has failed to locate and to make known to the division provided however that if any escape of gas into a coal mine does result from an act of God or an act of any person not under the control of the storage operator the storage operator shall be under the duty of taking such action thereafter as is reasonably necessary to prevent further escape of gas into the coal mine

Section 305 Inspection of Facilities and Records Reliance on Maps Burden of Proof (a) In determining whether a particular coal mine or operating coal mine is or will be within any distance material under this act from any storage reservoir the owner or operator of such coal mine and the storage operator may rely on the most recent map of the storage reservoir or coal mine filed by the other with the division

(b) In any proceeding under this act where the accuracy of any map or data filed by any person pursuant to the requirements of this act is in issue the person filing the same shall at the request of any party to such proceeding be required to disclose the information and method used in compiling such map and data and such information as is available to such person that might affect the current validity of such map or data If any material question is raised in such proceeding as to the accuracy of such map or data with respect to any particular matter or matters contained therein the person filing such map or data shall then have the burden of proving the accuracy of the map or data with respect to such matter or matters

(c) The person operating any storage reservoir affected by the terms of this act shall at all reasonable times be permitted to inspect the applicable records and facilities of any coal mine overlying such storage reservoir or the reservoir protective area and the person operating any such coal mine affected by the terms of this act shall similarly at all reasonable times be permitted to inspect the applicable records and facilities of any such storage reservoir underlying any such coal mine In the event that either such storage operator or coal operator shall refuse to permit any such inspection of records of facilities the division shall on its own motion or on application of the party seeking the inspection after reasonable written notice and a hearing thereon if requested by either of the parties affected make an order providing for such inspection

Section 306 Exemptions (a) The provisions of this article shall not apply to the following types of coal mines

(1) Strip mines and augar mines operating from the surface

(2) Mines to which the provisions of the act of June 9 1911 (P L 756) as amended do not apply as provided in section 3 of Article XXVIII thereof and mines to which the provisions of the act of June 2 1891 (P L 176) as amended do not apply as provided in section 1 of Article I thereof

(b) Injection of gas for storage purposes in any workable coal seam whether or not such seam is being or has been mined shall be prohibited Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit the original extraction of natural gas crude oil or coal

ARTICLE IV

EMINENT DOMAIN

Section 401 Appropriation of Interests in Real Property (a) Any and all corporations empowered to transport sell or store natural or manufactured gas within this Commonwealth shall have the right subject to the following limitations to appropriate interests in real property for the injection storage and removal from storage of natural or manufactured gas in any stratum which is or previously has been commercially productive of natural gas provided that the right of eminent domain shall not be exercised to acquire for the purpose of gas storage (1) any interest in any geological stratum within the area of the proposed storage reservoir unless the original recoverable oil or gas reserves therein have been depleted or exhausted by at least eighty per centum and unless and until the condemnor shall have acquired the right by grant lease or other agreement to store gas in the said geological stratum underlying at least seventy-five per centum of the area of the proposed storage reservoir or (2) any interest in any geological stratum within the area of the proposed storage reservoir owned directly or indirectly by a gas company or by a person engaged in the local distribution of natural gas which interest is being used by such gas company or by such person for present storage of gas in the performance of service to customers within its service area

(b) This act shall be construed to authorize appropriation of the stratum to be used for storage any gas reserve remaining therein and any active or abandoned well or wells drilled into said stratum and further to authorize the appropriation of the right to enter upon and use the surface of lands for the purpose of locating reconditioning maintaining plugging or replugging any active or abandoned wells or operating any wells drilled into or through said storage stratum within the storage reservoir boundary or within the reservoir protective area This act shall not be construed however to preclude the owner of nonstorage strata from the drilling of wells for the purpose of producing oil or gas from any stratum above or below the storage stratum appropriated by such corporation but the corporation appropriating or holding storage rights shall have access to and the right to inspect and examine any such drilling or completed well and the drilling logs and all other records relating to the drilling equipping or operating of such well for the purpose of determining whether the storage stratum is being adequately protected to prevent the escape of gas stored therein This act shall not authorize the appropriation of any coal or coal measure whether or not being mined or any interest therein

(c) Any person drilling operating using or plugging any well through any stratum which has been appropriated under this act shall so drill case equip operate or plug the same as to prevent any avoidable escape of gas that may be stored in the storage stratum Upon failure neglect or refusal of such person or persons to comply with this section the court of common pleas of the county in which the tract of land is situated shall have the power to compel compliance by injunction or to grant other appropriate relief upon action brought by the coporation storing gas in the storage stratum

(d) Prior to any appropriation the corporation shall attempt to agree with the owner or owners of the interests in real property involved as to the damage properly payable for the property rights or interests to be appropriated in or on his her or their property if such owner or owners can be found and are sui juris Failing to agree the corporation shall tender to the property owner or owners a surety bond to secure him her or them in the payment of damages If the owner or owners refuse to accept said bond or cannot be found or are not sui juris said bond after reasonable notice to the property owner or owners by advertisement or otherwise shall then be presented for the approval to the court of common pleas of the county in which the tract of land is situated Upon the approval of the bond and its being filed in said court the right of the corporation to enter upon the enjoyment of the powers given it by this act to store gas and to enter on the property for the purpose of locating reconditioning maintaining plugging or replugging any active or abandoned wells or operating any wells drilled into or through said storage stratum within the storage reservoir boundary or within the reservoir protective area shall be complete

(e) Upon petition of either the property owner or owners or the corporation exercising the right of eminent domain hereunder said court shall appoint three disinterested freeholders of the county to serve as viewers to assess the damages proper to be paid to the property owner or owners for the rights appropriated by said corporation and shall fix a time for their meeting of which notice shall be given to both parties After the viewers have filed their report with the court said court shall fix reasonable compensation for the service of said viewers

(f) Either party may appeal from the report of the viewers within twenty days after the filing thereof with the court of commonpleas and have a jury trial and the right of appeal as in ordinary cases

(g) Nothing contained in this section shall relieve the person operating a storage reservoir from the requirements of this act

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 501 Oil and Gas Dvision (a) There is hereby created a division of the Department of Mines to be known as the Oil and Gas Division which division shall have power and authority to execute and carry out the provisions of this act in the manner provided herein The division shall be under the immediate supervision of a Deputy Secretary of Mines for Oil and Gas who shall be appointed by the Secretary of Mines with the approval of the Governor and who shall be under the supervision and direction of the Secretary of Mines The deputy secretary at the time of his appointment shall be a person informed on the subjects of coal mining and oil and gas production and storage and shall receive such compensasation as may be fixed by the Secretary of the Department of Mines with the approval of the Governor

(b) The deputy secretary shall serve on behalf of the Secretary of Mines as hearing officer at all hearings or conferences conducted by the division or in his absence or inability to act such other qualified representative of the division as may be designated in writing by the secretary or said deputy secretary

(c) The Secretary of Mines shall appoint and fix the compensation of such additional experts engineers geologists inspectors investigators clerks and other employes as may be necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the divisiion provided that the Secretary of Mines shall appoint or retain on a consulting basis at least one competent engineer or geologist with a degree in engineering or geology from a recognized institution of learning and at least one competent mining engineer with a degree in engineering from a recognized institution of learning and each having at least four years practical experience in their respective fields At all hearings under subsection (c) of section 304 there shall be present in addtion to the person conducting said hearing at least one of the aforesaid gas engineers or geologists and at least one of the said coal mining engineers who shall consult with the person conducting said hearing and make recommendations to him respecting the matter under consideration

(d) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this act the division and its employes shall be subject to all the provisions of "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9 1929 (P. L. 177) its amendments and supplements which apply generally to administrative departments and offices

(e) The division may review the maps and data filed under sections 301 and 302 hereof for the purpose of determining the accuracy thereof Where any material question is raised by any interested storage operator or coal operator or owner as to the accuracy of any such map or data the division shall hold hearings thereon and shall by an appropriate order require the person filing such map or data to correct the same if they are found to be erroneous

(f) It shall be the duty of the division to receive and keep in a safe place for public inspection any map data report well log notice or other writing required to be filed with it pursuant to the provisions of this act The division shall keep such indices of all such information as will enable any person using the same to readily locate such information either by the identity of the person who filed the same or by the person or persons affected by such filing or by the geographic location of the subject matter by political subdivision The division shall also keep a docket for public inspection of all proceedings in which shall be entered the dates of any notices the names of all persons notified and their address the dates of hearings conferences and all orders decrees decisions determinations rulings or other actions issued or taken by the division and such docket shall constitute the record of each and every proceeding before the division

(g) The division shall have authority to make any inspections and investigations of records and facilities which it shall deem necessary or desirable to perform its functions under this act

(h) Where in any section of this provision is made for the filing of objections such objections shall be filed in writing with the division by the person entitled to file the same or by the division and shall state as definitely as is reasonably possible the reasons for such objections The person filing such objections shall send a copy thereof by registered mail to the person or persons affected thereby

Section 502 Conferences Hearings and Appeals (a) The division or any person having a direct interest in the subject matter of this act may at any time request that a conference be held for the purpose of discussing and endeavoring to resolve by mutual agreement any matter arising under the provisions of this act Prompt notice of any such conference shall be given by the division to all such interested parties At such conference a representative of the division shall be in attendance and the division may make such recommendations as it deems appropriate Any agreement reached at such conference shall be consistent with the requirements of this act and if approved by such representative of the division it shall be reduced to writing and shall be effective unless reviewed and rejected by the division within ten days after the close of the conference The record of any such agreement approved by the division shall be kept on file by the division with copies furnished to the parties Such a conference shall be held in all cases prior to conducting any hearing under this section.

(b) All hearings before the division shall be public and shall be conducted in accordance with such regulations and such provisions as to reasonable notice as the division may prescribe Consistent with the requirements for reasonable notice all hearings under this act shall be held by the division promptly All testimony taken at such hearings shall be under oath and shall be recorded by a reporter appointed by the division and the parties may appear and be heard in person or by attorney The division may present at such hearing any evidence which is material to the matter under consideration and which has come to the division's attention in any investigation or inspection made pursuant to provisions of this section

(c) After the conclusion of hearings the division shall make and file its findings and order with its opinion if any A copy of such order shall be served by registered mail upon the person against whom it runs or his attorney and notice thereof shall be given to the other parties to the proceedings or their attorney

(d) The division may at any time after notice and after opportunity to be heard as provided in this section rescind or amend any approved agreement or order made by it Any order rescinding or amending a prior agreement or order shall when served upon the person affected and after notice thereof is given to the other parties to the proceedings have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders but no such order shall affect the legality or validity of any acts done by such person in accordance with the prior agreement or order before receipt by such person of the notice of such change.

(e) The division shall have the power in any part of the Commonwealth to subpoena witnesses to administer oaths to examine witnesses or to take such testimony or compel the production of such books records maps plats papers documents and other writings as it may deem necessary or proper in and pertinent to any proceedings investigation or hearing held or had by it In case of refusal to obey any subpoena served upon any person any court of common pleas within the jurisdiction where the hearing is held or within the jurisdiction where the person guilty of refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business shall on application of the deputy secretary or his authorized representative have power to enforce such subpoenas in contempt proceedings The fees for serving a subpoena shall be the same as those paid sheriffs for similar services

(f) The division or any party to proceedings before the division may cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for taking depositions in civil actions.

(g) Witnesses who are summoned before the division shall be paid the same fees as are paid to witnesses in the courts of record of general jurisdiction Witnesses whose depositions are taken purusant to the provisions of this act and the officers taking the same shall be entitled to the same fees as are paid for like services in such courts

(h) No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book document map plat or paper in any investigation or inquiry by or hearing before the division when ordered to do so upon the ground that the testimony or evidence book documents map plat paper or other writings required may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture but no person shall be prosecuted punished or subjected to any forfeiture or penalty for or on account of any act transaction matter or thing concerning which he shall have been compelled under objection to testify or produce documentary evidence provided that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony

(i) Within twenty days after the service upon him of any final order decision determination or ruling (or if a petition for rehearing or reconsideration is filed within ten days after said service then within ten days after service of the order of the division refusing such petition or of the order following rehearing or reconsideration) any person aggrieved thereby who has a direct interest in such adjudication shall have the right to appeal therefrom Such appeal shall be taken to the court of common pleas of the county wherein the land or other property right affected is located or to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County If at the time of filing of any such appeal the court is not then in session the president judge of said court or any two judges thereof shall order holding of court upon petition of a dissatisfied party for the purpose of hearing this appeal Parties interested jointly severally or otherwise in the same order decision determination or ruling may join in an appeal therefrom even though all of the interested parties do not join therein

(j) The precedure applicable to appeals from any final order decision determination or ruling shall be in accordance with the rules of civil procedure promulgated from time to time by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania except as otherwise provided herein No party who proceeded before the division under the terms of this act shall be precluded from questioning the validity of said act in the appeal but no party may rise upon appeal any other question not raised before the division unless allowed by the court upon due cause shown

(k) The court to which the appeal is taken shall hear the appeal without a jury on the record certified by the division In any such appeal the findings of the division shall if supported by substantial evidence and in the absence of fraud be conclusive and any such appeal shall be given precedence over all other matters except matters of the same character If the order of the division is not affirmed the court may set aside or modify it in whole or in part or may remand the proceeding to the division for further disposition in accordance with the order of the court

(l) The division or any party affected by any decision of a court on an appeal from any order of the division may within thirty days of the filing of such decision appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania

(m) No appeal taken from an order of the Oil and Gas Division or from a decision of a court of common pleas shall act as a supersedas of the order or decision appealed from unless the court to which such appeal is taken shall be an interlocutory order make such appeal a supersedeas Such interlocutory order shall be made only after such notice to all parties as the court may direct and after hearing Upon the granting of a supersedeas the court may in its descretion require the filing of a bond to the Commonwealth for the use of all parties aggrieved in such sum and conditioned as the court may by its order direct or may grant the supersedeas upon such other terms and conditions as the court in its discretion may prescribe

(n) Whenever a coal or gas operator is to be given notice by the division of any proceeding to be held under this section the division shall also send simultaneously a copy of such notice to the collective bargaining representative of the employes of the coal operator

Section 503 Enforcement (a) The division or any person having a direct interest in the subject matter of this act may complain in writing setting forth that any person is violating or is about to violate any provisions of this act or has done or is about to do any act matter or thing therein prohibited or declared to be unlawful or has failed omitted neglected or refused or is about to fail omit neglect or refuse to perform any duty enjoined upon him by this act

Upon the filing of a complaint against any person the division shall cause a copy thereof to be served upon such person by registered mail accompanied by a notice from the division calling upon such person to satisfy the complaint or to answer the same in writing within such reasonable time as may be specified by the division in such notice

Section 505 Effective Date This act shall take effect in sixty days

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Coming from the southwestern corner of this Commonwealth where we have a serious problem with this particular matter, we feel we can vote for this bill because at least it is a step in the right direction.

We do it with some regret because of the fact that we still feel the bill is not what it should be. I know that my neighbors, my friends, work in the area affected by this bill. There are many miners in Pennsylvania who are not working above gas storage fields, but in these gas storage fields with which we have much concern, there are 18,000 acres of coal lands laying above that field. We are fearful that there may be many unchartered wells there which were drilled back in the early part of this century. I for one, being Chairman of the Committee, feel I have a great responsibility in making a decision on this particular matter. I had to do it because of the fact that we know something had to be done.

Therefore, I want to state that I am voting for this bill, I do not say reluctantly, but I was hoping we could have had something a little bit better.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1, as follows:

An Act providing for anthracite mine drainage contingent on Federal aid and making an appropriation

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In the event that the Congress of the United States enacts legislation making available Federal moneys on a matching basis for the control and drainage of water from anthracite coal formation the Commonwealth accepts the grant of Federal aid thereunder subject to the terms and conditions of the grant

Section 2 In such event the Department of Mines shall construct ditches flumes backfill stripping pits and cropfalls and improve stream beds for the purpose of preventing the flow of surface water into mines and shall purchase the necessary materials for the same and also shall purchase and install pumps pipes machinery equipment and materials for the purpose of pumping water from abandoned mines provided however that the commonwealth shall not bear any operating and maintenance costs whatsoever and shall not bear the installation costs of any underground facilities

Section 3 The Secretary of Mines shall furnish to the Secretary of the Interior a statement with respect to the project showing work done the status of the project expenditures and amounts obligated at such times and in such detail as the Secretary of the Interior shall require

Section 4 The sum of eight million five hundred thousand dollars ($8,500,000) or as much thereof as is necessary is appropriated to the Department of Mines to match Federal moneys made available for the control and drainage of water from anthracite coal formations in this Commonwealth and to carry out the purposes of this act

Section 5 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call to the attention of the House the fact that back on February 28th we passed a bill which is practically identical with Senate Bill 1 appropriating $8.5 million for the purpose of mine drainage contingent upon the Federal Government making a similar appropriation.

I am asking the House to vote for this bill. I do not know whether or not we should be too proud to pass a Senate bill when they have been sitting on ours since February 28th, but since they have chosen to hold up our bill I am hoping the membership of the House will pass this one, as the important thing is to get the job done.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Readinger.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1553, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State officers and employes and other ordinary and general expenses in the interim between the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act and other appropriation acts become available and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, when we were debating this bill yesterday the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, asked for a statement of the money which had been expended under the original stopgap appropriation bill of $50 million. I am prepared now to give him the amounts that have been paid by the State Treasurer and charged to these various accounts. This includes payments up to and including June 27, 1955.

The State Treasurer estimates that by the end of June he will have paid additional bills of approximately $1 million.

The statement I have given you covers the payments made by the State Treasurer. We are unable until the end of the month to give you the full picture, which would be the expenditures made and chargeable to the various items. I talked to the Budget Bureau and they have requested the comptroller to have this information in early so that it will be available when we return on the 11th of July.

I might state in connection with this, which shows payments made by the State Treasurer, or will be made, of approximately $7 million by the end of June. Of course, that is just the cash that is paid out. I want to call to the attention of the gentleman that the actual commitments are made and charged in connection with appropriations in the amount that is set up against the $50 million. In other words, what I have given you is the payments.

I call your attention to one item we passed today, House Bill 1555, when it becomes law, there will be one item alone of $10 million which will immediately be charged against this $50 million.

I do not have the figures and it is a pure estimation, but there are probably between $12 to $15 million additional commitments and expenditures that have been made and not paid for, which also would be chargeable to that $50 million.

The State Treasurer further states in connection with these payments that they start slow in the beginning but are accelerated as the biennium progresses.

I believe the necessity for this appropriation still remains, but possibly not as much so as it was yesterday when we discussed it, because I understand the Senate amended the borrowing act in connection with the tax anticipation notes so that we will now be borrowing against anticipated revenue rather than against the appropriations.

However, the cash position of the Commonwealth, I think it is well to call to your attention at this time, as of June 27th, cash and investments only, is $29,670,515.30. So I believe I was correct when I said yesterday that there was a real necessity for the passage of these appropriation bills in order that we would have a borrowing base. The cash necessity will remain, and the picture I have given you on the cash expeditures will be accelerated particularly with this $10 million item.

We have another bill in today to pay $6,711,000 which is a deficiency in municipal authorities reimbursements. Those items are due and should be paid. I commented about the $10 million item which is due the schools.

I believe the proper and sensible thing to do is to pass this legislation without any further delay in order that the Commonwealth will have sufficient funds available for budget purposes for the different bureaus and all departments of the Commonwealth.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the gentleman has practically proven the point I raised here yesterday that the cash commitments of the Commonwealth and the expense of running the several departments would be around $14 million a month.

Now, this $10 million that we just passed is a separate appropriation bill. It wouldn't come out of this $50 million appropriation bill. I grant you the $$10 million will come out of the $29 million cash on hand, but it certainly will not come out of this $50 million appropriation bill. That bill does not say that it is for school subsidies, it says merely that it is for expenses of running the state government and does not provide for the cost of any subsidies for schools. So, the $10 million that we just passed is over and above, separate and distinct from the $50 million that is being asked of us now to put on the statute books.

Now then, we have also obtained some figures. While the cash balance of the Commonwealth at the present time is $29.6 million, during the month of July approximately $25 million in taxes will come in, during August approximately $40 million, and during September approximately $30.9 million, as a matter of fact, which will make a total of $25 million in cash that will be available up to and including October 1st.

The gentleman has agreed that the reason you wanted the additional $50 million isn't because you need $50 million between now and October first, becouse I say the $50 million that we have already given you will last that long, but you did want it yesterday for purposes of borrowing on tax anticipation notes since up until yesterday lhe law was that you could only borrow on tax anticipation notes by reason of appropriations made. But it is true that the Senate reported out of Committee, I believe, the bill which changes that practice and which permits brorowing now on revenues, anticipated or contemplated revenues, rather than on a binding appropriation made.

So, if that is the reason that you are asking to have the $50 million passed, you don't need it now because of the prospective opportunity of borrowing on contemplated revenue. That was admitted yesterday, and I believe the speaker reiterated the same thing today.

Therefore, we feel on this side of the House that passing this $50 million is premature. The idea of passing it, as we see it, is to have money to tide you over during the summer and on into the fall, while you are wrangling and haggling over a tax program. That, we feel, is the avowed reason for it. The passage of it is premature. The chances are we will need it eventually but we feel we do not need it right now.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman says about the cash position or the payments per month, is correct, I believe. However, I want again to call his attention to the fact that when you have $50 million of appropriation, a stop-gap appropriation, as soon as the expenses reach $50 million, it doesn't make any difference how much has been paid of that, you cannot exceed the $50 million. In other words, in regard to this $50 million the amounts as charged and the cash position remains as he says, but you still will need additional money when the $50 million is reached, and the $50 million will be reached long before the bills are paid. I do not think he took that into consideration in his calculations there.

I may be wrong, but it is may understanding that everything that is in the general appropriations bill to which the stopgap applies, when you spend the money and charge it to the different appropriations, you can charge it to any of the items that were set up in the previous general appropriations bill. It makes specific reference to that.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I also had time to consult with the budget office today in relation to House Bill 1553 and was advised very similarly to that which has been spoken of by Mr. Polen.

The important thing at the present time is not the amount of the actual disbursements from this $50 million stopgap appropriation that was made sometime ago, but it is the amount of the commitments that are made practically daily by the Commonwealth. As Mr. Polen pointed out, by July 11th we should have from the various departments figures indicating the amounts of money that they have not only disbursed but have committed themselves to pay for various items to carry on the business of the Commonwealth.

It is true that we don't have to pass House Bill 1553 today. We probably wouldn't even have to pass it on July 11th, but the time will come when the $50 million appropriation will not be sufficient to authorize the payment of further moneys to carry on the business of this state. It is true that a bill is coming over from the Senate tomorrow which changes the basis for borrowing on tax anticipation notes, and I understand it has been agreed by the Treasury Department, the Auditor General and the Budget Office that the sum of $60 million will be borrowed early in July. If that were not borrowed, the cash position of the Commonwealth is such that we would not have money to carry on the functions of this fovernment. As you know, we could appropriate $500 million but unless the cash is available in the Treasury it cannot be paid.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, at this time in view of the fact that it is not absolutely essential that House Bill 1553 pass at this time, and in order to give the Members more time to analyze these various figures and budgetary matters, I am going to now move that House Bill 1553, be placed back on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 15.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 28, 1955.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 81, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The Speaker. How did the gentleman from Cameron Mr. Tompkins vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from McKean Mr. Johnson vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend page 2, by inserting between lines 12 and 13 the following section:

Section 2 Section 13 of said act as amended January 14, 1952 (P. L. 2087), is further amended to read:

Section 13. On the day fixed for the appointment of arbitrators, if both parties attend, either in person, or by their agents or attorneys, the arbitrators shall be chosen n the following manner, viz:

VII. In all cases under section 8.1 hereof, a board of arbitrators consisting of three members of the bar [of the court in which such case is pending] within the judicial district shall be appointed by the prothonotary from the list of attorneys qualified to act. The names of attorneys from said list shall be taken in the manner prescribed by the rules of the court in which the case is pending or in the absence of such rules in alphabetical order, except where attorneys are excused on account of incapacity or illness. Not more than one member of a firm or association of attorneys shall be appointed to the same board. The first member named shall be chairman of the board.

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 13, by striking out after the word "Section" and before the word "This" the following: "2"; and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "3"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on May 3rd the appropriations Committee started hearings on the budget of Governor Leader. We examined the budget line by line, item by item and dollar by wollar. These hearings were open to the Press, interested persons, and to any Members of the House or Senate who desired to attend. I think we leaned over backwards in our latitude as to the matters we discussed, so as to have a full disclosure of the matter contained in the budget.

As the Speaker of this House said, when he addressed the House sometime ago, there were not going to be any budget mysteries. I believe we have discussed this budget openly and that there are no mysteries so far as the amounts in there are concerned and the purposes for which they are intended.

However, there does seem to be considerable disagreement, though it did not appear so much at the hearings, as to amounts that might be cut from the budget. I have heard of various amounts. A former member of the General Assembly, not a Member of this House, stated that he could cut this budget $250 to $300 million. The distinguished Minority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, I believe, stated he could cut it $100 million, and as I recall it, I asked him at the opening of the hearing if he could give us any information as to where those cuts might be made. As I recall, his answer was that he would answer on the floor of the House. So, in order to bring this matter to a head and to discuss this budget, we are introducing bills for the exact amounts as shown in the Governor's budget. That will enable us to discuss them openly and again in committee and report them back to this House for final action.

I note in a news item dated Harrisburg, June 25, where the Minority Leader suggested a $200 million cut in the state budget and he lists four ways to trim Governor Leader's figures.

Now, the item that I am interested in at this time is Item No. 2, and at this time, Mr. Speaker, I would ilke to interrogate the Minority Leader, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be Interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he can tell me any specific cuts that could be made in the Department of Public Instructions, budget in connection with mandated items, wherein he stated that he could strike $25 million from the Leader budget appropriation for mandated obligations of past sessions, mostly for schools.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is again, as has been happening, putting words in my mouth. Does he happen to have an article?

Mr. POLEN. I do.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Would the gentleman kindly repeat what the article says?

Mr. POLEN. It is labeled to shrink $25 million from the Leader budget appropriations for mandated obligations of past sessions, mostly for schools, Smith says the mandated appropriations have been inflated by this amount."

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Now, that is a little bit different, Mr .Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, if I have stated it incorrectly.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Perhaps the gentleman could answer me as to why during the last biennium the actual mandated increases for teachers' salaries, the actual cost was $25 million. Is that a right figure, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite understand the question.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Would the gentleman tell us how much the actual mandated increases for teachers' salaries were during the last biennium, according to the budget.

Mr. POLEN. The amount in the budget, just a second . . .

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Rather than take the time of the House, Mr. Speaker, I shall tell the gentleman. It is $25 million.

The Governor is asking in this budget for exactly the same thing teachers' salary increases $54 millions.

I want to remind the gentleman, too, that if he will remember there have been three estimates given on the actual mandates. They are all estimated. That is one place where we claim that it can be cut because you are overestimating your mandates. We are not cutting any mandates in that respect, you are over-estimating your mandates That is number one.

Now I would also like to tell the gentleman, and he has not asked this question, that we can reduce the obligations of your Public Assistance and your County Health Units, particularly your County Health Units.

Mr. POLEN. If the gentleman would not mind, I would like to keep this on Public Instruction, just the items that refer to Public instruction, because that is the information I have before me. Is that agreeable?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. That is perfectly agreeable. I must answer the gentleman by saying that they are over-estimating, according to the figures that have been produced. That is all I can say, $25 million against $54 million.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman give me the amount that he figures is over-estimated in the subsidies for teachers' salaries?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMTIH. With the other mandates it would probably be close to $25 million, including the other mandates.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, what I would like to know is just the mandated amounts that refer to Public Instruction.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Rather than be specific on this, I cannot tell the gentleman the break-down. I do not happen to have that here at this time. But the total reduction would be $25 million.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman secure the information and give it to me as to the amount?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. It would only be estimated, for the gentleman's information, because he knows that the amount they are giving is estimated.

Mr. POLEN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

So far as the estimates on the mandated teachers' salaries are concerned, they are made on the basis, I am told by the Department of Public Instruction, of the information they have as to the number of units, and the number of units have greatly increased.

Since I read Mr. Smith's article in the paper I called Dr. Swan of the Department of Public Instruction and asked him if he had any comment on the matter, and he told me they had re-checked it and they felt, if anything, that their estimates were too low.

Now, as I understand Mr. Smith, he is only referring to the subsidies for the increase of teachers' salaries and not to the other items. We discussed this budget, as I said, in detail. I am prepared to go over it item by item, and I think I will do so at this time.

I would like to again interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in the salaries and expenses there is $1, 640,000 mandated in the present budget at the request of the Department. I would ask the gentleman, is there any amount in there that he thinks we can reduce.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Will the gentleman tell me what page he is talking about?

Mr. POLEN. Well, unfortunately I am doing the same thing as you were, I am talking about something that you do not have, Mr. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I can say yes, Mr. Speaker. If the gentleman insists on talking that way, perhaps we had better be more specific about cutting the budget that the Governor is mentioning on the air. The Governor is kicking $10 million around whenever he wants to. If the gentleman will look in the Governor's budget message or if he will wait a minute, I will show him where he started off at $125 million.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, has a copy of the budget. I think then he can follow me.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I have a copy of the budget and the budget message, but I would like to repeat to the gentleman that the Governor uses whichever figure comes to his mind first, $125 million of mandates or $135 million of mandates, with a swing of $10 million, depending in which locality the Governor is speaking.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take the budget, and the amounts recommended by the Department of Public Instruction, and I would again ask the gentleman under salaries and expenses, $1,640,000 mandated by law, does he think that we can make any cuts there?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I have never said that any of the increases mandated by law should be cut, and the gentleman well knows that.

I believe the salaries are not mandated. It is the increases that are mandated, for the gentleman's information.

Mr. POLEN. The Department has prepared for me the mandated items and non-mandated items, and just as a matter of information I will give you the mandated and the non-mandated items.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that the item the gentleman is talking about is not even mandated.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the Department has prepared for me a statement of the mandated items. They total $489,329,300 and the non-mandated items in the same section of the budget amounts to $1,205,000.

I thank the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Unfortunately the gentleman was not kind enough to give me the information that his department gave him, or we might be able to compare figures.

Mr. POLEN. I think the gentleman is correct and I shall have a copy of this prepared for Mr. Smith, and then we can discuss it item by item.

What I am attempting to do is to sincerely find out if there is any fat, as the gentleman has stated before in this budget, where we can cut it. I think our hearings were thorough and we tried to develop whether or not there were any items that we could reduce. When these statements are made in the Press and we hear them, I think it is only fair that we should be given a breakdown so that the Appropriation Committee, when they act upon House Bill 1559, which carries these items, will be in a position to give consideration to any recommendations from anyone who can definitely tell us where there is a possibility of reducing these expenses.

I am going to have prepared for the gentleman a breakdown such as I have here, and perhaps we can arrive at some place where he can tell us some of these items that are in the budget that may be cut. It is our intention to have a full disclosure on all of these items, not only in the Department of Public Instruction but in all of the other budget items as the bills are introduced.

I thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I shall furnish the information to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the gentleman's supplying me with this information, but I do think in fairness to the Members of the House, all of the Members of the House should have it. I think the Members of the House, if the gentleman intends to bring the budget up the way he says, should have the minutes of all the hearings on the budget so we know what is going on.

I would like to answer the gentleman, if he has finished talking, on the statements we have made, and will try to make it factual, honest and in the type of words we used without putting words in people's mouths.

I must again remind the gentleman from Washington that I have not mentioned fat in the budget. In fact, I have been very considerate of that fact with the Governor.

If the gentleman would like to make some notes, the Governor has estimated that existing taxes and other sources of revenue, with the exception of the one per cent general sales tax, will bring $21 million less. If the gentleman will check the budget, he will find there is $21 million less than they had in the last biennium. That is one of the things that we are claiming the Governor is under-estimating. They are the Governor's figures, not ours.

We say this is a very unrealistic estimate. We say that instead of bringing $21 million less these taxes will bring in at least $30 million more. Everybody knows today that business is at an all-time peak, and that when business goes up tax receipts go up.

I would like to read just a few columns here that have been in the papers very recently. The one starts off by saying, "U. S. Economic Boom Apt to Go Even Higher." This is a quote from E. S. Banks, the Fiancial Editor:

> The dynamic American economy continued to amaze the world last week. Many, who have been asking how long the boom would continue, were now wondering how high the economy would go.
> In today's paper the United Press says, "Nation Closing Best First Half." The Nation's economy this week rounds out its most prosperous half-year in history, toppling records all the way from Steel-spewing furnaces to bustling auto sales rooms.
> The typical consumer teamed up with heavy industry to fashion a business boom that outdazzles the "roaring twenties."
> But the 1955 record, an economist noted, was set "without the spur of war or inflation."
> While the jobless ranks took their sharpest drop in 14 years last month, employment rose to a record mid-May high of 62,703,000, the Census Bureau said.

Those are some of the things we are trying to say to the gentleman, that the Governor is underestimating the revenues of last year. If I am correct in saying it it was the Governor who said we, the Republicans, brought on all of the hardships in Pennsylvania. Now that he is in records are going to be broken, records are going to be wonderful, and yet with all of this the corporate net tax has been reduced. It is for that reason we say the Governor has underestimated by $50 million, and we still think we are right and insist we are right.

We also say he has inflated the amount needed to meet mandated obligations. He told us in his budget message on April 19th that mandated obligations would require an additional $125 million in appropriations. We say that there is no reason under the sun to warrant the expenditure of more for public assistance in the next biennium, and he includes in his mandate more for public assistance in the next biennium that there was in the last. Business has improved, unemployment compensation benefits have been increased and the period of payments extended. Instead of costing more, relief should cost less and probably will, as the gentleman knows.

There is no reason for appropriating $16 million more than was appropriated for this purpose during the last two years, unless you plan to change the law—and if you have, you have not said anything—and increase the mandated obligation.

He stated that $5.4 million was required to meet a mandated obligation for county health units. This again we do not agree with. The 1951 law to which the Governor refers requires the state to reimburse counties with county health units up to a maximum rate of 75 cents per capita. There are now two counties with such units, with a total population of 319,000. Seventy-five cents times that population amounts to $479,000 for two years—I wonder if they have checked that—and not $5.4 million which they are now claiming. Here is $5 million in over-estimates of mandated obligations. If you plan to change the law, then you cannot charge this item to a mandate from the previous Legislature, because you are changing it if you are going to change it.

He told us that a total of $12 million was needed to meet increased debt service, requirements on World War II bonus bonds and for General State Authority rentals.

What the Governor did not tell us—and if the gentleman is so familiar with the budget, perhaps he could tell us where it is—was that the World War I bonus bonds have been paid off and that this Legislature will not be required to appropriate the $5,043,750 which was appropriated by the 1953 Legislature for this purpose. Nor did he tell us that the principal and interest requirements for the public works construction bonds are also going to decrease.

Therefore, the debt service requirements for the coming biennium will increase only $6,892,123 instead of the $12 million given up by the Governor. This is a difference of over $5 million. That is why we say the Governor has inflated the mandated obligations by more than $25 million.

The Governor has accused us of wanting to reduce teachers' salaries. This certainly it not true. We have never said it. We never said we wanted to reduce teachers salaries, and, it is part of the false propaganda that the administration has been using in an effort to save an unconstitutional and unfair tax program.

However, we would like to ask the Governor a question. Why is he asking—and this is what I ask you, Mr. Polen—for $54 million for increased teachers' salaries in his budget and claiming that the existing law requires him to do so, when under the same law, with the same number of teachers and the same amount of increase, the actual cost of the mandated increases to the Commonwealth in the last biennium was only $25 million? I think it would be interesting for the Governor to explain that, rather than have me explain it on the floor, Mr. Polen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I only wanted to discuss the Public Instruction budget today, because that contains the figures I had available. The information that the gentleman requests in connection with the alleged teachers' salary inflation subsidy, I will have broken down, and if there is anything there indicating that there is even $5.00, $5,000 or a million too much, we certainly want to reduce it to the proper amount.

However, he mentions the Department of Health and the mandated items there, and in looking over this budget I notice that the former Secretary of Health, under Governor Fine submitted a budget of $50,559,574. Governor Leader did not accept it, and the new Secretary of Health reduced it, and submitted a budget of $47,329,137.00. So, I do not think this administration inflated the Department of Health's budget any.

He mentions the Department of Public Assistance. In Governor Fine's administration the Secretary of Public Assistance requested $138 million and that is the identical amount the present Secretary of Public Assistance requested from the Leader administration. I just mention these because I happen to have the figures available here. The details that he asked for, we will certainly check into it, and I hope he will cooperate and give us any possible breakdown he can on any of these mandated items.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would like to remind the gentleman that this is a two-fold job. It is primarily the job of the Democratic party who have now the responsibility of saving money for the people of this Commonwealth. It was the Democratic party and the Governor that said they would save $100 million. They have said it. Let them start doing it before they even try to attack us. If they are not capable of doing it, then let them do what the gentleman is suggesting, bring it out and try to put the responsibility on us. They were the ones that primarily said it, we are just going along with their thinking, and we will gladly help them save $100 million.

It is very peculiar that their own Appropriations Committee, that is completely controlled by Democrats at this time, can not cut one nickel from the budget. I and everybody else in this House knows that the Speaker has said time after time, you can always cut money from a budget if you have the will to do it. But there is a big difference in talking, Mr. Speaker, and having the will to do it, and I think it is about time that the Democratic party accepts the responsibility that the people have given them. They were elected on a promise to save $100 million. It was not our promise, it was their promise.

They also said at the time that they would operate the government by getting rid of the sales tax and would not have to put any wage tax or a sales tax back on the people. It is their responsibility. Let them stop trying to shift the blame and get in there and do a little bit of rowing the boat of economy, and don't try to place it all on our backs.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly was not trying to place the blame on anybody's back. I was only trying to ascertain some facts and I am having a hard time getting them, I am afraid.

The statement was just made by the gentleman that the Appropriations Committee had not cut one cent from the budget. Well, as the gentleman well knows, and I think the Members of this House know, the way we operate, we introduce bills, we don't act on budgets. It would be academic to talk about cutting the budget. We are putting these budget figures in bill form, and certainly the Appropriations Committee will give every consideration to any place that they feel they can reduce the amounts that are in the budget. They will now be in the bills, we are putting them in the position where the Appropriations Committee in this House can act upon them.

I do thank the gentleman for his offer of cooperation, and I am certainly going to try to take advantage of it and get the facts from him.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to remind the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Floor Leader, of what I said some time ago, that no matter what was said during a campaign we have to deal with the facts as we find them. We will find whatever economies can be effected and we will effect them. If that is $100 million a biennium it will be that much; if it's $3 million a biennium it will be that much.

The Governor has outlined his program and he does not intend to curtail the needed and vital services of this Commonwealth. I want to assure the gentleman as the days go by we are going to scan this budget just as closely as he apparently has been doing. If he is using any figures that can't be substantiated, we are going to uncover that too, so that the Members of this House will know whether the figures we are using or the figures he is using are right or wrong.

We must depend to a great extent on information we get from the various departments as to what amounts are mandated by law and will be needed for this present biennium. But I assure the gentleman that we are not going to be guided by anything that he says was said in the campaign by his people or by our people. We are going to deal with the facts as we find them. We are going to finance the needs of this Commonwealth and we are going to do it in a businesslike way. We ask their help, we welcome their help, and if he can show us where this budget can be cut sensibly we will be glad to agree with him. When we show them places where it cannot be cut we expect him to go along, and his side to go along with the appropriation bills, and help raise the taxes to pay those bills.

The SPEAKER. The Chair for the seventh round recoznizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can see the wall of Jericho starting to crumble. This is the frank admission, and we know it was going to happen, a complete repudiation of the campaign promises made not by the Democratic Party, but made by the Governor himself. If you wish to repudiate them, that is what the gentleman is doing. We knew it was going to happen.

We have said, and I have said time after time, that the Governor was elected on a promise. We have to think of this, it was the Governor's promise besides being a promise of the Democratic platform. When our candidate said that there would be new money needed, Governor Leader denied it, he said that he did not need one cent of money, that we were spendthrifts, that we were the worst kind of people. Now, we are hearing his own campaign promises, his personnel campaign promises, being repudiated by the Democratic party.

As I have said before, it is about time the Governor starts admitting he made a mistake, and perhaps if he comes in, perhaps if he comes in and makes a few savings—and when I have been talking about savings I have given him half a break because he has said $100 million—We only asked him for $50 millions of savings—perhaps when he admits to the people of Pennsylvania that he himself has to repudiate his campaign promises, then perhaps there will be some help on an honest program for the people of Pennsylvania. But before that happens I am afraid the Governor's attitude will have to change.

I am glad to see that the Majority Leader's attitude has changed, saying that the Democrats are repudiating their promises and that they are going to run the State. A promise in political life to me as an individual, and I say this with the utmost sincerity, and I think it is true of the Majority Leader, and I know it is true with the Speaker, and I know it is true of many, many, many men and women in this House on both sides, the only thing you deal with in politics is your word and your promises. I do not have much faith, and neither do you Members, if you are honest with yourselves, have any respect for a man that breaks his promises.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if I were not a lawyer myself I would certainly accuse the gentleman from Philadelphia of giving me a lawyer's answer in reply. He chooses and sees fit to twist something I have said into something which was not said nor meant.

I have not repudiated anything that the Governor hight have promised during his campaign. I have simply stated that whatever was said—and I don't agree with what he is accusing the Governor of having said during the campaign, but whatever was said—we still must deal with the facts.

I have heard various statements made by the Minority Leader in the past about the Governor when he was a candidate promising to save the state of Pennsylvania $100 million. I have never seen a direct quotation, and I don't believe one can be found. There was a great deal of talk during the campaign about the Chesterman Report back in 1951, or 1953, whichever it was, and how the report had concluded that if certain changes were made in the state government certain constitutional changes also, there was a possibility that as much as $100 million per biennium could be saved. There was much talk during the campaign about what the financial condition of the Commonwealth was, whether the accounting system was such as to allow us to really appraise whether the state was in the red or in the black.

Campaigns have a way of getting out of hand sometimes, and things are said by candidates here and there which later become attributed to some other people. I say I do not know of any specific instance in which the Governor stated flatly and unequivocally that $100 million could be saved per biennium.

I repeat once more for the sake of the gentleman, I am not repudiating anything that was said by the candidates during the campaign. I think they were stating their case as they saw it, and of course the gentleman is now looking back seven or eight months from the time that campaign took place and he can be much wiser than anybody was at that time. The economic condition of the Commonwealth was in a certain status at that time, and it is in a different status today. So when we look back on campaign speeches I do not think we had better be too critical, because I can remember a few that were made by his party that to me seemed to be a complete suppression of facts.

We will go on with our political speeches here week after week, I suppose, the newspapers will print such part of it as thy think is pertinent and of interest to the public, but when the chips are all down we are going to finance the needs of this Commonwealth and we are going to do it honestly and fairly. We think our tax program as proposed is a fair program to raise the amount of money we think is going to be needed and we are going to show it is needed to finance the Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask one question. Why did the people of Pennsylvania vote for Mr. Leader if he did not make all those promises?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think the people of Pennsylvania were sick and tired of the sixteen years of Republican administration, and that is why they voted for Mr. Leader. (Demonstration by Members).

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, irrespective of whether or not they might have been sick of the Republican party, I still charge George M. Leader holds the governorship of the state of Pennsylvania by reason of "deceivership," by reason of the deceiving of the public on his promises.

The SPEAKER. Gentlemen, that demonstration has no place in a parliamentary body. Every Member within the bounds of the Rules of this House is entitled, when he has the floor, to be the judge of his own expressions.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LOPRESTI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on last Tuesday, June 21st, these words can be found in the Legislative Journal of that day and are attributed to the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader.

> "If the gentleman will recall, I think during the last session the gentleman on the other side of the House asked for something like $800 million more in the budget."

The Minority Leader suggests that the Governor is throwing figures around kind of wild and loose. I can conceive of no person throwing them any wilder than the Minority Leader.

For the information of the Minority Leader, in the last session the gentleman from Cambria introduced two appropriation bills; one, House Bill 429, asking for an appropriation of $1,000 to the Cresson Volunteer Fire Company; the second, House Bill 855, asking for an appropriation of $10 million for an economic development program. It is too bad that was not adopted at that time because even now the Minority Leader, according to the Bulletin of June 25th, suggests that in his present budget the Governor should include $10 million for an economic development program. Now that is the suggestion of the Minority Leader himself. Actually, they are two years behind in accepting a good suggestion at that time.

I think, Mr. Speaker, this kind of confused thinking comes from night-riding. You know it is pretty easy to ride around in circles when you are in the dark, and I want to point out a little bit of the confused thinking on the part of the Minority Leader.

"There is no mystery about saving money," the Philadelphia fuel dealer is supposed to have said. And then, No. one, and this is confused thinking, believe me, Mr. Speaker, "Increase the estimates on existing taxes by $50 million." I don't for the life of me understand how you can trim a budget and save money by increasing the estimates of your revenues, or estimates of your receipts. I think that is confused thinking.

Then the gentleman goes on and he refers to the $25 million which has been talked about here, about saving $25 million on mandated obligations. That is an attempt on his part to answer questions which I believe I propounded and perhaps other Members have propounded to him, to be more specific in his demand for budget cuts. I have tried to think of an illustration to put across my point and I got one this morning. It reminds me of two men, two morons, we might say, looking at a bunch of bananas. The first moron says, "Hey, Nick, how many bananas on the bunch" "Oh, Joe, I don't know how many bananas on the bunch." "Well, being it's you, I'm gonna make it simple for you. How many are in a half a bunch?" And that is about what Mr. Smith would like to have us do here today. "You can save $200 million on the budget," you say, "Where?" we say. You say "Well, we don't know, but save $25 million of it here." Just half a bunch.

I still insist if the Minority Leader wants to cut the budget, and particularly if he wants to reduce mandated amounts, these mandated items were not proposals of the Democratic party, they were proposals of the Republican party, sponsored and passed while they were in power. If they made mistakes in mandated items in the past, I think it is their duty to come today and say to us, "Those increases which we mandated were improper and we ask the Democrats to change them." I think they must take the responsibility for it.

Further, it has been suggested here that the Governor and this administration take the estimates of the Minority Leader and his party for our future budget. After having seen what happened to the last budget and after having seen what happened to their estimates in the last two years, I believe we would probably be on safer ground in accepting those of our administratoin.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, I am waiting for the House to laugh at the joke. I don't know when it ended, or if it did, I don't see anybody else that did either, but it's perfectly all right.

In the second place, the gentleman does not read correctly or listen correctly, as I have said before. I didn't accuse him, he knows I didn't accuse him of the $800 million. He knows I said there were bills put in by the Democrats and he knows we meant by that—not him.

In the third place, the gentleman should never apply for a job as a bookkeeper, because estimates of revenue are a lot different than what the gentleman is talking about. We said that you are underestimating revenues, and that is certainly somthing to be considered. I do not think the gentleman would make a very good bookkeeper, particularly, I know I wouldn't want to hire him in the fuel business. Maby he can get a job somewhere else in another type of business, but certainly not in our business.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the gentleman that I do have a business, and that up until now I have never over-estimated my revenue to the extent of $35 million.

I want to also assure the gentleman that I know how to read. The remarks in the Journal, if the gentleman will look at it, refer to the gentleman, (m-a-n) on the other side, in the singular and not in the plural. I believe I know how to read the English language and I believe I know the intent that the gentleman had when he threw the barb last Tuesday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BAZIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to clear up a little situation in the newspapers. At last, I want to justify my position of being non-committal at the present time on the tax program. It seems that the Inquirer this morning took a few words out of Saturday's Bulletin and turned them around.

No. one, I said I was waiting to hear from the majority of the people in my district, which is made up of approximately of 51,000 voters. I said I talked to a few and the expressions of the few, I would say the majority, were opposed to the tax.

Now, to further explain the present position I am taking, it seems that most of the people in my district read the newspapers and read them pretty thoroughly. In 1951 a member of the Democratic Party from my district voted contrary to the wishes of the people in our district. I opposed him and the whole Democratic organization in the district and was successful in defeating him. Because of that the so-called Democratic leader in the 34th Ward decided to read me out. I accepted his challenge to a fight, and we give him a pretty good one.

In 1953 under reapportionment our district lost one legislator. Again there was a very important issue here in Harrisburg that we divided between the two of us, we took opposite sides. He took the side of the City Chairman of Philadelphia, and when I came up for reelection I had to fight him and the City Chairman, and because of the reading that goes on in our disctrict I was successful in defeating the candidate with the City Chairman's backing. I was then given very little recognition from the City Committee.

We have a very important tax bill on, it has not come up yet, and I intend to vote according to the wishes of those people back in my district. If they instruct me to vote against the tax, I tell you now, Mr. Speaker, I am prepared to take you up on all those threats, and if I vote for the tax, it won't be because of any bribe of jobs or any other offers, it will be because the people of the 34th Ward asked me to vote for the tax.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. PARRY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, first, I would like to thank the House for passing House Bill 795. I understand that a junior legislator, and I am referring to years of service and not age, should be seen and not heard. I have adhered to that policy up until this time. However, I feel I must deviate from that role today.

I represent one of the so-called nicer residential areas in Luzerne County. I am referring specifically to Forty Fort. In the past several weeks we in Forty Fort have suffered thousands of dollars of property damage as a result of mine subsidence. There are two bills in the Committee on Mines and Mining which have been there since March 29th, namely, House Bills 796 and 797, which in my opinion, would help to eliminate this situation.

I am asking the majority to please bring these bills out of Committee. These bills have been sponsored by the majority party. In my opinion, oddly enough, they are good bills and I feel that the Members of this House should be given an opportunity to vote on these measures.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:
